ORDERS REPORT ON CANAL FLOW.

Secretary Root Instructs Maj. Willard to Investigate Need of Government Control.

HEARS LAKE CARRIERS.

Will Not Take Definite Action Until All Conditions Have Been Carefully Gone Over.

SOME FACTS PRESENTED

Washington, D. C., May 16.—[Special.]—An appeal was made to the Secretary of War today by representatives of the Lake Carriers' association to issue immediately a temporary restraining order that will operate to require the Board of Trustees of the Sanitary District of Chicago to control and restrict the flow of waters of Lake Michigan through the Chicago River and the drainage canal, under the direction of the United States engineer officer at Chicago, so as to prevent the operation of the canal from becoming obstructive to navigation or injurious to property.

In all probability the Secretary of War will issue an order giving Major Willard at Chicago control over this matter with discretionary powers in regard to closing the flood gates and regulating the flow of water through the river. He will be expected to confer with the vessel interests represented in the Lake Carriers' association.

No action will be taken for at least ten days, as the petition filed with the Secretary of War today will be transmitted to Major Willard, who will be required to give his views on the matter, and upon this the Secretary of War will base his action. Ex-Judge Springer, representing the Sanitary District, requested the Secretary of War to proceed with deliberation, and was given until the end of the week to reply to the petition of the Lake Carriers' association.

Present Case to Secretary Root.

Secretary Root was waited upon by C. Farrington, C. H. Keep, Harvey D. Goulder, W. J. Firth, Captain John G. Keith, and Captain M. M. Drake of the Lake Carriers' association; L. J. McGann, representing Mayor Harrison; ex-Judge William M. Springer of the Sanitary District, and Lyman E. Cooley of the Illinois River Valley association.

Mr. Firth, chairman of the special committee, Harvey D. Goulder, and Captain Keith spoke for the Lake Carriers' association. They elaborated to a considerable length upon the petition presented by them and said the opening of the drainage canal had introduced a dangerous current in and seriously lowered the levels of the Chicago River, with damage to navigation and other important interests; and the operation of the canal threatened a reduction of the general levels of the lake, with probably great loss and injury. They asked for a temporary restraining order, to remain in effect until the Sanitary District or the municipal authorities of Chicago make it possible to operate the canal without damage or danger to vessels navigating the Chicago River or to property interests on that stream by the removal of the bridge piers, lowering the tunnels, straightening and widening the river, and by establishing controlling works at the Robey street entrance.

They contended that such an order should not operate to relieve in any way the Sanitary District of responsibility for damage to property and navigation interests by reason of the introduction of a swift current in the Chicago River.

Say Alger Order Was Conditional.

They also referred to the order issued by Secretary Alger permitting the water to be turned into the canal. They laid stress upon the fact that the order was issued on the condition that if it became apparent the current created should be unreasonably obstructive to navigation or injurious to property the Secretary of War reserved the right to cut off the flow of water or modify it to the extent demanded by navigation and other interests along the river.

Mayor of Chicago Consulted.

The Secretary of War was told that, in order to avoid hasty action or unnecessary conflict, the committee had conferred with the Mayor of Chicago and the Trustees of the sanitary canal, all of whom were fully alive to the importance of the questions brought before them, and were evidently desirous of doing whatever is possible to protect property and navigation interests from loss or damage, but, naturally, not desiring to have the artificial channel closed entirely, pending the completion of the works at Robey street.

They closed their argument by asking for an immediate order regulating the flow of the current.

Ex-Judge Springer, speaking for the Sanitary District, while he did not oppose interference of the Secretary of War, did make a plea for delay, deploring hasty action, and asking for an investigation. Mr. McGann, representing the City of Chicago, did not object to temporary action, and said the city was not inimical to the shipping interests.

When the representatives of the different interests had presented their case Secretary Root said there were certain points upon which all present agreed. None of those interested, he said, objected to the statement that the current was so swift that it did interfere with navigation. Therefore, he would give Mr. Springer several days in which to make a reply to any of the points made by the delegations, and in the meantime he would refer the petition of the lake carriers to Major Willard in order to get the opinion of that officer on the matter.

At a meeting of the Drainage board yesterday a telegram from Counsel Springer from Washington, announcing that he had controverted the statement that there was an unreasonable current in the river, was the cause of considerable debate. Trustee Jones was of the opinion the board should not take that position, and threatened to take a hand in the matter as an individual if it did. Others believed if it was conceded it would give Secretary Root the right to close the canal, and this stand finally prevailed. The trustees desire all matters placed in Major Willard's hands.

The northeast wind caused boats trouble in the river. The steel steamer W. H. Gastwick broke away from its tug and swung across the river at Lake street, blocking traffic in the South Branch.

The steamer Lloyd S. Porter tried to go through the South Branch without a tug, but was unable to pass the Harrison street bridge.

BLOW AT BOOK COMBINE.

SCHOOL BOARD COMMITTEE FAVORS OPEN LISTS.

Members Who Investigate the Advisability of the Body Publishing Its Own Texts Recommends a System That Will Reduce Prices and Give Better Works—Change Will Result in Competition—Elective Course for the High School Is Adopted.

An attempt to lessen the influence of book publishing firms on the Board of Education was begun last night in the report of the special Text Book committee appointed to consider the advisability of the board publishing its own texts. The committee reported unfavorably on publishing texts, but it recommended that the element of competition be permitted in the purchase of books. It advocated that "open lists" of text books be adopted and that principals be permitted the choice of books they considered best. The departure would be from the practice that adopted one text and permitted the purchase of no other.

There was a recommendation which aimed to take away the profits of the book handler and give it to the citizens. The difference between the cost of production of text books and the price charged to pupils was placed from 16 to 80 per cent. It was urged as the best way for the board to give the public the benefit of at least a part of this margin that the board undertake the purchase of texts and supply them at purchase price with the cost of distribution added.

Items of Recommendations.

The items of the recommendations were:

"That the number of texts used in the schools be reduced, suggesting three texts on mathematics in place of five; one geography in place of two, one book on physiology in place of three, two song books in the elementary schools and one in the high schools; that it should be optional with the principal whether writing books should be used.

"That it would not be practicable for the board to undertake the compilation and publication of its own texts.

"That the board should publish supplementary pamphlets and leaflets in music, oral teachings of physiology, science laboratory manuals for the night schools, and such other leaflets as the principals may desire to compile under rules to be formulated by the superintendents.

"That the publication of such leaflets be by contract or under the direction of the board in a properly equipped plant owned by the board, or in part in schools now supplied with printing presses.

"That open lists be adopted instead of a prescribed text.

"That the board undertake the distribution of books."

Texts Condemned by Teachers.

The following texts now in use in the schools were reported as condemned by the majority of the teachers:

Appleton's Readers.
Green's Shorter History of the English People.
Rand-McNally Elementary Geography.
Maxwell's Grammar.

The first was condemned as antiquated, and the history, the grammar, and the geography as beyond the capacity of the pupils in the grades in which they are used and revision was suggested.

Looks for Some Opposition.

"Opposition is expected from some book companies," said Trustee Christian Meier, chairman of the Book committee. "Some, however, will be with us. The gist of the whole report is the recommendation for open lists, which will permit competition, reduce the price of texts, and give better quality of books. It is notorious that something has kept some texts in the schools for twenty years. If we have the public with us we may be able to have the changes adopted."

The reduction in the number of texts is expected to be made possible by the publication of pamphlet texts, either by the board or by contract as outlined. The report was referred for publication.

Elective Course in High School.

Elective courses for the high schools as proposed by Superintendent Nightingale were adopted. Two amendments to the report as submitted were made necessary by protests from board members against their adoption. A provision which would give pupils credits towards graduation for valuable research work done outside of school was amended to read "work in connection with the high school courses, barring manual labor and domestic work." Qualification in English for the Normal School was made to insist upon technical grammar as a requirement in addition to literature. Trustee Sexton, in insisting upon the addition of the qualification in technical grammar, said:

"Business-men in Chicago are refusing to take the graduates of our high schools into their stores and offices. They complain that the graduates are unable to command enough good English to write a business letter. The only way they can learn is in strict technical training in grammar."

Nightingale Talks of Action.

The amendment was voted after protests by Dr. Stolz and a statement by Superintendent Nightingale that the original form carried the same idea. Dr. Nightingale declared the adoption of the elective course to be the greatest step in advance ever taken by the high schools. For him it was the end of a long insistence upon the new methods. The only prescribed studies in the high schools will be two years of English, one year of mathematics, one year of history, one year of science, and two years of a foreign language or two additional years in English. Election will be by the pupil, in consultation with the parents and principal.

A resolution was introduced by Trustee Sherwood that teachers absent from their schools on account of illness should be paid their salaries, less the amount of the substitutes' pay.

TO ACCUSE BIBLICAL STUDENTS.

Candidates Say Twenty-five from the Garrett Institute Voted Illegally.

Twenty-five students of the Garrett Biblical Institute will be accused of illegal voting at the last Evanston municipal election by James Carroll and John C. Schuett, whose election is being contested by the Four-Mile Limit league on the basis of illegal voting and the use of beer.

The officers of the league say they have enough evidence to make another election necessary, and to offset this Carroll has brought out the charges against the biblical students. He asserts they registered from their eating-houses on Ayars court and not from their places of residence in Heck Hall, which is in the First Ward. He also says their vote went to swell the total of Charles E. Arnold and Thomas Catlow, two of the defeated candidates who are contesting the election.

President Newell C. Knight and other officers of the league profess to be ignorant of the evidence Carroll has obtained against the students.

Butte, Mont., May 16.—[Special.]—The plot of the play, "Why Smith Left Home," which gave Lieutenant Governor Spriggs an opportunity to receive Senator Clark's resignation and quickly reappoint him, is both interesting and amusing. Credit for the trick is given to Tom Hinds, one of Clark's political engineers, and to the Senator's son, Charles W. Clark. Hinds was also the friend of Miles Finlen, one of the strongest anti-Clark men, and together they had an interest in some mining property in Grass Valley.

Finlen, before his departure for Europe, instructed Hinds to negotiate a deal for the sale of the property to a California company. Hinds called on Governor Smith and stated that it was Finlen's desire that he attend to the legal end of the mining deal, further adding that there was a good, fat fee in it for him. In fact, Hinds proposed to pay all of the Governor's expenses to California, and he would accompany him personally and guarantee him a good time.

Early last week Lieutenant Governor Spriggs announced that he was going to attend the Populist convention at Sioux Falls, and would be absent from the State for at least ten days. Hinds urged Governor Smith to attend to a mining deal in California at once, as probable purchasers were becoming impatient. The Governor called Edwin Morris, President of last State Senate, to the Governor's chair during the absence of Spriggs. Morris is an anti-Clark man, and Governor Smith left Butte early last week, accompanied by Hinds, his destination being Grass Valley, Cal.

Spriggs had in the meantime left for Sioux Falls, but a telegram apprised him of Governor Smith's absence, and after attending the first day's session of the Populist convention he hurriedly returned to Montana, and ousted Norris from the Gubernatorial chair.

Washington, D. C., May 16.—While there is much discussion among Senators of the status of Senator Clark of Montana there has not been sufficient crystallization of sentiment to justify a conclusion as to what the final result may be. The present purpose is to move the reference of the Senator's credentials when they are presented to the Senate to the Elections committee. The indications at present are this reference will be opposed by some of Mr. Clark's friends. It is admitted that the purpose of moving the reference of the credentials will be found in the desire to investigate the question involved in the appointment.

SAYS FORTUNE IS LEFT TO HER.

Florence Frost, Chambermaid at Saratoga Hotel, Tells of Being Heir to $200,000.

Guests and employés at the Saratoga Hotel are discussing the claims of Mrs. Florence Frost, a chambermaid, who says Gilbert C. Ogden, the Chicago representative of a New York firm, has notified her that she is heir to a fortune estimated at $200,000. Its size is placed at various figures by others, ranging from the higher figure down to $2,000.

Mrs. Frost says Mr. Ogden and all the chambermaids were assembled in a room to which she was called.

"'Mrs. Frost, you are heir to $200,000,' is what he said to me," said Mrs. Frost. "I said, 'Are you sure you are looking for Florence Frost?' He looked at the papers and said: 'Yes, Florence Frost. Was your name McCauley before you were married?' I said it was, and he said, 'You are the one.'

"I thought at first that it was a joke," continued Mrs. Frost, "but when he knew my maiden name I believed it was true.

"The lawyer told me my grandmother, 94 years old, had died in New York. The money and property were left by my grandfather, he said, my grandmother having only a life interest. He said the fortune was in real estate, stocks and bonds, and cash. Then the lawyer left.

"I don't know what to do with so much money, but I know I'm through with dusters and aprons."

Mrs. Frost made no change in her decision to do no more work, and left the hotel after saying good-by to the other employés.

She is 35 years old and came from New York. She was divorced from John Frost five years ago. An effort was made last night to find Mr. Ogden, but he could not be located.

JOHN GRAY DIES FROM POISON.

Brother of Assessor Swallows Horse Liniment for Cough Medicine in Dark Room.

John Gray, 33 years old, died last night at the residence of his brother, Assessor James J. Gray, 310 Mohawk street, from the effects of a dose of poison taken accidentally. Mr. Gray, who was suffering from a bad cold, went to his room to take a dose of medicine for his cold. The room was dark, and he carelessly picked up a bottle which he thought was his medicine. He took a dose and immediately became violently ill.

His sister found he had taken a dose of horse liniment and immediately called Dr. W. Thies, 323 Center street. The doctor worked over the patient for an hour, but was unable to revive him.

Mr. Gray was to have been married in about a month.

THEIR WILLS FILED TOGETHER.

Husband's and Wife's Last Documents Admitted to Probate at Same Time.

The wills of a husband and wife were filed in the Probate Court yesterday and both admitted to probate together. It was the first occurrence of the kind within the memory of any attaché of the court.

On Jan. 2, 1890, Joseph Hlousek of 207 Johnson street, made his will, leaving all his property, real estate valued at $2,000, to his wife, Josephine Hlousek. He named his son, Anton, as executor. Jan. 11 following he died. April 4, 1890, Mrs. Hlousek made her will leaving all her property to her three children and naming her son Anton as her executor. The property she left was what her husband had willed her.

The first will had not been offered for probate when Mrs. Hlousek died March 16 last.

COURT ENJOINS A MARRIAGE.

Milwaukee Man Prevented from Marrying on Ground That He Is Mentally Incompetent.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 16.—[Special.]—Henry Momsen Jr., aged 42, and Mrs. Minna Olsen were to have been married tonight, but the marriage was stopped by an injunctional order issued by Court Commissioner Harper. The injunction was secured by the parents on the ground that he is mentally incompetent. This is the first injunctional order of the kind ever issued here. The case will come up for a hearing on June 5.

BARS DIVORCEE AT ALTAR

NEW YORK MINISTER'S SCRUPLES DELAY A CEREMONY.

Guests Assembled at Church of Heavenly Rest for the Marriage of Sculptress Clio Hinton Huneker and William Bracken, When the Rev. D. Parker Morgan Declines to Perform the Rites — Party Drives to Delmonico's, Where Ceremony Goes On.

New York, May 16.—[Special.]—Because of the Rev. D. Parker Morgan's refusal to officiate at the marriage of a divorced woman, the wedding of Mrs. Clio Hinton Huneker, the sculptress, to William Bracken, did not take place in the Church of the Heavenly Rest at noon today, as arranged. Later the ceremony was performed by another minister at Delmonico's.

The wedding guests were in the church waiting for the bridal party at noon. Mrs. Huneker and Mr. Bracken arrived at the church shortly before the noon hour and entered the ante-room of the sanctuary. The wedding, though a big society event, on account of Mrs. Huneker's fame and Mr. Bracken's wealth, was to have been quiet, and only perhaps two score guests were in attendance.

As the pair sat waiting for the strains of the "Lohengrin" wedding march, to which they were to march to the altar, Mr. Bracken was discomfited by a summons to attend Dr. Morgan in his study.

Minister Wants to Know.

He hurried there, to be confronted by the divine with the query:

"Is Mrs. Huneker, the woman you are about to marry, a divorcée?"

"Really, doctor," replied Mr. Bracken in confusion, "I can't answer that. She's a widow, I know. But what difference does that make?"

"All in the world," replied Dr. Morgan. "I will never officiate at the marriage of a divorced person or allow it to be solemnized in my church. Please call Mrs. Huneker to me."

In response to the summons Mrs. Huneker went to the study and the clergyman asked her the same questions. The woman broke into tears as she answered:

"Yes, I am divorced."

But, like Mr. Bracken, she inquired: "What difference does it make?"

Dr. Morgan explained again, and offering his regrets that he had not learned of the difficulty sooner so as to avoid the unpleasant predicament, bowed the pair out.

A. R. Blunt, the groomsman, went to the guests and told them that the ceremony was postponed for a short time, giving no excuse, and adding that it would be performed at Delmonico's, where the wedding breakfast was to be given.

Wedding at Delmonico's.

The entire party entered their carriages and went to Delmonico's at Fifth avenue and Forty-fourth street to the rooms already engaged. Messengers were sent scurrying around town to find some clergyman with more lax views than Dr. Morgan, but not until just before 2 o'clock were they successful. The Rev. Dr. Evans, pastor of Russell Sage's church on the upper West Side, was asked to officiate.

Mr. Bracken and Mr. Blunt nervously paced the sidewalk in front of Delmonico's until the carriage bearing Dr. Evans appeared. The clergyman was hurried upstairs and in a few minutes all was ready for the ceremony.

The guests, who up to this time were at a loss to account for the confusion, learned of the trouble just before the ceremony was performed.

Dr. Morgan later said that up to this morning Mr. Bracken had stoutly insisted Mrs. Huneker was not a divorcée.

Mrs. Huneker's Fame.

Mrs. Huneker has made a great reputation and a fortune for herself by her modeling of miniature bronzes. She has also produced a number of important works on a larger scale. Her portrait busts of Paderewski, Mrs. Cora Urquhart Potter, and Mme. Emma Eames are noted.

At 16 she produced a figure which was exhibited in the Academy of Design, and won her the interest of St. Gaudens.

Mr. Bracken is a lawyer, and lives at 534 Fifth avenue. He is President of the Consolidated Electric Storage company.

SON WITNESS AGAINST FATHER.

Michael J. Synon Testifies Against His Parent, Charged with Uxoricide.

Ten-year-old Michael J. Synon Jr. yesterday afternoon testified against his father, Michael J. Synon Sr., who is on trial before Judge Baker, accused of the murder of his wife, Mrs. Avrill Synon. The little fellow wept bitterly. He said he loved his mother dearly, and when he was shown a picture of her, taken after she was dead, his eyes grew large from terror.

"You are not on friendly terms with your father, are you?" asked counsel for the defense.

"I would be if he had not done it," replied the boy.

In reply to questions the boy said that on the morning of the murder his father asked Mrs. Synon for five cents, which she gave him. Then they boy went to school. The witness described a pocket in which his mother kept her money. It was not attached to the dress, but was tied about her waist. There were several bills of large denominations in the pocket.

The witness said he returned home at 3 o'clock. The door was locked. He walked down the alley toward Congress street, where he met his father and inquired for his mother. The father said he supposed she was in the house, and they went there. The witness said his father told him to get some wood and he would look for his wife. Then the body was found.

The torn pocket in which Mrs. Synon carried her money was identified by the witness.

It is the theory of the prosecution that Synon demanded more money from his wife shortly after his son went to school in the morning. She refused to give it to him, and he killed her.

DEATH OF COL. G. H. HARLOW.

Secretary of State for Illinois from 1873 to 1881—Funeral to Be Postponed for Weeks.

Colonel George H. Harlow, ex-Secretary of the State of Illinois, died suddenly at his residence, Sheridan road and Linden avenue, Highland Park, yesterday morning, of paralysis. He was 69 years old, and had been a resident of Highland Park for twenty years. He left a widow and three grown children, who are now in Europe. His remains will be kept in a vault until they return. During the last year he had been confined to his room, though, until the last few days, his condition was not thought to be serious.

Colonel Harlow was Secretary of State from 1873 to 1881, through the administrations of John J. Bevaridge and Andrew Shuman.

SUICIDE OF MRS. POSSON.

Sister of Congressman Hopkins Shoots Herself While Suffering from Mental Depression.

Elgin, Ill., May 16.—[Special.]—Mrs. Phœbe A. Posson, sister of Congressman Albert J. Hopkins, shot herself today at her home in Maple Park. She was alone at the time and the discovery was made by her little daughter, Effie, upon her return from school at noon. The child found her mother dead upon the floor with a bullet hole in her head and a revolver by her side. She ran to a field, where her brother was at work, and summoned him to the house.

Physicians say Mrs. Posson had been dead an hour when found. She was the widow of Martin L. Posson, who died three years ago. She had been in ill health for some time and of late had been despondent. She had been brooding over the death of her husband, and to this fact and her ill health is attributed her act.

The last person known to have seen Mrs. Posson alive was Mrs. W. Austin, a near neighbor, whose house she visited at 10 o'clock, when she complained of suffering from a nervous chill. Mrs. Austin inquired if the children about the neighborhood annoyed her, and on receiving a negative reply a few commonplace remarks were made by both and Mrs. Posson returned to her home. An hour later Mr. Austin heard two shots, but thought they were fired by hunters.

Mrs. Posson was of a retiring disposition and had grown more reticent constantly since her husband's death. Last year Congressman Hopkins purchased a fine farm for her near the village and fitted up a handsome house for her. In spite of these surroundings she daily became more nervous and apparently worried. Since the anniversary of the death of her husband, May 7, her mind dwelt almost constantly on his memory.

Near to the body was found a revolver that had been in the house several years. Two empty cartridges were in it. Only one shot had been effective.

DENIED MONEY, SEEKS TO DIE.

William H. Jeremiah, Who Says He Is an Old Soldier, Attempts Suicide in Bureau of Charities Office.

After wearily tramping Chicago's streets in the heat yesterday in vain efforts to secure relief from some charity organization, William H. Jeremiah, who says he is a veteran of the army and the navy, made his way to the headquarters of the Bureau of Associated Charities on the sixth floor of the Unity Building and there attempted to cut his throat.

Jeremiah told of hunger and privation, and asked for money to pay his railroad fare to Springfield. He was referred elsewhere, as the work of the bureau does not lie in that direction.

"I won't go. I have been referred back and forth until I am tired and ready to drop," he said. "It's a pity if a crippled old soldier and sailor can't be kept from starving in this big, rich, cruel city. I'll die before I go to the poorhouse."

With that Jeremiah drew a sharp, iron-handled clasp knife marked "A Dewey Opener," and made an effort to cut his throat.

SUIT TO STOP A "BARKER."

State Street Firm Objects to Neighbor's Method of Getting Trade and Seeks an Injunction.

County Building employés, who are used to many varieties of petitions for injunctions, encountered a new kind yesterday. It was filed in the Circuit Court and sought a restraining order of the court of chancery to prevent a State street "barker" from attracting the attention of passers-by.

In extended legal phrases the petition recites that the "barker" not only entreats in his most persuasive style the custom of pedestrians for his employer but also comments unfavorably on the quality of the goods sold by the complainant, and on occasion refers to his employer's store as the main entrance to the complainant's place of business.

The McEnery Furniture company, 1835 State street, is the complainant, and the action is directed against Elise, Max, and Sam Goldenberg, next door.

The South Chicago police are waging war against the vegetable and fruit venders in their district who ring bells while selling their products. The police have received complaints from many steel mill night employés, who sleep during the daytime.

MORE ARRESTS IN CUBAN FRAUD.

Postmaster Thompson, Deputy Auditor Reeves, and Two Clerks Placed in Havana Jail.

OWNS TO HIS MISDOINGS

Confession by Thompson, in Which He Admits That He Applied Money to Personal Needs.

MATTER UP IN THE SENATE.

HAVANA, May 16.—Warrants were issued this evening for the arrest of E. P. Thompson, postmaster of Havana; W. H. Reeves, Deputy Auditor of the island; and Edward Moya and Jorge Mascaro, Cuban clerks in the stamp department, and by 7 o'clock all were lodged in the Vivac, the Tombs of Havana.

The arrests were under the advice of the postal inspectors who arrived today. It is considered now that Reeves is equally guilty with Neeley.

The arrest of Thompson caused great surprise in the city, although he confessed today to certain irregularities. It is looked upon as the precursor of many other arrests.

General Wood felt, as did the special inspectors, that it would be better to have the suspected persons arrested and to give them opportunity to obtain bail than to keep them indefinitely under close surveillance at a time when the detectives are needed for other work.

Investigation as to the record of the clerk in the military department who handled several hundred dollars' worth of stamps proves that the transaction, so far as he is concerned, was legitimate. The stamps were purchased at the request of his brother, who is a stamp collector in the United States, for $800. They were of the old issue and were obtained from Neeley.

Confession of Thompson.

The confession of Postmaster Thompson says that on Sept. 16 last, being in need of money, he took from the money order funds $435, giving his memorandum as a receipt for the same.

When the inspections were held Mr. Thompson ordered a clerk in charge of the money order department to place remittances received that day, which would not have to be accounted for until the following day, sufficient to cover the amount of the receipt, which was therewith withdrawn until after the inspection. This was kept up until April 7, when the special agents unexpectedly discovered the receipt, which Mr. Thompson then paid.

He also admits that Charles F. Neeley, late financial agent of posts at Havana, indorsed a bill for $350, which Thompson had discounted by the North American Trust company. Thompson admits other irregularities in connection with his department.

Own Statement Damaging.

It is asserted that on Mr. Thompson's own statement he is liable to conviction for embezzlement according to the provisions of the postal law, which are explicit. Moreover, his action in giving orders to postal clerks to alter figures regarding stamps, at the request of Corrydon Rich, without notifying Mr. Rathbone, was admittedly irregular.

The four postal inspectors who arrived this morning, after conferences with General Wood and Mr. Rathbone immediately began work.

All the men placed under arrest before today seen willing to tell all they know regarding Neeley, while endeavoring to exonerate themselves. The only person, however, who will be accepted by the authorities as a witness for the United States is Corrydon Rich, who will be closely watched, but not arrested.

Surprised in Washington.

Washington, D. C., May 16.—The arrest and confession of Postmaster Thompson came as an apparent surprise to the officials of the Postoffice department.

Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow received his final instructions today and left for Tampa, Fla., from which place he will sail for Havana, reaching there early Saturday morning.

Representative Hay of Vermont today introduced in the House a resolution requesting the Postmaster General for information as to whether Director Rathbone had reported that the accounts of postal officials in Cuba were found to be correct on April 23. The Postmaster General would make no statement in regard to the subject, but it is said that Director Rathbone did forward a typewritten copy of a report made by Special Agents George O. Seybold and William T. G. Neal stating that the accounts of C. W. F. Neeley, financial clerk of the Postal department, were correct on that date.

Deputy Auditor Ausbe and Expert Accountant Nettleton, who had been designated to assist in the conduct of the investigation into the Cuban postal frauds, left Washington today for Havana.

Colonel Burton, the officer of the Inspector General's department who brought to the United States the proofs of Neeley's operations, went to New York to be present at the arraignment of Neeley.

Neeley Hearing Postponed.

New York, May 16.—[Special.]—The examination of Charles F. W. Neeley, which was set for tomorrow, has been postponed for one week. Neeley returned to the city today from the West and had a consultation with his counsel, John D. Lindsay. Mr. Lindsay then had a talk with United States District Attorney Burnett, and an agreement for the postponement of the case was reached. The hearing on the extradition papers will be had before the examination here.

CUBAN FRAUDS UP IN SENATE.

Investigation Urged by Bacon, Who Declares Nation's Honor Is at Stake.

Washington, D. C., May 16.—Discussion of the administration of affairs in Cuba by agents of the United States occupied the attention of the Senate.

Mr. Bacon [Ga.], in support of his resolution directing the Committee on Relations with Cuba to make an investigation of the conduct of financial affairs of the island, said it was due the people of this country to know just how affairs in the island were being conducted, and since the steals in the postal service the obligation upon Congress was doubly heavy. He urged that the honor of the country was at stake.

He insisted that the government of the United States had no authority in Cuba, and demanded to know how soon it proposed to redeem its pledge and leave the government of the island to its inhabitants.

Great Sum Involved.

Mr. Bacon called attention to the statements in reports submitted by the Secretary of War to the Senate which showed that during the year 1899 the receipts in Cuba were $16,346,015, while the expenditures were $14,085,805.

"If," said the Georgia Senator, "we had before us only the naked fact that the receipts on the island during a single year were more than $16,000,000 and the expenditures more than $14,000,000, we would be bound to investigate the subject to see that this vast sum had been properly and justly spent."

He then presented a statement showing the receipts and expenditures of the various States, including Georgia, Missouri, and Massachusetts. They were in every instance less than those of Cuba.

"These expenditures in Cuba," said Mr. Bacon, "are so much larger in proportion than those of many States that, even if there were no rumors of extravagance and fraud and corruption in connection with Cuban affairs, they would call in trumpet tones for an investigation."

Mr. Bacon declared that one of the prominent officials in Cuba had used the Cuban funds with which to purchase personal apparel, and asserted there were well-founded rumors that there had been the most extravagant expenditures of Cuban funds for fitting up luxurious quarters for officers and furnishing these officers horses, carriages, and liveried servants.

The resolution finally was made subject to the call of any Senator.

Various Bills Passed.

The House bill repealing the provision of the law allowing merchandise passing through the United States from any foreign country to be transported free of duty, so far as the Mexican free zone is concerned, was passed, as was a resolution offered by Mr. Lodge calling upon the Secretary of the Treasury for information in regard to the influx of Japanese laborers into the country.

A bill was also passed providing that all honorably discharged soldiers or marines who saw service in the civil war, in the Spanish war, or in the Philippine war, shall be given preferment in civil service appointments, age or loss of limbs not being regarded as a disqualification.

Clark Case Goes Over.

Mr. Chandler, chairman of the Committee on Privileges and Elections, called up the resolution declaring that W. A. Clark of Montana was not entitled to a seat in the Senate, and asked that it be postponed until Saturday next at 1 o'clock, "in order that the Committee on Privileges and Elections may consider what action shall be taken." The request was agreed to.

BOER ENVOY? NO. GET OUT!

Waldorf-Astoria Intruder in Overalls Mistaken for One of the Peace Agents.

New York, May 16.—[Special.]—The great corridor outside the dining-room of the Waldorf-Astoria was the scene of an amusing incident this evening, when a tall, broad-shouldered man, dressed like a workingman, entered. He had on a leather cap with a visor and wore soiled overalls. The man seated himself in an armchair, took out a cigar, lit it, and seemed entirely at ease.

Private Detectives Lehman and Kennedy determined to tell the man his presence was not desired when some one suggested that he was one of the Boer peace envoys.

The detectives were more than ever in a quandary. Approaching the man in overalls, one politely asked:

"Beg pardon, but are you one of the Boer envoys?"

"I certainly am not," answered the man, with dignity. "I am an Englishman."

And out the Englishman went.

Hilder has returned from his third visit to the Philippines in the interests of the Smithsonian Institution, and is here with the first lot of a collection of specimens that aggregate about 15,000 pieces, having an intrinsic value of something like $12,000, and constitute an exhaustive exhibit of the manufactures, trades, arts, tools, domestic utensils, costumes, weapons, woods, and industries of the Philippine Islands. The whole interesting display will first be arranged at the Pan-American exhibition that will open at Buffalo next May. Afterward the collection will be returned to Washington and arranged in the National Museum as a Filipino department.

RACE WAR IN SOUTH CAROLINA.

Negro Laborers at Four Oaks Attempt to Wipe Out the White Population.

Charlotte, N. C., May 16.—In a fight between drunken negroes and some white merchants in the little town of Four Oaks tonight Policeman Sanderlin was badly hurt and eighteen or twenty people altogether sustained injuries.

The negroes were railroad hands and timber cutters, and were all armed. They threatened to kill every white man in the village.

The town policeman, John Sanderlin, attempted to arrest a negro for disorderly conduct, whereupon the negroes mobbed him. A number of white men came to the policeman's aid, but were knocked down or shot at until the white merchants and railroad employés of the town came to the rescue. The negroes sent word that they intended to visit the town again and kill the policeman. At least fifteen or twenty people on the two sides were injured.

Kansas City, Mo., May 16.—The Republican State convention of Missouri today in a continuous session, lasting from 9:45 a. m. to 4:45 p. m., named delegates-at-large, alternates-at-large, and Presidential Electors to Philadelphia, and selected a full set of State officers. The nominations for Governor and Lieutenant Governor were by acclamation and there were but slight contests for the other State offices.

Chief Issue Over National Delegates.

The big fight of the convention was expected to come over the selection of delegates-at-large, for which there had originally been seven avowed candidates. However, but five names were presented, those of Houser and Dyer of St. Louis, Minnis of Carrollton, Burton of Nevada, and Nathan Frank of St. Louis.

Machine Candidate Defeated.

Nathan Frank, who was the only man for whom National Committeeman Richard C. Kerens took a firm stand, and who was, in addition, demanded by the Zeigenhein machine of St. Louis, was deserted at the last moment in order to make a place for Dyer. Thus, for the first time in twenty years, the Republicans of Missouri broke away from "bosses." This fact was emphasized by the delegates when Dyer's selection was made known by the most enthusiastic demonstration of the convention. Delegates waved their hats, and stamped their feet, and shouted for Dyer in a manner that stopped proceedings for several minutes.

The convention voted to name negroes for alternates-at-large, and the quartet were selected by acclamation.

The resolutions indorse Mr. Kerens for reëlection as National Committeeman.

Platform Indorses McKinley.

The resolutions rejoice in the fact that the platform of 1896 has been vindicated and in the "achievements in peace and glorious victories in war," and indorse "the progressive administration of William McKinley."

The resolutions favor the maintenance of the gold standard, and continue:

We are unalterably opposed to all trusts and combinations in restraint of trade or having for their purpose in the remotest degree stifling of competition; and we demand such legislation, both national and State, as will effectively protect the public from these evils. And if such legislation cannot be had under present constitutional powers we demand such amendments to the constitution of the United States as will suppress such combinations.

Topeka, Kas., May 16.—The Republican State convention here today nominated candidates and delegates with unexpected unanimity. The only balloting was on candidates for Electors, for Congressman-at-Large, and M. A. Lowe for delegate to Philadelphia.

The resolutions indorse the national and State administrations and pledge the delegates to support McKinley.

TO LEAVE DEMOCRATIC PARTY.

Two Former Gold Democrats Declare Their Intention to Join Republican Ranks.

Detroit, Mich., May 16.—[Special.]—Judge Allen B. Morse of Ionia, ex-Consul to Glasgow under Cleveland, ex-Judge of the Supreme Court, and one of Michigan's most prominent gold Democratic leaders, is preparing a statement announcing his entrance to the Republican party's ranks.

R. A. Montgomery of Lansing, likewise a prominent gold Democrat, announces that he will abandon that wing of the Democrats for the Republican party. Both will be delegates to the county and State conventions.

MINNESOTA INDORSES M'KINLEY

State Republican Convention Chooses National Delegates and Favors Direct Senate Elections.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 16.—The State Republican convention met this afternoon in the Exposition Building, where Harrison was the second time named for the Presidency. There were 1,180 delegates entitled to seats and nearly all were present.

Former Lieutenant Governor Gideon S. Ives was made chairman without opposition. A resolution naming Senators Davis and Nelson, Thomas Lowry of Minneapolis, and Samuel Lord of Kasson as the four delegates-at-large was passed without debate and unanimously.

The resolutions indorse McKinley and his administration.

The election of United States Senators by direct vote of the people is favored.

NORTH DAKOTA FOR M'KINLEY.

Neal of Marion County was nominated for the State Board of Equalization. Both nominations were by acclamation. The resolutions indorse President McKinley, Governor Tanner, and Senator Cullom.

DATE SET FOR ROBERTS' TRIAL.

Man Ejected from Congress to Answer Polygamy Charge Again on May 29.

Salt Lake, Utah, May 16.—County Attorney Putnam today decided to retry B. H. Roberts on the charge of polygamy on Tuesday, May 29. Judge Norrell ordered that the case be set down for the date named.

MAY TEST FACTIONS' VOTES.

Probability of Tanner and Cullom Forces Measuring Strength in State Committee Meeting.

Whether or not there will be a test of Tanner and Cullom strength in the new Republican State Central committee at its meeting today was the subject of much speculation last evening among politicians. Nearly all the country members of the committee had arrived. Some of Senator Cullom's friends are not pleased altogether with the proposition that Richard Yates name the chairman and Secretary of the committee. The Tanner people said they were willing to let him select Fred H. Rowe of Jacksonville for chairman, but expressed doubts about accepting his choice of Walter Fieldhouse for Secretary. The only objection raised against Mr. Fieldhouse is his lack of experience.

It was said that Senator Cullom's supporters think they ought to elect officers who will look after his interests. According to Major Hogan, the friends of Governor Tanner have a majority of two. If Mr. Yates' recommendation of Fieldhouse is not accepted the test probably will come in the election of a Secretary. If not, then it will come in the choosing of a chairman of the Executive committee. The aspirants to this position are John McKinney of Aledo; Major Hogan, Dr. T. N. Jamieson, John Bunn of Springfield, and John S. Stevens. D. E. Shanahan is the only candidate besides Mr. Fieldhouse for Secretary.

F. H. Rowe, the prospective chairman, arrived from Jacksonville and spent the day at Yates' headquarters. He talked of making "the Yates phalanx" a feature of the campaign. He wants 1,000 companies formed on military lines and for parade purposes.

A luncheon was given to Judge Yates yesterday at the Chicago Athletic association by J. B. Mayo. The others present were:

Judge Peter Grosscup, Fred H. Rowe, Walter Fieldhouse, Henry M. Bacon, Lafayette McWilliams, William Penn Nixon, F. J. Howell.

Mayor Harrison told ex-Congressman Hinrichsen that under no circumstances would he become a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor. Mr. Hinrichsen called as a representative of the State organization leaders.

Mr. Harrison regards the outlook as unfavorable for Democrats, and, besides, his ambition now is to be reëlected Mayor.

"The reasons I gave Mr. Hinrichsen were those I have always given," said the Mayor. "We talked about other Democrats who would make good candidates, but simply in a gossipy manner. Such a thing as picking out a candidate was never thought of. We talked over Judge Tuley, General Orendorf, Samuel Alschuler, Judge Boggs, Adlai Stevenson, Judge Worthington, and Charles K. Ladd, and, in fact, every one whose name has been suggested for the nomination."

John Smulski will contest the nomination of Charles C. Carnahan as the Republican candidate for Congress in the Fifth District. It is claimed that Mr. Carnahan was nominated through the fraudulent seating of two alternates from the Seventeenth Ward in the place of Delegates John Hozelstadt and James Jenson. It is alleged that the Lorimer people threw them out because they had been Carter men.

The Democratic Committee on Contests and Appeals settled all the factional disputes brought before it without changing a primary district or polling place.

RUTLEDGE'S TRIBUTE TO YATES.

Venerable Chaplain, Who Died Recently, Declared Him "the Worthy Son of a Worthy Sire."

Chaplain William J. Rutledge, who died a few weeks ago, was an intimate friend of Richard Yates, both father and son. A short time before his death, and during the campaign of "Dick" Yates for the Republican nomination for Governor, Chaplain Rutledge wrote briefly with his own hand his impressions of the character and ability of the younger Yates. His daughter, Mrs. Carrie Rutledge Orton of Lincoln, Ill., has sent this tribute from her father to THE TRIBUNE, with the comment, "He being dead yet speaketh." Thousands of persons throughout the State who knew Chaplain Rutledge will be interested in reading the following:

"In my sixty-fifth year of citizenship in Illinois, my eightieth year of life, and sixtieth year of my Methodist ministry in the old Illinois conference. I will not suffer age or illness to hinder my saying a few words in favor of my townsman and friend, Richard Yates, for Governor. He is the worthy son of a worthy sire, for his very capable and popular father had in him the best elements of Blaine and Lincoln, and if he had lived but a few years would have been President. Every veteran of the union army will corroborate this, and, believing that 'blood will tell,' those veterans, without regard to party, will vote for this worthy one—every inch a man—as they did for 'the soldier's friend and war Governor of Illinois.'

"I have known all the Governors of Illinois but the two first—a list of grand men, such as Duncan, Bissell, Palmer, Oglesby, Cullom, and Fifer—but Yates led them all in popularity, just as Lincoln did, in being so near to the people.

"If the Young Men's Christian association, the Senior Society of Christian Endeavor, and the Epworth league could all vote, I think he would get the largest majority ever given in Illinois. So mote it be.

"WM. J. RUTLEDGE, Jacksonville, Ill.,
"Late Chaplain of Fourteenth Regiment Illinois Volunteer Infantry and Illinois State Encampment, G. A. R.; Illinois Soldiers' Home, Quincy, and Illinois State Prison, Joliet."

TANNER FOR YATES SELECTIONS

Says the Nominee Should Be Allowed to Name Officers of State Committee.

Springfield, Ill., May 16.—[Special.]—Governor Tanner gave out the following interview tonight regarding the meeting of the State Central committee:

"Richard Yates expressed to me the desire to select his own chairman and secretary of the committee, and I agreed that it was the proper thing to do. He is the head of the ticket, and is to be the standard-bearer of the party during the campaign. Therefore, it is best that he should not be handicapped in the beginning by a committee organized under obligations to or in the control of any other individual or faction."

SERVE NOTICE TO EVICT.

LANDLORDS TELL METAL WORKERS TO PAY RENT OR MOVE OUT.

Union Takes Extraordinary Measures for Their Relief, Appointing a Committee to Start Out Today—Professor Graham Taylor Inclined to Let Realty Board Select Members of Investigation — Webster Company Seeks to Enjoin Carpenters' Union.

Five members of the Sheet Metal Workers' union were served by their landlords yesterday with notices to vacate because they have been unable to pay their rent. The fact of their distress came before the union at its meeting last night and was the direct cause of extraordinary measures being taken for the relief of many other cases of distress among the members of the union.

Today a force of relief agents will start out, each to a certain district of the city. They will render financial assistance to needy members and help them to find employment. Each agent has been supplied with orders for provisions and money for the payment of rents.

There are 300 members of the union in the city, and the majority of them have suffered severely through the lockout. Fred A. Pouchot, the business agent, goes to Indianapolis today to appear before the United Mine Workers' union in session there, and solicit financial aid for the Building Trades council.

Professor Graham Taylor of the Chicago Commons, who has been asked by the trades unions to select three members of the committee to investigate the labor trouble, will set about his task today. He was inclined last evening to leave the matter to the Real Estate board, believing that organization to be the most acceptable to the contractors and the labor men of the business organizations of the city.

It is possible that Professor Taylor will not be a member of the committee. He said that he was willing that the six members should choose the seventh without reference to his connection with the movement for an investigation.

Seek to Enjoin a Union.

The Webster Manufacturing company has filed a bill in the Superior Court asking that President Jacks of the Coremakers' union, the union itself, and several of its members be restrained from interfering with the business of the company. The bill alleges that the defendants have made repeated demands on the company to employ none but union coremakers and that a strike was declared in the foundry department on May 10. It is also alleged that the defendants have since employed pickets to watch the foundry and that intimidation and assault have been resorted to. Arguments will be made before Judge Holdom this morning.

John M. Roach, Vice President and General Manager of the Chicago Union Traction company, stated during the day that the receipts of the company had decreased $30,000 monthly since the labor trouble began. The statement was in connection with a discussion of the complaints concerning the service on the Halsted street line. Mr. Roach ascribed much of the blame for inadequate service to the indifference of the police, who, he said, let teamsters block the tracks.

D. H. Louderback announced during the day that the Northwestern "L" would be running its trains within fifteen days from the loop to Wilson avenue.

Wants Police Protection Withdrawn.

Alderman Brennan of the Tenth Ward is contemplating introducing an order in the Council asking the Corporation Counsel as to the right of the police to furnish protection in case of strikes. Alderman Brennan has an elaborate theory that some of the contractors are friends of Mayor Harrison's opponents and are trying to make political trouble for Mayor Harrison, and hence he wishes to withdraw police protection.

Typographical Union Election.

The annual election of Typographical union No. 16 called out a large vote, the count of which will not be completed until today. It was predicted by the knowing ones last night that Michael Colbert would be chosen President of No. 16, and that James M. Lynch of Syracuse, N. Y., would win over his opponent for International President, Samuel B. Donnelly of New York City. The local fight was between the job printers and the newspaper compositors.

The crew of the Juliet, the steam yacht owned by the Drainage board, went on strike yesterday because of a dispute over wages.

Workman Beaten by Strikers.

Frederick Sovernson, a patternmaker employed by the Winslow Bros. company, was attacked last evening by strikers at Center avenue and Erie street. He was beaten severely.

CHICAGO GREEKS GIVE A PLAY.

Present "The Return of Odysseus" Under Auspices of Vassar Students' Aid Society.

Chicago Greeks, under the direction of young women of the Illinois Branch of the Vassar Students' Aid society, presented "The Return of Odysseus" at the Fine Arts Building last night. The production was a Greek play, arranged from Homer by Mabel Hay Barrows, and all the actors and members of the chorus were young Greek men and women residing in Chicago. The play was beautifully staged and the costumes and settings were elaborate.

Those who took the leading parts have been students of the Greek drama, and their acting was strong and vigorous. The various tableaux were effective, the play presenting a series of stage pictures that were warmly applauded by the audience. "The Return of Odysseus" represents the twenty years' wanderings of Odysseus and the faithfulness of his wife, Penelope. The prelude is a scene in the sacred grove of Apollo, where the priestess offers sacrifice to the gods while the elders, matrons, youths, and maids bring gifts and chant the praises of Apollo, singing a hymn that was written in 279 B. C.

WILSON TO THE SOUTHRONS.

Secretary of Agriculture Addresses Industrial Convention on "Agricultural Interests of the South."

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 16.—The Southern Industrial convention devoted the forenoon today in an inspection of Chattanooga's textile, wood, iron, and clay manufactories. The convention reassembled at 3 o'clock and Cyrus Kehr of Knoxville delivered an address on suggestions for improvements on educational systems in the South.

Mr. Cyrus Kehr of Knoxville made an address in which he offered some "Suggestions for Advancing Industrial Education in the South."

His address was confined to two topics: First, the need of special recognition of the elementary forms of such education; second, some practical steps which the convention might take to further all forms of education in the Southern States. The campaign, he said, should be supplemented by lectures and institute work, and also sermons in every pulpit in the South on the dignity, honor, and sanctity of labor, diligence, and thrift.

The convention indorsed the Philadelphia Commercial Museum as "deserving of all the support that the national government may accord it."

Secretary of Agriculture James Wilson addressed the convention on "The Agricultural Interests of the South." Secretary Wilson reviewed the work of his department during the last three years.

"Additional Weather bureau stations have been established in the Southern cotton States and the Western mountain States for the purpose of getting more exact information for the people who are interested in the crops in those localities.

"During the last three years important problems concerning the suppression and eradication of contagious and infectious diseases of domestic animals have been carefully studied. The diseases selected for investigation have been those which experience and recorded observation have proved to be most injurious from an economic point of view.

"Experiments with grasses and forage plants have been vigorously prosecuted during the last three years. These experiments are necessary in order that ranchers and farmers may be informed on the kind of grasses suitable for their respective districts. Many of the vast cattle ranges of the West have been practically destroyed by overstocking and mismanagement, and it has become a serious question as to what are the best grasses with which to reseed them.

"An investigation of the trees of arid regions in foreign countries has been begun, to determine such species as will be suitable for the plains and arid regions of the United States. Explorers of the department throughout the world are seeking for such species of trees as may be suitable for the several localities of the United States.

"Our new relations to our island possessions bring up new problems regarding tropical agriculture. Careful inquiry will be made into profitable agriculture in these islands, so that the people may be instructed regarding the cultivation of the most profitable crops, such as vanilla, coffee, india rubber, etc., and so that the people of those islands may be taught the sciences that relate to the productions most profitable to them, and the United States may purchase from those people to as great an extent as possible the $200,000,000 worth of tropical products annually imported."

ASK LAKE FRONT PARADE STAND

Grand Army Committee Petition South Park Board and Decision Is Deferred.

The Grand Army committee having charge of the arrangements for the coming encampment in Chicago yesterday asked the South Park board for permission to erect a grand stand in Lake-Front Park between Jackson boulevard and Park row, and to build an amphitheater on made land east of the Illinois Central tracks for pyrotechnical displays. The request was referred to a special committee consisting of President Donnersberger and Commissioners Best and Hodgkins for a decision.

The board authorized the expenditure of $3,000 in dredging the Jackson Park yacht harbor and withdrawing piles.

The board decided to advertise for bids for paving Michigan avenue with asphalt between Congress and Sixteenth streets.

The Lincoln Park board received a petition asking that the break water at the foot of Oak street be filled with stone, and agreed to attend to the matter and will advertise for bids.

A petition signed by 600 prominent residents of the North Side, asking that from $3,000 to $5,000 be given by the board for the erection of a roller skating rink at the park 150x500 feet, was discussed and held over for further consideration.

WOMEN ELECT TRUSTEES.

Catholic Order of Foresters Names Board to Serve for Two Years—Knights and Ladies Meet.

The Woman's Catholic Order of Foresters yesterday elected as trustees for two years Miss Kate Rotchford, Miss K. Birmingham, Miss Tessie Murphy, Mrs. Minnie Kenney, Mrs. M. A. Nolan, Miss Julia O'Brien, and Mrs. M. Cyr; as auditors, Mrs. Minnie Duffy, Mrs. Mary Rayburn, and Mrs. M. Phillips. Thomas E. Rooney, 1508 Unity Building, was chosen attorney.

Delegates to the biennial meeting of the Catholic Knights and Ladies of America viewed the city from the tops of six coaches that left the Tremont House at 1 p. m. and went on a tour of the parks. Later a short business session was held, and in the evening the annual banquet took place.

GIRL'S IDENTITY STILL SECRET.

Police Refuse to Tell Name of Prisoner Who Gives Clew to the Potter Porch-Climbers.

Inspector Heidelmeier refused yesterday to make known the identity of the girl from whom he said he obtained a clew to the Potter and other porch-climbers. Chief Kipley said he would discharge any policeman who divulged the name of the girl. "We found nothing to lead us to believe she was implicated in any robbery," said Chief Kipley. "However, we have recovered a number of trinkets, the proceeds of burglaries committed in other cities and several North Side residences. If we arrest the men we are seeking we will learn considerable more."

Boston, Mass., May 16.—[Special.]—Boston's entire detective force is looking for an unknown man who yesterday walked up to 4-year-old Willie Geary of 43 B street, South Boston, and after telling the child to stick out his tongue nearly cut it off with a knife. So far the police have no clew except that based on the stories of the child's playmates. From their stories the police think the man is insane.

NEW PLAN FOR THE "A. P."

ASSOCIATED PRESS PROBABLY WILL BE REORGANIZED SOON.

Members at the Annual Meeting Reject a Recommendation That the Recent Adverse Court Decision Be Obeyed—Four New Directors Chosen and a Vote of Confidence in the Present Officers Passed—Charles H. Taylor Criticises Dr. Sheldon's Daily.

The annual meeting of the Associated Press closed with the regular banquet at the Auditorium Hotel last night. The function in point of attendance and general elaborateness of detail was fully up to former ones, and the speaking was not finished until after midnight.

The business meeting, which was held in Steinway Hall, was the one particular event of the day, and it was late in the afternoon before the session closed. Four directors were chosen to fill vacancies, but the chief business was the consideration of the situation which confronts the association as the result of the adverse decision of the Supreme Court of Illinois, and the action of the meeting on this question is suggestive of important changes in its present form of organization. This action came through the presentation of a report submitted by the Board of Directors, recommending that the bylaws be so amended as to make them conform to the recent decision of the Supreme Court. On motion of John Schroers of St. Louis the proposed amendments were rejected. There were only two votes in the negative.

There was little disposition to discuss the significance of this action, but it is generally understood that it means the present association is to come to an end and another one will be organized in its stead possessing all the rights of the old one. New York and West Virginia were mentioned as the States in which a new company may be incorporated.

A vote of confidence in the present officers was passed, and it was expected that they will be reëlected at the directors' meeting today.

Views of a Member.

A prominent member of the association said last night, in discussing the action of the meeting: "It means, of course, that the present association is to come to an end. There was nothing else left to do under the circumstances. The plan is to let the present organization die an apparently natural death by the withdrawal of its members. A new association will then be formed in another State, and all the rights of the old one will be transferred to it. Just where the main headquarters will be located is a matter for future consideration, although there is much talk of New York City."

A suggestive feature of the banquet, which occurred during the passing of the loving cup, was the introduction by General Manager M. E. Stone of some of the newly elected directors as "funeral directors." The reference was greeted with laughter, and the point was evidently appreciated.

Names of the New Directors.

The new directors chosen were E. P. Call of the New York Evening Post, Charles H. Grasty of the Baltimore News, Edward Rosewater of the Omaha Bee, and George H. Thompson of the St. Paul Dispatch.

The members from the different divisions chose the following Advisory boards:

Eastern division—Herbert F. Gunnison, Brooklyn Eagle, chairman; Ambrose Butler, Buffalo News; Charles H. Taylor, Boston Globe; A. P. Langtry, Springfield (Mass.) Union; P. C. Boyle, Oil City Derrick.

Central division—D. M. Houser, St. Louis Globe-Democrat, chairman; W. D. Haldeman, Louisville Courier-Journal; H. U. Brown, Indianapolis News; E. H. Purdue, Cleveland Leader; James E. Scripps, Detroit Tribune; T. L. Boyd, Milwaukee Journal.

Western division—H. W. Scott, Portland Oregonian, chairman; H. G. Otis, Los Angeles Times; P. H. Lannan, Salt Lake Tribune; K. G. Cooper, Denver Republican; Alden J. Blethen, Seattle Times.

Southern division—H. H. Cabaniss, Atlanta Journal, chairman; C. P. J. Mooney, Memphis Commercial-Appeal; George W. Ochs, Chattanooga Times; George H. Baskette, Nashville Banner; Page M. Baker, New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Toasts at the Banquet.

The first feature of the banquet was the passing of the loving cup, and, after the coffee had been served, President Victor F. Lawson arose and introduced Clark Howell of the Atlanta Constitution as toastmaster. The speakers, with their topics, were: Charles H. Taylor of the Boston Globe, "The Sheldon Experiment in Journalism"; Bishop Fowler, "Newspapers as a Moral Force"; St. Clair McKelway of the Brooklyn Eagle, "The Political Reporter"; H. D. Estabrook, "Is the Associated Press a Trust?"; Stephen O'Meara of the Boston Journal, "The Men—God Bless Them."

Reviews the Sheldon Experiment.

C. H. Taylor in discussing Sheldon's religious daily said in part:

What a farce and a fizzle it was. Dr. Sheldon announced in December that he would produce it about the middle of March. What an opportunity the man had if he had had the slightest conception of journalism. With such an idea he could have invited contributions from the great minds of this country and Europe. On the contrary, he appears to have bought a large scrapbook and filled it from time to time with articles on prohibition or any reform here and there, helter-skelter.

The attempt was so feeble, it is really a waste of time to criticise it. The sale and profits show how good natured the journalists of this country are. They showed in this case, as they always do, that they are willing to give publicity to a new idea, especially if it comes from any man who is honest and hopes to do good in the world. Hence the $5,000 which Sheldon received the other day. The whole profit of the concern came practically from the gratuitous advertising which nearly all the papers of the country gave to the experiment.

Do not for a moment let us give any one the impression that newspapers have any quarrel with the church. The church spires in this country have an influence which few of us appreciate. This city would need 10,000 more policemen, only for its church spires. If there were no church spires in this State the State prison might cover one-third of it, and the rest would not be fit to live in.

Bishop Fowler for Expansion.

Bishop Fowler warmly indorsed the policy of national expansion. He was applauded warmly. He said:

Washington bade us keep in the middle of the lot. He told us to beware of foreign entanglements. We were a small power, and it was wise for us to follow his advice. He placed a bib around our necks; it covered our breasts and on the bib was the legend: "Beware of foreign entanglements." If we got out of the middle of the lot, said Washington, some one would throw mud on our bib, so we kept in the middle of the lot.

But now we have new duties, new religious duties, and new businesses. We started them upon the occasion of the destruction of the Maine. When that happened we awoke to and went about our main business. [Applause.] When that mine was touched off beneath the Maine we went up in the air, as did the Maine. And we came down. Like the Maine, we came down all over. All over I say. And where we came down we came down to stay.

Concluding the Bishop said that the newspaper is not a missionary but a business enterprise.

St. Clair McKelway of the Brooklyn Eagle made a plea for fair political reporting at the threshhold of an important campaign, and said the evil of defamatory campaigning and libelous political journalism in 1884 was so great that by sheer excess and reaction subsequent Presidential campaigns have been morally clean though at times mentally monstrous.

Estabrook Praises Chicago Newspapers

Henry D. Estabrook, who spoke to the toast, "Is the Associated Press a Trust?" said no thinking man would abolish the newspaper to escape the tumult it creates or exchange it with all its faults for the newsless blasphemy of a pseudo savior. The Bible nowhere counsels the suppression of news, but is itself the compendium of news. The speaker paid a compliment to the newspapers of Chicago, saying he lived in a city free from the pestilence of unclean newspapers.

German-American Publishers' Election.

At the annual meeting of the German-American Publishers' association in the afternoon at the Auditorium the election of officers resulted as follows:

President—John Schroers of the Westliche Post, St. Louis.
Vice President—Herman Ridder of the New York Staats Zeitung.
Secretary—F. Glogauer of the Chicago Abendpost.
Treasurer—E. Coleman of the Milwaukee Herold.

CANCER

CANNOT BE CUT OUT OR REMOVED WITH PLASTERS.

Surgical operations and flesh destroying plasters are useless, painful and dangerous, and besides, never cure Cancer.

No matter how often a cancerous sore is removed, another comes at or near the same point, and always in a worse form. Does not this prove conclusively that Cancer is a blood disease, and that it is folly to attempt to cure this deep-seated, dangerous blood trouble by cutting or burning out the sore, which, after all, is only an outward sign of the disease—a place of exit for the poison?

Cancer runs in families through many generations, and those whose ancestors have been afflicted with it are liable at any time to be stricken with the deadly malady.

Only Blood Diseases Can Be Transmitted from One Generation to Another.

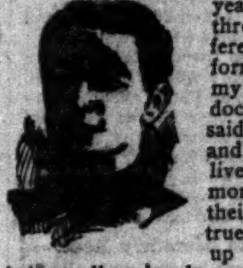

—further proof that Cancer is a disease of the blood.

To cure a blood disease like this you must cure the entire blood system—remove every trace of the poison. Nothing cures Cancer effectually and permanently but S. S. S.

S. S. S. enters the circulation, searches out and removes all taint, and stops the formation of cancerous cells. No mere tonic or ordinary blood medicine can do this. S. S. S. goes down to the very roots of the disease and forces out the deadly poison, allowing the sore to heal naturally and permanently. S. S. S. at the same time purifies the blood and builds up the general health.

A little pimple, a harmless looking wart or mole, a lump in the breast, a cut or bruise that refuses to heal under ordinary treatment, should all be looked upon with suspicion, as this is often the beginning of a bad form of cancer.

Mrs. Sarah M. Keesling, 941 Windsor Av., Bristol, Tenn., writes: "I am 41 years old and for three years had suffered with a severe form of Cancer on my jaw, which the doctors in this city said was incurable, and that I could not live more than six months. I accepted their statement as true, and had given up all hope of ever being well again when my druggist, knowing of my condition, recommended S. S. S. After taking a few bottles the sore began to heal, much to the surprise of the physicians, and in a short time made a complete cure. I have gained in flesh, my appetite is splendid, sleep is refreshing—in fact, am enjoying perfect health."

FIRE ENGINE STAMPEDES SHEEP

Big Flock Scattered in All Directions When Company Turned Out for Test.

A large flock of sheep was stampeded by Engine Company No. 59 at the main entrance to the Stock-Yards yesterday. Fred Jencks, an employé of Ruddy Bros.' packing-house, was driving 100 sheep along Exchange avenue, when an alarm was sounded at 11 o'clock in Engine-House No. 59 to give the company a trial at speed. In another instant out bowled the hose truck, followed by the engine.

By this time the sheep were directly in front of the house. When they saw the engine with its great clouds of smoke and fire sputtering out of the smokestack they ran in every direction. Some of the more frightened animals sought refuge in the Transit House Market and a bootblacking establishment in Exchange avenue. Others ran into Swift & Co.'s barn and a few of them scampered off toward Halsted street.

Several hundred persons gathered to see the "fleecy" animals rounded up by the Stock-Yards "cowboys."

NOW IN DOUBT OVER MAFEKING.

London Hears Rumors of Garrison's Relief, but Cannot Yet Believe Them.

FIGHTING NEAR TOWN.

British Relief Column Attacked at Kraai Pan, 26 Miles South.

ROBERTS AGAIN ON THE MOVE

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE BY ARTHUR L. CLARKE.]

LONDON, May 17, 3 a. m.—The suspense over the lack of definite news from Mafeking is more intense, if possible, than at any time since the beginning of the war. The enthusiasm, all ready to be uncorked the minute good tidings are received, has been chilled considerably by the reports from Boer sources that Baden-Powell has surrendered, of heavy fighting near Mafeking, and of serious losses to the British relief column. Several London papers attempt to cheer the public by asking, "Is Mafeking relieved?" and pointing out that when the task is completed it will be two days before London gets the news.

Fight at Kraai Pan.

That the relief column reported passing Vryburg a week ago really exists is confirmed by messages to the effect that it fought a hard battle at Kraai Pan, thirty-two miles south of Mafeking, on Tuesday, but the name of the leader and the composition of the force are still a mystery. A couple of experts incline to the belief that Lord Kitchener is commanding, others that Colonel Kekewich is in charge, for the reason that neither has been heard from for some time. It is argued that Major Baden-Powell is hardly in command, since no officer under the rank of Colonel would be given so large a force.

Relief Rumors at Pretoria.

Three messages from Douglas Story, the Mail's Pretoria correspondent, dated Saturday, Monday, and Tuesday, were received last night. The earliest says: "The storming of Mafeking, under orders from Pretoria, began this morning at 5 o'clock, the Kaffir kraals being burned down."

Monday's says: "Kruger is at work night and day. Little news is permitted free passage at present. This is the critical time."

Tuesday's dispatch reads: "The Boers are astonished at the speed of Lord Roberts' advance. Official war news is meager and antiquated."

Another Report of Relief.

The Daily Mail's Lourenzo Marquez dispatch dated Wednesday says a rumor reaches there from Pretoria that Mafeking has been relieved and that Sarel Eloff, one of Kruger's grandsons, is among the prisoners. It admits there is no confirmation, but insists that the Boer authorities are concerned over some great event.

Cape Town messages report the flying relief column is due to arrive at Mafeking on Sunday or Monday.

Union Jack in Transvaal.

The English flag has been hoisted in the Transvaal at last, over the Town of Christiana, twenty miles northeast of Fourteen Streams. General Hunter's force has this distinction to its credit. When Hunter reached Wedgraat after a fifteen miles' march he found the Boers retreating on Christiana, so he decided to push on. When he arrived at Christiana the Boers had departed, and Hunter resolved to make a state entry into the town and to hoist the British flag. A detachment of the Fusileers under Colonel Barton was selected for the duty, which was carried out amid great cheering.

Roberts and Buller Move.

There is reason to believe that Lord Roberts is again moving in the hope of distracting the attention of the Boers from Mafeking.

General Buller in Natal continues to make progress. On Tuesday he occupied Glencoe and yesterday reported that the Transvaalers had abandoned the Biggarsberg line and that the Free-Staters were weakening on the Drakensberg side. This last is regarded as important, as it frees Buller from the danger of a flank attack. He will now, in all probability, completely clear Natal, push on north, turning Laing's Nek into the Transvaal, when his advance will threaten the flank of the Boers facing Roberts.

Rhodes Tired of Politics.

It is announced at Cape Town that Cecil Rhodes is about to retire from Cape politics, the Bondites and commercial classes both being antagonistic to him.

Boer Envoy Secrets.

The Express this morning under three column sensational head lines prints what purports to be the secrets of the Boer envoys, as gleaned by one Patrick O'Connor, an Irish journalist, who crossed with the delegates on the Maasdam. O'Connor passed himself off as an American, speaking English only, and having strong Boer sympathies. In his article, however, he claims to understand Transvaal Dutch equally well and quotes both what the envoys told him in English and what he alleges they said among themselves in Dutch.

In English Fischer declared that the Boers proposed winning the war if it took years; that the envoys were going to America in the interests of peace, but without any cut and dried program; that he expected no more pitched battles, as the Boers intended to adopt guerrilla tactics, and that Cecil Rhodes engineered the whole war.

Their Private Talk.

From listening to the envoy's talk among themselves O'Connor gathered that the delegates had no hope of receiving help in the United States; that if the war continues much longer they may probably remain in America; that all are well supplied with funds; that the Boer losses in the Transvaal have been quite as heavy as the British; that President Kruger is afraid to acquaint his people with the facts; that the secret telegrams passing between the Free State and the Transvaal were removed just before the capture of Bloemfontein in Mrs. Fischer's dress basket.

O'Connor's story concludes by saying that the real feeling of the envoys is best expressed by a remark made by Walmaras to Fischer when they came in sight of land, "What shall we do when we get there?"

Doubt News of Kraai Pan Fight.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, May 17, 3:30 a. m.—The British relief column fought the Boers at Kraai Pan, thirty-two miles south of Mafeking, on Tuesday, according to a telegram received on Wednesday night at Lourenzo Marquez from Molopo, 100 miles north of Mafeking. This intelligence is accepted here with some reserve, because it is difficult to understand how the news could have been so quickly put on the wire from a place 132 miles from the scene of the engagement.

A correspondent of the Morning Post, presumably John Stuart, is reported captured by the Boers at Kraai Pan.

The British public is keenly expectant of the announcement that Mafeking has been relieved. In army circles the opinion seems to prevail that this has already been accomplished, although, two hours after midnight, the War office asserted that news of the relief had not been received.

Lord Roberts continues passive at Kroonstad. His cavalry are stretching like a semi-circular screen, many miles in length, with outlapping flanks. The railway will probably be completed today.

Fight North of the Zand.

It seems that General French's cavalry had one lively fight after crossing the Zand River. A mixed squadron, composed of the Scots Greys, the Inniskillings, Carbineers, and Australian Horse, took a kopje and dismounted. The Boers suddenly fired from a concealed position, killing many horses and stampeding the rest. The Boers then advanced in overwhelming numbers and drove the squadron, capturing some. The Boers robbed the dead and looted the saddles. A small brigade of cavalry drove them off.

Farther north the Hussars charged the Boers, killing and wounding many stragglers with sabers and pistols.

Lord Roberts' infantry marched 120 miles in seven days. General French marched thirty miles in one day. The Boers when retiring dragged thirty-two guns through Kroonstad.

Buller Soon in Transvaal.

General Buller is moving toward Newcastle. He appears to be using 25,000 men against 5,000 or 6,000. His operations will almost certainly result in his forcing his way into the Transvaal, possibly in time to cooperate with Lord Roberts' advance, although General Buller is now 252 miles from Johannesburg, or twenty-five days' march.

A Dane, who was captured by the South African Horse, says that there are 500 Frenchmen with the Boers, who are opposing General Buller, together with many Germans and other foreigners.

General Rundle is sweeping through the northeast of the Free State. The Boers are dissolving before him and some are surrendering. Their main force is assembled between Ficksburg and Winburg, but it is without close organization.

Warning from Hicks-Beach.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, speaking at Bristol last evening, denied that he was personally responsible for any delay in forwarding troops to south Africa, and announced that it might be necessary to still further increase the navy. He disagreed with the suggestion that a large, permanent increase of the army might be necessary, but said that the country must look to the volunteers and the militia.

"The expenditure of the country," continued Sir Michael, "is growing at an enormous, a dangerous rate. I have always put a strong navy as a primary necessity of the country, and it may be that assent will have to be given to a further expenditure, in view of the hostile feeling toward England in some European countries. But I regard the country's increasing expenditures as the real danger. If we go on as we are going there may be hard times in store for the country, particularly of the working classes."

Told in Official Dispatches.

LONDON, May 16, 10:35 a. m.—The War office has posted the following dispatch from General Buller, dated Dundee, May 16:

"We occupied Glencoe yesterday. The Transvaalers have now evacuated Biggarsberg. The Free-Staters on the Drakensburg are much reduced in numbers. The Carolina, Lydenberg, and Pretoria commandos trekked north from Hlatikulu on the 13th and 14th of May with eleven guns."

The last train with ambulance left there at dawn May 15. This result has been largely produced by the action of the Fifth Division, which, during the last few days, has done a great deal of hard work—marching, mountain climbing, and roadmaking. Trains are now running to Wessel's Nek station.

Report from Lord Roberts.

The War office posts the following dispatch from Lord Roberts under date of Kroonstad, May 15:

"Two officers and six men of Prince Alfred's Guards while out foraging yesterday a few miles from Kroonstad visited a farm flying a white flag, the owner of which surrendered himself with arms and ammunition. They then approached another farm, also flying a white flag. When within forty yards of the inclosure they were fired upon by fifteen or sixteen Boers concealed behind the farm wall. Two of the men were killed, Lieutenant F. B. Walton was wounded, and Lieutenant W. B. Everton and two non-commissioned officers were taken prisoners.

"The owner of the farm states that the Boers threatened to shoot him when he protested against their making improper use of the white flag."

Says Boers May Surrender.

The most important development in today's war news is the statement cabled from Cape Town announcing that the Boer delegates had advised the Transvaalers to surrender if defeated at the Vaal. This remarkable announcement is vouched for on good authority and evidently obtains more credence in Cape Town than would a mere rumor.

More Troops at Beira.

About 1,100 more troops have arrived at Beira, Portuguese east Africa. Among them is Lord Dunraven, who accompanied the Dunraven Sharpshooters as a supernumerary Captain on the battalion staff.

CHOATE PLEASES THE BRITISH.

American Ambassador Repeats a Message of Friendship at a London Banquet.

LONDON, May 16.—Joseph H. Choate, the United States Ambassador, was the special guest at dinner this evening of the Ancient Company of Fishmongers. In his speech Mr. Choate remarked:

"Forget your wars and internal commotions and look quietly in the faces of the diplomatic representatives of the world who are bringing you only messages of peace."

The applause that greeted this apparent commonplace could only be appreciated by those who knew that the principal topic of conversation had been the cordial reception of the Boer delegates in New York.

Later Mr. Choate, after humorously referring to the fact that Americans knew London better than Londoners, said:

"From people who have such mutual interests as these you do not need loud professions of friendship. We are pursuing the same ends, and actions speak louder than words."

He then went on to refer to English aid in the hour of certain American calamities, like the Chicago fire, with their reflex of American aid in the day of Irish famine.

"And last, and not least," he said, "I would refer to the shiploads of food now leaving the United States for India."

The speech was one of the most successful and humorous yet made by the United States Ambassador.

Major General Alfred Edward Turner, in a remarkable speech, frankly admitted that Great Britain was not able to support an army adequate to her defense, and he said: "There is a danger nearer home, and more immediate than we think."

DAY WITH THE BOER ENVOYS.

Bourke Cockran in Conference and Rumor Already Connects Bryan with Their Mission.

New York, May 16.—[Special.]—How to avoid entanglement with American politics seemed to be the greatest problem with the Boer peace commissioners today.

W. Bourke Cockran was with the commissioners two hours, and his mission was regarded as the most important incident of the day. Mr. Cockran declined to talk about his visit in any way, and Mr. Fischer, the head of the peace commission, said he could not disregard the sanctity of a private conversation.

The mystery thus thrown about Mr. Cockran's visit gave rise to many reports. One was that the incident had political significance. It soon became a well circulated rumor that Mr. Bryan had either directly or indirectly placed himself in communication with the Boer representatives.

The ceremony of welcoming the envoys by the city will take place tomorrow afternoon at the City Hall at 3 o'clock. The Boer delegates will leave this city for Washington at 9:55 a. m. Friday.

Washington, D. C., May 16.—Representative Sulzer of New York, chairman of the committee to receive the Boer delegates in Washington, announces the program as follows: On Thursday night a committee consisting of three United States Senators, three Representatives, and a number of citizens will go to New York to escort the delegates here. The Congressional committee will consist of Senators Heitfeld of Idaho, Mason of Illinois, Wellington of Maryland, Teller of Colorado, and Allen of Nebraska; Representatives Sulzer of New York, Robinson of Nebraska, De Armond of Missouri, Rhea of Kentucky, and Champ Clark of Missouri.

The Commissioners of the District of Columbia today declined an invitation to take part in the reception of the Boer envoys.

On Friday night an informal reception will be held at the hotel and on Saturday morning the Boer delegates will call to see the President.

On Sunday night there will be a meeting at the Grand Opera-House, when the three delegates will speak, and there will be addresses also by Senators and Representatives.

DEATH PENALTY BY SUBSTITUTE

Chinese Murderers of Missionary Brooks Hire Men to Die in Their Places.

Vancouver, B. C., May 16.—The steamer Empress of India brings the news punishment has been meted out to the murderers of Missionary Brooks. Fifteen men were tried for the crime before the Provincial Judge at Chiman Fu and C. W. Campbell, British Consul. It was developed at the trial that only three were guilty of the actual killing, and one of these dealt the final fatal blow. This one was beheaded in the presence of the British Consul.

Another was sentenced to strangulation at the autumn assizes. A third was sentenced to life imprisonment and four others to ten years' imprisonment. Others received light penalties.

In connection with the punishment of the Brooks murderers the North China Daily News has a story to the effect that the condemned men were allowed to purchase substitutes and that for $1,000 two men were procured who agreed to pay the penalty of death imposed upon the most directly concerned in the murder. The man who was to be beheaded paid $600 for his substitute, a dissolute opium smoker, who wished to provide for his family. The murderer condemned to be strangled had to pay only $400 for his substitute.

FILIPINO MISSION TO ENGLAND TALKED OF IN LONDON.

British Importer with Large Dealings in the Orient Asserts the Filipinos as Well as the Cubans May Appeal to Great Britain for Protection Against United States—Coal Trust Is Alarmed—Tobacco Trade in an Alliance.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE BY ARTHUR L. CLARKE.]

LONDON, May 17, 3 a. m.—A prominent importer with large dealings in the Orient sends to the Daily Mail information that an influential commission of leading Filipinos will start for England shortly, their object being to put an end to the war, as they think peace ought to be secured without loss of prestige by the United States giving independence to the Filipinos. In the event of the United States refusing satisfactory terms they will ask the English government to establish a protectorate over the Philippine Islands, and if they succeed it is expected that the Cubans will also apply to Great Britain for protection against the United States. The Mail prints the story under the caption "This Is Not True."

Coal Trust Is Alarmed.

The Lancashire colliery owners, who, as the heads of the English coal trust, are responsible for the present famine prices, are now reported to be thoroughly alarmed over the threatened importation of American coal. They are also troubled with importations into their own district, for in the last week thousands of tons of coal from Midlands have been shipped into Lancashire. The trust is expected to lower prices soon. The Bradford coal dealers at their annual meeting yesterday announced that the profits for the twelve months exceeded the average for the last three years and decided to increase their capital over a million.

Beresford Holds His Place.

The old rumor is again revived that Lord Charles Beresford is about to resign the command of the Mediterranean fleet. It is officially denied.

British Tobacco Trust.

A tobacco trust of the same nature that is controlling the American markets is being organized in England, to be called the United Kingdom Tobacconists' Alliance, the object being to establish a uniform price list for the whole kingdom, and thus abolish cutting in prices. The alliance proposes that the manufacturers shall charge a higher price to all retailers selling under standard prices. Retailers refusing to join by the payment of $2.50 yearly will be charged 10 per cent more for everything they buy.

TO WELCOME BUDDAH'S BONES.

Devotees in Japan Contribute $250,000 to Celebrate the Arrival of Sacred Relics from Siam.

Vancouver, B. C., May 16.—[Special.]—The following advices were received by the steamship arriving from the Orient today:

"Led by the Higashi Hongwan Ji, the Buddhist sects throughout Japan are preparing on a grand scale for the reception of bones of Buddha, which are to be dispatched from Siam to Tokio in a short time.

"A thousand Buddhist priests, wearing rich robes bedecked with jewels, are to be sent to meet Buddha's bones half way on the journey, and 500,000 yen is to be spent in Tokio in organizing a fitting reception.

"The project is exciting much ridicule among foreigners in Japan, who declare that the 500,000 yen is to be handed over to the priests."

CZAR TO STAY AT HOME.

Rumors of the Russian Ruler's Plans to Visit European Capitals Denied.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE BY W. L. HUBBARD.]

VIENNA, May 16.—According to information received here from ministerial sources in St. Petersburg, all the statements concerning the proposed visit of the Czar to western European courts this summer are incorrect, as he comes neither to Vienna nor goes to Paris, and even a family visit to Darmstadt is not planned. All rumors of his possible going to Bucharest and Sofia, as well as that of the Czar and Czarina going to Rome, are entirely unfounded.

M. Meline Taking an Active Interest in the Fight on the Waldeck-Rousseau Government and Is Said to Have the Friendship of President Loubet—Rumor Again Revived That Kaiser Wilhelm Will Visit the Exposition Incognito.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE BY GRACE CORNEAU.]

PARIS, May 16.—M. Meline is taking an active part in the movement now on foot to bring about a change in the Cabinet. Gossip asserts that President Loubet is not unfriendly to Meline, and it is stated in political circles that in case of an eventual crisis the President would call upon M. Constans, the present French Ambassador at Constantinople, to take the Premiership.

Kaiser and the Exposition.

The German Emperor has designated his brother, Prince Henry, to represent him at the official fêtes at the exposition. The Kaiser, it is announced, will escort Prince Henry as far as Cherbourg, where the official maritime fêtes are to be given. Then, it is asserted, the Kaiser will come on to Paris incognito.

This is the third incognito story that has been started. The grounds for the rumor in the present instance seem to be more authentic, as they came from government sources.

Gyp Will Try to Prove It.

Tonight at the hour of her alleged kidnaping Gyp, accompanied by Chief of Police Cochefert and M. Bouchard, will start from the point where she asserts the crime was committed, and will try and go over the route in order to find the house where she says she was imprisoned. The doctors today examined the wounds in her hands, made, she claims, when she was climbing down the wall.

Mrs. Potter Palmer has assumed active direction of the room, by the courtesy of Commissioner Peck, placed at the disposition of the American women visitors. Mrs. Susan Gale Cooke will preside over the room as custodian.

Special postal facilities have been arranged for women in the United States pavilion, where they can make use of the privilege by having their letters addressed in care of Mrs. Potter Palmer, Box 5, United States Pavilion, Quai d'Orsay, Paris.

Mrs. Palmer hopes that all women's organizations will avail themselves of the facilities at headquarters. Count and Countess Boni de Castellane gave a luncheon in honor of Mrs. Palmer today.

GERMAN REICHSTAG BEGINS DISCUSSION OF NEW MEASURE.

President Ballestrem Makes the Proposed Law the Regular Order of Business, and in the Present Temper of the Radicals Debate Likely to Continue Several Weeks—For a Fifth Cable to England—Street Railway Men in Berlin May Strike.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE BY D. B. MACGOWAN.]

BERLIN, May 16.—President Ballestrem sustained his reputation as a humorist today by placing the meat bill and another knotty problem on tomorrow's order of business, along with the Heinze bill. In the present temper of the Radicals the Reichstag is likely to spend weeks debating any of these three measures.

The Socialists protested against the proposal to include the cost of the Emperor's presents to the Turkish statesmen as a part of the Jerusalem traveling expense account, but the Reichstag today approved the bill.

Asks for Another Cable.

Naval Bill Is Finished.

TAXES THE HIRSCH ESTATE.

British Courts Assess $6,250,000 Death Duties on the Wealth of the Austrian Philanthropist.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE BY ARTHUR L. CLARKE.]

LONDON, May 17, 3 a. m.—The policy of the British government's tax system is exemplified in the decision of Justice Gridley yesterday in holding the Jewish Colonization association, which was appointed by Baron Hirsch to use his vast fortune in the colonizing of poor Russian Jews in America and elsewhere, to pay the government $6,250,000 death duties, this in the face of the fact that the Baron was an Austrian subject, that he died in Austria, and that practically all his estate is located outside of England. The only excuse given for levying the tax is that the association was formed in England to secure the protection of the Crown. An appeal will be made, but since the Attorney General is the moving spirit in behalf of the government it is hardly likely that yesterday's decision will be reversed.

SENDS PARLIAMENT HOME

KING HUMBERT PUTS AN END TO OBSTRUCTIVE TACTICS.

After the Exciting Scenes at Rome the Government Decides It Is Useless to Attempt to Continue the Session—New Elections for Members of the Chamber of Deputies Likely to Take Place in June—Forecast of the Result Unfavorable to Party in Power.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE BY OSCAR DURANTE.]

ROME, May 16.—King Humbert, availing himself of his constitutional prerogative, today issued a decree adjourning Parliament indefinitely. A second decree of formal dissolution is expected to follow almost immediately, with an appeal to the voters in a new election in June.

The King and his Prime Minister, General Pelloux, were compelled to take this step by force of political necessity. The obstructionists, under the leadership of Deputy Giolietti and Deputy Ferri, yesterday demonstrated their ability to block all legislative proceedings. Premier Pelloux decided to solve the difficulty by appealing to the country.

The effect of a new election cannot be foretold. The last general election, in 1897, showed noticeable gains for the Radicals and Socialists. Political events since that time have aided materially in strengthening the Socialist party, and the new election may prove a surprise for the King and his Ministers.

Anglo-Saxon Catholic Alliance.

Archbishop Ireland's efforts towards an Anglo-Saxon Catholic alliance are considered futile in Rome.

It is known that Archbishop Corrigan bitterly opposes Archbishop Ireland's move, but Cardinal Rampolla fears to antagonize Ireland because of the latter's great influence with the American Catholics. Cardinal Rampolla, therefore, favors the alliance, but will never consent to Archbishop Ireland's proposition that the Pope renounce his claims to temporal power. Archbishop Ireland is expected to arrive here soon.

Scope of the Relief Work by Great Britain in India Famine Districts.

LONDON, May 16.—Dealing with the famine in the central provinces of India, which have an area equal to that of Austria and a population of nearly 11,000,000, and which were formerly most prosperous, the Daily Chronicle's correspondent at Bilaspur writes:

"Three miles out from Bilaspur 1,500 persons are busy adding to the long list of tanks constructed by famine labor. Further on stonebreaking is in progress. An able-bodied man earns three cents, women two cents and a half, and children two cents. A full day's toil secures to every worker a sufficiency of food. No work, no pay. The old and feeble are drafted into the weakly gangs. They would be infinitely better in the camp kitchen, which is always open to them.

"The type of relief work described at Bilaspur is found by the hundreds in the central provinces, and the aid given to the able-bodied people seems sufficient, and the kitchens and hospitals are well managed."

TELLS OF CATUBIG LOSS.

WAR DEPARTMENT BRINGS RESPONSE FROM GEN. MACARTHUR.

Successor to Otis, on Request, Gives Further Information Bearing on the Attack on the Samar Garrison by Which the Americans Suffered the Heaviest Loss of the Campaign—Moros' Treatment Considered a Mistake by Army Officers.

Washington, D. C., May 16.—The War department, after waiting nearly a week to hear something from General MacArthur confirmatory of the press report of the three days' engagement at Catubig, which resulted in the heaviest loss of life the American army has sustained in any one engagement in the Philippines, yesterday cabled General MacArthur a request for information.

The answer was received today, confirming the press reports and adding details.

General MacArthur transmitted a report from Henry T. Allen, a Major of the Forty-third Volunteers, who commanded on the Island of Samar, from which it appears that his force was divided among several ports on Samar.

MacArthur Tells of Disaster.

General MacArthur's cablegram is as follows:

MANILA, May 16.—The rumored engagement in Samar, reported in cablegram of General Otis May 4, has been confirmed by reports recently received from Henry T. Allen, Forty-third Regiment United States Volunteer Infantry, commanding Samar Island.

Detachment of thirty-one men stationed at Catubig were attacked April 15 by 600 men with 200 rifles and one cannon. Our men quartered in convent, which was fired next day by burning hemp thrown from adjoining church.

Detachment attempted escape by river. Men getting into boat were killed; remaining men intrenched themselves near river and held out two days longer, facing most adverse circumstances, until rescued by Lieutenant Sweeny and ten men.

Over 200 of attacking party (many of them are reported having come from Luzon Island) reported killed and many wounded. Lieutenant Sweeny reports street covered with dead insurgents.

Moros Treaty a Mistake.

MANILA, April 12.—[Correspondence.]—Experience with the Moros of Mindanao has convinced many officers that the treaty with the Sultan of Sulu was a mistake, and that the cheapest way to deal with the Moros will be to show them no mercy when once they become hostile.

Meat Fraud Charges.

Within the last ten days meat has reached the abnormally high price of $1.50 Mexican a pound. Never before in the history of Manila has it been so expensive. One local newspaper openly charged the meat inspectors with fraud and showing favoritism to certain dealers in passing their cattle, while those of other men were refused clean bills of health. Official inquiry caused the price of meat to drop from $1.50 to 60 cents a pound in twenty-four hours.

PORTO RICAN RELIEF REPORT.

Agent of New York Merchants' Association Says Many Natives Still Need Aid.

SAN JUAN DE PORTO RICO, May 10.—[Correspondence.]—William R. Corwine of the Merchants' association of New York, who is investigating the existing conditions in order to recommend to the Central Porto Rican Relief committee how its surplus of $32,000 could best be spent, will recommend that about $6,000 be expended for an orphan asylum at Ponce, the balance to be proportionately distributed among the hospitals of the various towns and to go toward helping the destitute, in the way of providing proper cooking utensils, etc.

The Central Porto Rican Relief committee will erect and equip the orphan asylum on ground to be donated by the City of Ponce. The municipality is to assume the financial responsibility of its maintenance and support.

"The district around Yauco," said Mr. Corwine, "seems to have suffered the most from the hurricane, and the people there exist among deplorable surroundings. That town is in the center of the coffee district, and even now, nine months after the hurricane, the plantations are not cleaned up. A thousand pounds of relief supplies is being cooked by the authorities per day—cooked because the people are so poor that they have no means of cooking the food themselves.

"On the whole, commercial conditions are on a much firmer footing than a year ago. The sugar industry is on its feet again, and, although the crop this year is short, thousands of tons will be carried on every northbound steamer for some months to come. Tobacco also seems promising. The future for the fruit business in Porto Rico is bright."

NEW YORK'S RECEPTION OF BOER ENVOYS DISCUSSED.

No Exceptions to the Expressions of Opinion by the Leading Newspapers of Gotham—Attitude of the American Government Perfectly Satisfactory to the British Public—Further Details of the Fighting Around Mafeking—Burghers Weary of War.

The [illegible] Times.

LONDON.

THURSDAY (4 A. M.), MAY 17.

[By cable to THE TRIBUNE.]

The Times, in its editorial leader this morning, says:

"The principal New York newspapers which so far have spoken cannot be accused of injudiciously fostering the expectations of Wessels and his colleagues. The Sun, which warmed them with its sympathy as long as they were at a distance, feels constrained to uncover the hard truth by assuring them that the United States cannot help them and that intervention is a dream. The Tribune unkindly reminds them that, if they wanted arbitration, as they declare they do, they ought to have said so before and not after they chose the arbitrament of war.

"Our well informed New York correspondent adds that when Fischer, who mysteriously observes that he and his colleagues have large powers, reaches Washington tomorrow he and they will meet with a more serious disappointment than the candid comments of the newspapers have so far caused them. The answer of the State department, he declares, is quite ready for them whenever they choose to ask it. It is a polite but inexorable non possumus.

"The rumors of the pro-Boer sympathies of President McKinley are believed to be utterly baseless. He is convinced that the country does not wish him to interfere, and also that interference, in all respects, is inexpedient and impossible.

"Wessels seems to fancy he can rouse the country against the government, and, as the first step towards winning over American opinion, he points to the example set by Germany. Unless the Americans are in an unusual frame of mind they will hardly relish the attempts to override the action of their elected rulers and their own judgment by appeals to the sentiment against the military nations of the European continent."

British Entry Into Dundee.

The Times this morning prints the following from its special correspondents:

DUNDEE (Tuesday)—Yesterday's pursuit was so vigorous that the enemy had made no further opposition and completely retired, probably to Laing's Nek. They came through here last night in utter rout. Our scouts arrived here this morning, and a column of both infantry and cavalry arrived later, marching in splendidly. The Boers are destroying the railway behind them.

Details of Mafeking Fight.

LOURENZO MARQUEZ (Tuesday)—There was severe fighting at Mafeking on Friday and Saturday, when a strong force of foreigners, under Commandant Vondelwitz, attacked and carried by storm the native township, driving the defending force back to the police barracks and burning their huts. There was a heavy musketry fire on both sides throughout the day, the assailants finding the rocks of the township ideal cover. According to telegrams from Pretoria on Saturday night, the fighting was still going on. Today it is reported that the British lost fifty men in killed, while the customary two or three only is announced to have been killed on the Boer side. Information, however, is received in Portuguese circles to the effect that the Boers suffered a crushing defeat and the relieving force succeeded in cutting off the storming column. While I am unable to vouch for the accuracy of the latter statement, it is evident, from the tardiness shown by the Boers in disclosing the final result, that their movement failed to accomplish its object.

Persons acquainted with Baden-Powell's scheme of the defense of the town assure me that the occupation of the Kaffir stadt will not endanger the garrison, unless relief is unduly postponed.

Burghers Weary of War.

Talk of the formation of the so-called Amazon corps at Johannesburg and Pretoria is regarded here as the last expedient for rousing the tardy burghers to a sense of their duty. In the Orange Free State and some of the Transvaal districts the authorities have to use force to compel the burghers to go to the front. Desertions are so numerous that severe penalties are prescribed for burghers found jumping from the commando trains.

I learn from an impartial source of a heated discussion in a secret session of the Raad over the expediency of destroying the mines and principal buildings of Johannesburg on the approach of the British. The result of the discussion is unknown, but foreign mining representatives are greatly alarmed and have addressed strong representations to their Consuls. Influential officials among the burghers are vigorously opposing the recourse to violence of this kind.

Changing Chinese Tariff.

PEKING (Wednesday)—With regard to the native produce purchased in the interior for export the Chinese Commissioners delegated to draft proposals for a revision of the tariff suggest the adoption of the plan embodied in article 4 of the Alcock convention of 1869, which Sir Robert sent approval at the time, but which was never ratified.

India's Famine Policy.

BOMBAY (Monday)—The Bombay annual provincial conference came to an end at Satara today. Resolutions were passed approving the famine policy of the government, but regretting the recent modifications which have increased the task given them and decreased wages beyond what was contemplated by the famine code. It is also regretted that the remission and suspension of the land revenue on account of the famine have not been more liberal. Finally, it is urged that the plague rules be uniform and sympathetic so as to avoid vexatious inconvenience, and that the government, not the local bodies, should bear the cost of relief measures.

Boer Envoys in New York.

NEW YORK (Wednesday)—Boer Envoy Wessels says the peace commissioners have received invitations to visit sixty cities. Doubtless many of these are the same cities which lately, at the instigation of New York yellow journalism, closed their gates to "Sapho" as an improper play, but will open them to the Boers, whom these same guardians of public morals now patronize, and for the same reason. They live by sensations, which they provide or promote. Other civilities are offered, and where yellow journalism cannot avail political corruption steps in, and the Mayor imposed on New York by that organized brigandage known as Tammany receives the Boer envoys tomorrow. But there is yet little or no sign of excitement or widespread interest. Serious politicians are waiting for further evidence. The reception which awaits the Boers in Washington will complete the dispersion of their hopes.

GOES TO GARRY HERMANN

FIRST TWO-YEAR-OLD STAKE AT THE LAKESIDE TRACK.

Marklein's Colt, Outrun in the First Part of the Race, Comes Fast at the Finish and Captures the Hammond Stakes in a Gallop—Owensboro Wins at 40 to 1 in the Betting — Poor Field in the Inaugural Stakes Today at St. Louis.

[BY CHARLES E. TREVATHAN.]

The Hammond Stakes for 2-year-olds at four and a half furlongs, with $1,500 added, of which $1,150 to the winner, brought out a field of the best youngsters here yesterday, including Garry Hermann, who was a 1 to 4 favorite. Sig. Levy, at 4, was supposed to be the contender, but Money Muss was well played from 20 down to 10. Sig. Levy was quickest on his stride to a good start and set out to make a hot pace, with Money Muss close up and leading Garry Hermann by a length. Sig. Levy carried his field to the quarter in 24 seconds and the three furlongs in :36¼. Then he began to tire and Money Muss got up even with him and passed him. All this while Garry Hermann was outrun so palpably that his chances looked anything but rosy. But on the stretch bend Knight got him going, and he first passed Sig. Levy and then settled down for a contest with Money Muss. At the furlong pole Knight drew his whip and struck Garry Hermann once or twice. At the end the colt came right away and won in a gallop in the fast time of :55⅕. Money Muss was an easy second and Possart third. Sig. Levy is probably a better colt than his race showed. He was pumped out in the early part and might have done better if he had been walted with.

Outside of the stake feature the racing was not quite up to the Lakeside standard in point of class, but was good, nevertheless. In the opening event for maiden 2-year-old fillies Bonnie Hallie, second choice at 3 to 1, was much the best. She got away well, was in a good position, nicely handled by Knight, and came along at the end, winning easily. Tenny Belle, the 6 to 5 favorite, should have been second. She led into the stretch, but was tiring at the end, and Narvaez put up a rather weak finish, being beaten a neck by Bonitary in the last jumps. The judges did not like the way Narvaez handled the filly and fined him $25.

The second race at a mile resulted in a good contest from end to end. After they struck the first turn Walkenshaw led a close bunch up the back stretch, consisting of Nobleman, Major Mansir, and Gold Fox. A blanket would have covered them. Straightened for home Gold Fox, a 6 to 5 favorite, got through and the finish was between him and Walkenshaw, Gold Fox at the end winning easily, while Walkenshaw stood off the challenge of Cariboo without much difficulty. The latter was bothered on the first turn and was thereafter not well handled. McCann's finish being weak. Nobleman began to stop at the end of six furlongs. Major Mansir ran a race that, with better luck, might have landed him in the money. He was on the outside up the back stretch and went wide on the stretch turn. A stronger boy up could have handled Nobleman to better advantage. Loudon was of no help to him when the pinch came in the run home.

May Beach, who, at light weight, is about the best sprinter at the track, was a 1 to 2 favorite for the fourth race at five furlongs. She got off flying and simply stood her horses on their heads, at once opening a big gap and maintaining her advantage to the end. She won easily from Hermoso, who went into second place at the stretch bend and beat all the others without trouble. Ben Ledi was third. Algareta was apparently outrun from the start, and Narvaez could never get within striking distance, although he made up ground in the stretch. It was one of the fastest races of the meeting, the distance being accomplished in 1:01. Algareta will do much better at six or seven furlongs. She ran a race that should make her win in good company at either of these distances.

In the mile and a quarter event the light-weighted Owensboro, against whom as much as 40 to 1 was on offer, tiptoed his field from end to end. He was tiring at the end, but lasted it out and won handily from Microscope, Schnell-laufer third. The latter and Ben Chance were the favorites at 7 to 5 each. Both were outrun in the early part and lost so much ground they could not get up.

The sixth event was another spread-eagle affair in which La Princessa, at 5 to 1, went right out in front at the start and never gave the others any chance to get near her. She won handily, Barney F. who was second most of the way, in the place, and Tillie W. third. The latter was outrun to the first turn and lost ten or a dozen lengths, but she seemed tucked up, and it is not likely that she could have won even with luck in her favor. She was an even money favorite.

In the last Blue Lick led Monk Wayman, Hub Prather, and Prestar a merry chase into the stretch and had enough left to win in the fast time of 1:41¼ for the mile. Prestar was second and Hub Prather third.

"ALL BETS OFF" AT MORRIS PARK.

Bookmakers' Association Makes the Announcement in the Ring.

New York, May 16.—[Special.]—For the first time since the Percy-Gray racing bill was passed the cry "All bets off" was heard in the betting ring of a racecourse in this State today. The officials have been most particular in refusing to take cognizance of betting on the tracks since the new law went into effect, and have always refrained from giving a decision which involved the settlement of wagers.

The trouble arose through the carelessness of the secretary in allowing the jockey of Maximo Gomez to pass the scales and have his number posted as a starter. The conditions of the race were a "handicap for 3-year-olds and upward, non-winners of two or more races in 1900." Maximo Gomez was not eligible, because he had won a race at Aqueduct and one at Morris Park.

In the betting Maximo Gomez, coupled with his stable mate, Lambert, was second choice to Knight of the Garter. The latter was heavily backed in the first betting at 6 to 5, but, strange to say, Maximo Gomez was left severely alone, while Decanter, the third choice, was backed from 5 to 1 to 4 to 1.

Betting had gone on for some time when it was discovered that Maximo Gomez was not eligible to start. His number was taken down and the announcer said he had been withdrawn. George Wheelock and Eddie Burke, two members of the Layers' committee, then met and, after a short talk, announced that they had decided to declare "all bets off." The decision was a good one. Nobody was injured save those who had got good prices against Knight of the Garter and Decanter. As Wheelock backed Knight of the Garter 6 to 5 and Burke Decanter at 5 to 1, the decision they handed down injured them financially more than the public.

In the new betting Knight of the Garter was a strong favorite at 11 to 20 and Decanter at 11 to 5. Knight of the Garter won after a short struggle.

The feature of the racing was the success of the colors belonging to C. Fleischman's Sons. They won the Laureate Stakes with Bonibert and followed it up with winning a five-furlong dash with Irritable. Both colts were heavily backed.

CELERITAS WINS PREMIER STAKES.

Louisville, Ky., May 16.—[Special.]—Pat Dunne's Iroquois-Ogarua colt Celeritas won the Premier Stakes from a better than fair field of 3-year-olds this afternoon, but it took his life to stand off The Monk and Cleora and he was forced to cover the mile in 1:40¼, within a quarter of a second of the track record. This race was made the medium of a workout for the Oaks by three of the more prominent candidates, Unsightly, Cleora, and Lady Elite. Foneda was the best played animal in the race. With Unsightly out she might have won. Hiner's filly set a clinking pace, leading by daylight to the half in :48¾. From that point Foneda closed fast on her and caught her at the end of five furlongs in 1:01¼. Around the turn to the eighth pole that pair raced each other to pieces, and at the end of seven furlongs in 1:27¼ both were done for. A sixteenth of a mile from home Celeritas appeared to have the race safe, but The Monk and Cleora forced Boland to ride his hardest to land Dunne's colt winner. Figuring from this race McCafferty's filly will be hard to beat in the Oaks.

Anna Bain made her first public appearance this season in the seven-furlong condition affair. Crazy at the post, she got away poorly to a wretched start, with Fleuron and Scarlet Lily off flying. She opened a gap of three lengths on that pair in the first three furlongs, but was beaten rather handily by Fleuron in a fast race.

Silverdale and Sinn, the best 2-year-olds at the track, met with weights up at five furlongs, and Schorr's colt galloped away from the filly.

CHICAGOS THE BETTER MUD LARKS.

They Defeat the Bostons in a Slippery Game, 7 to 4.

After watching the upstart Chicago ball club trounce Selee's champions yesterday afternoon at the West Side park, the conviction was borne in upon the 1,200 who watched the game that Boston has seen better days. To use a racetrack expression, Selee's men seem to have their daubers up. Chicago was leading 2 to 1 and the play was fast and pretty up to the closing minutes of the fifth inning, when a heavy shower delayed proceedings, and the remainder of the game was a sliding, sprawling exhibition in which Loftus' men proved themselves better, wet or dry, and won by a score of 7 to 4.

After the rain came the fun. The men wallowed, fell, and slid around over the slippery field in vain endeavors to head off hits, and the runners shot the chutes from base to base and tobogganed up to the plate—that is, the Chicago runners tobogganed up to the plate, for Boston's efforts to hit Callahan proved futile when the once champions were in great need of hits. Chicago would have beaten Boston in any event, but the sloppy, slippery field made the result uncertain, for the infielders could not move without falling. Callahan was pitching superbly, while Loftus' men kept hammering away merrily and driving Willis' curves around the field through the porous spots and piling up runs. In the ninth Boston rallied, but the distance was too great, and Chicago checked up the fifth straight victory.

There were many pretty fielding feats, and four runners were nailed at the plate, three Chicagoans and one uitlander. Once, after the rain, when Chicago had the bases full, Collins dived out to third, took a mud bath, grabbed in Bradley's hard hit, and, rolling over in the mire, threw to Lowe, completing a wonderful play which brought cheers from the disappointed crowd.

Each team made a run in the first inning. Collins started the proceedings with a hit and Freeman rapped the ball down to Bradley, who scooped it in time to make a double play, but Childs and McCormick got mixed in their signals and both forgot to cover second, letting both runners land in safety. Stahl flied to Mertes, and as Freeman stole second Donahue threw nearly to the clubhouse, letting Collins score. Chicago at once evened up. Childs drew a base, Mertes singled, both advanced on Ryan's long fly, and Mertes scored on an out. Bradley opened the second with a triple to center and scored on an out. The ratio remained unchanged until after the rain, Callahan pitching Boston into a state of despair and Chicago being deprived of tallies by Duffy's throw, which cut Mertes down at the plate.

With one out in Chicago's half of the fifth rain fell, and when play was resumed Childs was at first by virtue of a gift. Mertes jarred the trade mark off the ball and drove it out to the clubhouse. He fell down at first, slid past second, fell again as he came up towards third, and was forced to stop there. Then, as Ryan hit to Barry, Mertes fell down. Barry fell down, but recovered in time to close Mertes' stormy tour of the bases a foot from the plate. Then McCarthy and Everitt singled, but, with the bases full, Collins performed one of his miracles and stopped the proceedings.

In the sixth Boston made four hits, two of them attributable to the wet grounds, yet made but one tally because McCarthy threw Stahl out at the plate.

Then came the winning rally. With two out Callahan singled and Childs bunted safe. Collins unexpectedly permitted Mertes' easy roller to glide between his legs, and with the bases full Ryan drove a hit to left, sending home two runs. McCarthy singled, but this time Duffy was close in and by a pretty throw to the plate caught Ryan, who was following Mertes home.

Three errors by Boston gave Chicago another run in the eighth, and, needing five runs, Boston came to bat. Lowe singled, Barry doubled, and Clarke hit safe. The prospect began to be gloomy, but Clements, who came to bat for Willis, popped a fly to Bradley, and Hamilton struck out. Collins raised the hopes of Boston with a hit, but immediately afterward Bucky Freeman, the home run hitter, razed those hopes by striking out. Score:

CHICAGO.

Notes of the Game.

Admirers in the grand stand yesterday sent huge bouquets to Bradley and Ryan.

Fred Holly, the crack shortstop of the Marquettes, yesterday signed with the Grand Rapids team of the International league.

Ryan made a strange hit in the third. He hit a vicious liner at Willis. The ball struck the elongated pitcher on the arm, caromed, just missing O'Day's head, and went safe over second.

Freeman's hit in the sixth was a scratch. The ball was hit towards Bradley, who took a step and slipped down. As he fell he shoved up one hand and knocked the ball towards McCormick, who might have thrown Freeman out, but he, too, slipped.

The Chicago National league team and the Chicago American league teams are having a close race for honors. The teams have won and lost the same number of games, and, to make the coincidence stronger, both won yesterday by the same score.

Ryan saved a run in the eighth inning. Donahue was trying to score from second on a hit to left and was doomed to certain destruction at the plate. He could not stop in the mud, and swung over third, clawing and sliding. Ryan, who was coaching, grabbed Donahue around the waist, stopped him, and rushed him back to third.

CHICAGO AND MICHIGAN PLAY A TIE.

College Teams Make Eleven Runs Each at Marshall Field.

Michigan and Chicago broke even in the game at Marshall Field yesterday after nine innings of lusty hitting, picturesque errors, and occasional bursts of good baseball. Darkness mercifully put an end to it when the score was 11 to 11.

The first half of the game looked as though it was all Michigan's, but in the sixth inning the maroons began pounding the ball, and did not stop until five men had crossed the plate, making the score 11 to 10 in Chicago's favor. Michigan caught up again in the eighth, but neither side was able to score in the ninth.

Beistle pitched for Michigan. He struck out five men, but his control was poor, and five batters secured first base gratuitously. In the sixth inning he was hit so hard and so frequently that Utley, the freshman pitcher who puzzled Illinois last Monday, was substituted in his place. The maroon batters landed on his curves for two hits and added two more hits in the ninth. Merrifield pitched the entire game for Chicago. He was steady at critical times, but allowed eight hits, including two two-base hits and a home run.

Michigan began the scoring in the second inning. Matteson singled, and Davies sent a home run hit under the east bleachers. In the third three more runs were added, mainly by a succession of maroon errors, assisted by two singles. Chicago scored four times in the third. Ewing went to first on balls. Harper sent a home run out to center field, and crossed the plate at Ewing's heels. Merrifield drew a base, stole second, and took third on a passed ball. Place knocked an easy grounder to Beistle, who made an unsuccessful attempt to catch Merrifield off third. A succession of wild throws took place, and when the smoke cleared away Merrifield was over the plate and Place on third. Place scored on Kennedy's hit.

Michigan added three in the fourth and two in the fifth by good hitting, assisted by vivid errors, and Chicago managed to get two in the fourth. When Michigan took the field in the sixth the score was 10 to 8. Then the tide turned. Ewing got a base, but was forced out at second on Harper's grounder. Merrifield knocked a three-base hit to center. Place lined out a single, Kennedy got first on Matteson's error, and Vernon drew a base. The net result was three scores, one out, and two men on bases. At this point Utley was put in the box. Smith and Van Patten lined out singles, which brought Kennedy and Vernon across the plate, and for the first time Chicago led.

In the eighth Snow was given a base. He went to third while Matteson and Davies were being put out and came in on a wild pitch, the only one made by Merrifield during the game. This tied the score and ended the inning. The ninth was without result and Umpire Tindill declared the game ended on account of darkness.

This will make necessary another game between the two teams, which at present hold equal honors. Score:

Games Today.

Milwaukee at Buffalo.
Minneapolis at Cleveland.
Kansas City at Indianapolis.

Detroit, Mich., May 16.—[Special.]—Chauncey Fisher pitched magnificent ball today and Chicago won the final game of the series with Detroit by a score of 7 to 4. But the pitching of Fisher and the winning of the game by Chicago were but mere incidents in what proved to be an exciting and sensational baseball argument. The real feature of the afternoon's conflict was a "mixup" between Captain Dick Padden of Chicago and Outfielder "Ducky" Holmes of Detroit. The events and incidents leading up to this conflict form the component parts of an interesting story.

It was in Detroit's third inning at the bat and the score stood 4 to 1 in favor of Chicago. Umpire McDonald was in poor form and had nettled Comiskey's men by giving Harley a base on balls. Then Elberfeld came up and knocked an easy grounder, which Hartman "booted," and as a result Harley was on third and Elberfeld on first, when Dillon forced Elberfeld at second, but reached first himself by a close decision. Sullivan was the next man to face Fisher.

Dillon took a lead off first, and Umpire McDonald, who was judging the plays from his position directly behind the pitcher's box, had turned his eyes on the initial bag. He was not watching Pitcher Fisher, who made a balk by making a bluff at throwing the ball to Dowd. McDonald did not see the blunder. Stallings claimed the balk. At first McDonald refused to listen to the claim and told Fisher to pitch the ball. But Stallings was not to be denied. He rushed up at McDonald and began to protest. McDonald listened for a moment and then made the mistake of reversing his decision. Dillon went from first to second. Harley toddled in from third to home. Sullivan dropped his bat and walked to first base. Then came a row.

Padden protested against McDonald's reversal of his original decision. He backed up his argument on this point with another protest against the scoring of Harley's run and the advancing of Sullivan, the batter, to first. McDonald was surrounded by a group of excited ball players. The 1,200 spectators were howling. The tumult from the stand and bleachers and the multifold protests of the players of both teams began to tell on the umpire, and he went to the bad in a hurry; figuratively speaking, "he lost his head." "Wait a moment," he gasped. "Let me look at the rules." They hustled him over to the bench occupied by the Detroit players and somebody handed him a baseball guide. He opened the book, studied the printed rules governing "balks." Then he turned to Padden, who stood at his elbow, and said: "Harley's run scores, but Sullivan must come back and bat again." Captain Padden tried to argue the point, but McDonald ran back to the diamond. Just at this juncture Holmes, who was not in the game and not in uniform, chipped in.

Padden ignored the man at first, but Holmes was not to be denied. He called Padden hard names, names that stung Padden, and then quick as a flash he turned on Holmes and struck at him. The blow did not land, for other players interfered. But in the mixup somebody struck Padden on the head with a bat while Holmes did the disappearing act.

Padden walked back to his position on the field and apparently the incident was closed. But suddenly George Stallings ran out on the diamond, and at his heels were six policemen. Stallings wanted the sergeant commanding this squad of bluecoats to arrest Padden, but it so happened that the sergeant was a sensible man. "I won't take the man off the field," he said, "unless the umpire orders me to do it. If he has seen any assault and tells me to act I will act. How about it, McDonald?"

"I saw no assault," replied McDonald, "and I want you to allow Padden to remain here and play ball." Then, turning to Stallings, McDonald said: "If you do not clear the field and get your batter up I will forfeit the game to Chicago."

Stallings weakened, the police disappeared, the players returned to their positions, and the conflict on the diamond was renewed. Then, stung by the jeers of the populace, Padden and his men settled down to serious work and proceeded to win the game by outbatting, outfielding, and in every way outplaying the Tigers. Fisher was at his best, and this means that Detroit never had a legitimate chance to win. Score:

FAILS TO STAND STRENGTH TEST.

Professional Strong Man Not Up to the Collegiate Standard.

Cambridge, Mass., May 16.—[Special.]—Unger, the professional strong man, who is exhibiting in Keith's Vaudeville Theater in Boston, putting up 300-pound weights and juggling 150-pound balls, was at Harvard today. Mr. Sargent measured him, as he has measured Sandow, Jeffries, Corbett, Sharkey, and many others, and then induced him to try the strength test. Unger had never tried it before, but he proved remarkably weak in many ways. He got but 1,100. There are twenty men in Harvard who have beaten that mark this year, and many more who could without training. Unger's mark is over 700 short of what Cochems did to break the record. He did not equal Cochems in any point of his test. His measurements were not given out.

Academy Field Day Arranged.

The meet will be held on Marshall Field on June 9 and will include, besides all the usual track and field sports, a baseball game between Morgan Park Academy and the South Side Academy. Nine schools will be represented: Princeton-Yale School, Harvard Preparatory, Culver Military Academy, Rugby School, Chicago Manual Training School, Morgan Park Academy, Kenwood Institute, and Dearborn Seminary. The last two, which are girls' schools, will be represented chiefly in the grand stand.

MONEY LOANED TO PARIS.

GOLD MOVEMENT INVOLVES DEAL WITH NEW YORK BANKS.

Enterprises Incident to the Exposition Create a Need in the French Capital for $15,000,000 and the Gotham Financiers Supply the Sum When Other Great Cities Have Been Appealed To in Vain—Roosevelt to Investigate Ice Trust.

NEW YORK BUREAU CHICAGO TRIBUNE, New York, May 16.

Fifteen Million Loaned to Paris.

Within the last fortnight bankers of Paris have, through the Bank of France, negotiated a loan of $15,000,000 from New York bankers. This money is needed to finance enterprises incident to the exposition year in Paris. Since Jan. 1 the Parisian bankers have been attempting to make this loan. They tried in vain to borrow money in Berlin, London, Madrid, and St. Petersburg, and so were forced to turn to New York bankers. They can send money across the Atlantic and lend it at 4 per cent and still make a profit. This is the explanation of the recent shipments of gold to Paris.

The big loan is to be shipped in installments, averaging about $3,000,000 a week. The second installment will go tomorrow, and the movement will continue for about three weeks longer. The loan was negotiated by the National City Bank, and most of the foreign banking houses participated in it.

The members of the syndicate are the National City Bank, Lazard Freres, Goldman, Sachs & Co.; Baring, Magoun & Co.; and Heidelbach, Ickelheimer & Co. These firms last Thursday shipped to the Bank of France $2,800,000. Tomorrow they will ship $3,202,042.

General Benjamin F. Tracy today severed his connection with the law firm of Tracy, Boardman & Platt and became counsel for the firm of Coudert Bros. Frederic R. Coudert Jr. of the firm married General Tracy's granddaughter.

Roosevelt Prepares to Fight Ice Trust.

In view of prospective failure to force a municipal investigation of the ice trust, Governor Roosevelt has taken the matter in hand. He said tonight: "I have had a conference tonight with Attorney General Davies, who called upon me at my request. We went over the ice trust matter in its entirety, and I directed him to begin an investigation at once.

"Of course, as he is to begin the investigation, I do not feel warranted in expressing any opinion at the present time, and I shall remain silent until he has completed his work.

"I can promise, however, that whatever remedy the law affords to protect the people from oppression by this trust will be put in force. I shall be heard from later upon this subject. At the very time Augustus Van Wyck made his great anti-trust speech in the campaign, he was a member of the ice trust."

Developments today indicated that there will be no investigation of the ice trust by the municipal assembly. When President Randolph Guggenheimer arrived at the City Hall he referred the resolution passed by the Council, instructing him to appoint a committee of five for the purpose of probing the trust, to Corporation Counsel Whalen. Mr. Whalen examined the city charter. He called President Guggenheimer's attention to Section 44, in which it is provided that procedure of a special committee from the Municipal Assembly shall be based upon the concurrent action of the Council and Board of Aldermen.

President Guggenheimer will take advantage of this section. Such a resolution to be valid must also be approved by the Mayor and it is not regarded as likely that Mayor Van Wyck would approve of a resolution, even if it were passed by both houses, which would require him to testify concerning his holdings in the American Ice company.

"I hold stock in the American Ice company (ice trust). It is a perfectly legitimate business," said Arthur E. Sewall, who ran with Bryan in 1896, as he left New York this afternoon for his home in Maine.

His defense of the ice trust and the admission that he was a business associate of Mayor Van Wyck and other Tammany men in the ice business came out accidentally while talking politics.

President Elbert H. Gary of the Federal Steel company today declared that he knew of no disaffection among the employés, had heard of no demand for higher wages, and doubted that a strike was contemplated. This was in denial of rumors.

Records Broken for Arrival of Immigrants.

Five thousand five hundred and eighty-two immigrants, the largest number ever received at an American port in one day, arrived at the barge office today. They came in six ships, Grosser Kurguerst bringing 967, the Victoria 1,122, the Westernland 997, the Kaiserin Maria Theresa 416, the Massilia 1,180, and the Teutonic 900.

There were so many immigrants at the barge office tonight it was impossible to find accommodations for them on the station ship Narragansett at Ellis Island, and bunks had to be improvised for more than 800.

The immigrants at the barge office today represented many nationalities. Probably the Italians were in the majority, while the Irish, Germans, and Scandinavians followed close on one another.

Governor Roosevelt was the guest of honor at the annual banquet of the Hungarian Republican club at the Café Boulevard tonight. The affair commemorated the fiftieth anniversary of Hungarian emigration to this country.

Paderewski Sails with His $171,500 Check.

Ignace J. Paderewski and Mme. Paderewski were on the promenade deck of the Oceanic today as the steamship left, and a number of friends were down to see the great pianist leave. Paderewski said he had no plans, except that he would go to Dresden, after a brief stay in England, and prepare his opera, "Manru," for production there in November.

"I have had a fine season in America," he added, "and I look forward with pleasure to my next visit. No, I have made no arrangements for my return here. But I always have liked my American audiences and those Americans whom I have met socially very much."

Hugo Goerlitz, Paderewski's manager, had a check for $171,500 with him, the proceeds of the pianist's American tour.

William Booth-Tucker, the 6-months-old son of Commander and Consul Booth-Tucker of the Salvation Army, died this morning at the home of his parents, 127 West Thirteenth street. It was on account of naming this child William for his grandfather, General William Booth, that General and Mrs. Ballington Booth, the leaders of the Volunteers of America, applied to the courts to have the name of their son, William changed to Charles Brandon Booth.

Sail with Loving Cup for Lipton.

John N. Beach and Edwin P. Benjamin sailed for England on the White Star line steamship Oceanic this morning, taking with them the loving cup which will be presented to Sir Thomas Lipton on May 24. The cup was purchased by popular subscription at a cost of $5,000. Former Mayor William L. Strong, as chairman of the Sir Thomas Lipton Loving Cup committee, appointed Mr. Beach, Mr. Benjamin, John D. Crimmins, General Howard Carroll, and Judge Morgan J. O'Brien to convey the cup to Sir Thomas. Mr. Crimmins and Judge O'Brien are now in Rome with Archbishop Corrigan, and will meet the two commissioners who sailed this morning in London. General Carroll will be prevented from serving on Colonel Strong's Presentation committee by press of business.

The cup is fourteen inches high and is made of eighteen carat gold. It has three handles in the figures of mermaids. On one side of the cup is a figure representing "Welcome," extending one of her hands out to a yacht approaching from the east. In the background the sun is rising over the waters. Underneath the figure is the inscription, "Amicus Amico." On another side is the inscription: "To Sir Thomas Lipton from the American people."

On the third side are the figures of Britannia and Columbia shaking hands.

Brooklyn's Model Tenements Inspected.

Brooklyn's model tenements were inspected today by the Tenement House Commissioners, comprising Former Fire Chief Hugh Bonner, R. W. De Forest, W. J. O'Brien, Myles Tierney, and J. N. Phelps Stokes. With them went Guy Du Val, representing A. T. White, whose Riverside tenements in Furman street were first inspected. These cover an area of 800 feet by 250. The buildings are six stories high and inclose a great central court laid out with fountains and grass plots that serve as a place of recreation and drying ground for the tenants. This feature of the central court, assuring an abundance of light and air, recommended itself particularly to the commissioners.

Another feature considered admirable was a system of exterior staircases. The commissioners found no dark rooms and the arrangement of roof playgrounds was highly recommended.

Apartments of two, three, or four rooms rent at an average of 75 cents a room. The tenants include Scandinavians, English, Scotch, Irish, and Italians. Absolute cleanliness and order were found.

Riches, Smoke, and Suit for Divorce.

Alexander Kirkland Taylor, who lives at the Waldorf-Astoria, and is a brother of Talbot J. Taylor, the Wall street broker, has been sued for separation by his wife, Annie Eugénie Taylor. Justice Andrews of the Supreme Court today granted an order providing for a commissioner to take the testimony of thirty-eight witnesses in the case in Philadelphia. The Taylors are well known in this city, in Philadelphia, and Washington.

Mr. Taylor looks after the bond business of Talbot J. Taylor & Co., bankers and brokers of 30 Broad street, and, his wife says, has a salary of $10,000 a year. The firm is composed of Talbot J. Taylor, who married the daughter of James R. Keene, and James B. Taylor, with Foxhall Keene as special partner.

Mrs. Taylor is the daughter of the late John Anderson Miller, a rich New-Yorker, and is related to the Schieffelins and Vanderpools. Mrs. Taylor charges her husband with cruelty. Among the other things she alleges that at one time he tightly shut the room in which they were and smoked it full of cigaret smoke to annoy her.

Astor Must Pay Personal Property Taxes.

The Commissioners of Taxes and Assessments have decided that William Waldorf Astor must pay personal taxes in New York for 1899. It was to "swear off" these taxes that Mr. Astor came here from London last year. He became a British subject soon after his return to London. While here he made affidavit that he had been a resident of London since 1895, but the commissioners decide that, as he paid personal taxes without protest in 1896, 1897, and 1898 on a $2,000,000 valuation in this city, he should continue to pay up to the date of taking the oath of allegiance to the Queen. The reasons of the commissioners are set forth in a return just filed in the Supreme Court by Corporation Counsel Whalen to the writ of certiorari obtained last summer by Mr. Astor.

Death in Leap from Brooklyn Bridge.

August A. Pless, 25 years old, of 40 Vandewater street, a newspaper delivery man, jumped from the Brooklyn bridge, about 250 feet east of the Manhattan tower, at 2:15 o'clock this afternoon, and was drowned by being run down by a New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad float. Pless' companions say he made the leap to gain notoriety. His mother, however, declares otherwise. She says her son jumped from the bridge because his sweetheart jilted him.

Patrick McCormack, another newspaper delivery man, and William J. Gleason, a driver, on whose truck Pless and McCormack rode part way across the bridge, were arrested. McCormack was held by the police for further questioning. Gleason was discharged.

Pless, his friends say, had been boasting to them that he could make the jump with safety. McCormack denies that he knew Pless intended to make the leap.

Chicago Boy's Plans for Overland Trip.

James Ward Thorne of Chicago, a senior of Princeton University, has surprised the college by his decision to drive to the Pacific coast in a covered wagon. He has been carefully planning the trip for several weeks and worked so quietly that all arrangements were made before his friends were aware of his purpose.

The wagon in which he will travel was built to order. It resembles a grocer wagon, but is more commodious. It is so constructed as to be readily converted into kitchen, living room, and bedroom. The wheels are heavily rubber tired.

Thorne said today that he is going on a pleasure trip, not to make a record, and will jog along at an easy pace, putting up at hotels where good ones are to be found, and doing his own cooking where hotel accommodations are poor.

He will leave Princeton tomorrow morning unaccompanied, but will be joined later by "Jack" Ralston of Chicago, who was graduated from Princeton last year; G. L. Denny of Indianapolis, a classmate, and E. B. Meigs of Philadelphia, also a member of the senior class.

Waltz of Death at Hackensack Golf Club.

A sad incident at the reception held Tuesday night in the new house of the Hackensack Golf club was the death of one of the guests, Miss Florence Ellsworth Goldschmidt, the 18-year-old daughter of Edwin H. Goldschmidt, a New York lawyer and an officer of the club. Miss Goldschmidt collapsed after dancing a waltz. She was carried to one of the rooms up-stairs and Dr. L. White was summoned. Everything possible was done for her, but she died at 2 a. m. today, at about the time the throng was leaving the brilliantly illuminated clubhouse where she was stricken.

Only a few of the dancers were made aware of the collapse of Miss Goldschmidt, as it was hoped she would soon recover. The young woman had been subject to heart trouble.

THREE DIE BY HOTEL FIRE

FOUR OTHERS SERIOUSLY AND PERHAPS FATALLY INJURED.

Samuel G. MacHatton Expires at Hospital—Charred Bodies of Charlotte and Lena Pearson Taken from Ruins—Brave Work of Rescuers Saves Many Lives — Loss to Property Is Large—Investigation as to Origin of Flames.

Three persons are dead, four seriously and perhaps fatally injured, and nearly a dozen are suffering from burns, cuts, and broken bones as a result of the fire which swept from basement to roof of the Hotel Helene, 110-114 Fifty-third street, at 3 o'clock yesterday morning. A feature of the fire was the large number of heroic rescues.

The Dead.

MACHATTON, SAMUEL G., 36 years old; real estate man for American Trust and Savings Bank; found at head of stairs unconscious; burned about face and body. Taken to Chicago Hospital. Died at 1:20 p. m.

HOTEL HELENE FIRE VICTIMS AND RESCUERS.

The Seriously Injured.

Allen, Mrs. T. D., jumped from third floor and spine injured; taken to Lakeside Hospital; recovery possible.

Florence, Miss Elizabeth, 22 years old, milliner, dropped from third story to sidewalk; internal injuries and concussion of brain; taken to Chicago Hospital.

Horn, W. F., 32 years old; clerk in Grubb's pharmacy, Fifty-third street and Lake avenue; burned about face and body; taken to Chicago Hospital.

The Slightly Injured.

Joseph, Miss Helen, 35 years old, bruised about body; taken to Mercy Hospital.

Miller, Stella, chambermaid, slid down W. T. L. Morrow's fire escape rope; nervous prostration; taken to 5506 Lake avenue.

Fireman James Costin, Hook and Ladder 15, and Policeman Thomas Morgan, whose backs were wrenched in carrying women down a ladder in the rear of the hotel, were both at work yesterday afternoon. Mrs. W. L. Bruce and her baby, both slightly burned, and Mrs. W. E. Taylor, whose hands were slightly burned, were taken to 5211 Cornell avenue.

Mr. MacHatton was the real estate man of the American Trust and Savings Bank, where he had been employed about two years. He was a member of the Third Presbyterian Church. He went to the Hotel Helene but three weeks ago, when he broke up housekeeping with his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. MacHatton, who then went to live with their daughter, Mrs. E. H. Thorpe, 4343 Lake avenue. Mr. MacHatton tried to leave the building by the front stairway, reached the first floor, and fell half conscious.

"I was vaguely conscious of what was going on," said Mr. MacHatton a few hours before he died, "and felt some one stumble over me. The shock rendered me unconscious, and when I recovered an officer was holding me in his arms and was trying to lift me into a wagon."

The two Pearson girls came from the country near Wermland, Sweden. They were not related. Charlotte had been at the hotel more than a year, and before that was in Traverse City, Mich., with Miss Edith Engstrom, a sister of her brother's wife. Two weeks ago Lena Pearson, who arrived in this country last September, gave up another position at the solicitation of her friend Charlotte, and went to work at the hotel. Charlotte has two brothers, Gustave and Charley, who live in Cadillac, Mich. They were notified.

Work of the Rescuers.

No one has given a satisfactory explanation of the fire's origin. When it was discovered by Porter James McNeill it had eaten upward from the basement nearly to the roof. Thirty persons were distributed through the fifty rooms and McNeill's cries were the first warnings to most of the guests.

In a third floor flat in a building to the rear were Isaac and Nathan Herzka and J. M. Lockert. These, with William J. Pretschold and Hogan Anderson, got ladders and began the work of rescuing people from the fire escapes, which did not reach within twenty feet of the ground. Twelve men and women were saved by these men, many coming down ladders that rested on their shoulders.

In front Policeman John Vaughn held a ladder on his shoulder, while Policeman Thomas Morgan brought down three women and one man in safety.

Porter McNeill, who had risked his life awakening guests, brought Miss Helen Joseph to a front window and down a ladder held by Sergeant Mullens and Policemen John Ward and Richard Wolf. He went back into the smoke and flames and brought out Stella Niewolkski, who had been overcome by the smoke.

After the work of rescue was completed Porter McNeill disappeared from the scene of the fire and up to an early hour this morning he had not been seen again by any of his acquaintances. It was supposed that he had gone into retirement for rest and to recover from his bruises.

T. D. Allen carried his wife to the roof, where she became panic stricken, and, though warned not to jump, broke from her husband and leaped into the street. Her back was broken. Seeing his wife disappear Mr. Allen followed her to the pavement, but escaped serious injury.

The hotel was conducted by F. W. Young and the building was owned by Mrs. Sarah C. Flood, wife of Dr. T. H. Flood of Hyde Park. The building was insured for $10,000. The loss is estimated at $7,000.

Chief Swenie says that the building was a firetrap, and that the work of engine company No. 60 and hook and ladder companies Nos. 15 and 16 was admirable.

"The men will be given honorable mention for bravery," he said, "and all should be promoted."

"The building was a firetrap of the World's Fair times," said Deputy Building Commissioner O'Shay, "and was always a dangerous structure. It was certain that if a fire occurred in it at night there would be trouble in the occupants getting out. The fire escape law did not apply to the building."

In connection with the origin of the fire the police are looking for the night clerk, Henry Fredericks, who unaccountably disappeared after the fire was under control. It is thought he may know something about how it started.

CANAL BILL REPORT IN SENATE.

Committee Advocates Early Action on Nicaragua Route Without Waiting Formalities.

Washington, D. C., May 16.—The Senate Committee on Interoceanic Canals today, through its chairman, Senator Morgan, presented its written report upon the Nicaragua Canal bill. The report includes the statements of Admiral Walker and other members of the commission appointed to investigate the various routes for an interoceanic canal, and also the conclusions of the committee with reference to both the Nicaragua and the Panama routes.

The committee announces its conclusion to be that Congress should provide means and authority for constructing a canal by the Nicaragua route and leave it to the President to deal with any questions of a diplomatic sort that may be raised by other nations in the progress of the work.

FALLS FROM THE SIXTH STORY.

Henry Thale, an Iron Worker, Is Killed Instantly — Albert Cannon and Thomas Kebliriel Injured.

Henry Thale, an iron worker, fell six stories at the new Western Electric company's building, in Clinton street, and was killed instantly yesterday. Thale lived at 109 Wells street. He was working on a scaffold hanging over an area way and lost his balance.

Albert Cannon, 1211 State street, and Thomas Kebliriel, 478 State street, both colored, may die from injuries caused by falling three stories down the airshaft of a building at 505 East Forty-third street. While whitewashing the shaft the scaffold on which they were standing broke. Cannon's skull was fractured and his right thigh was broken. Kebliriel's spine was injured. The men were taken to the Provident Hospital.

Frank Davidson fell from the eighth story of the building at 108 and 110 Jackson street. He was walking on a narrow wall and lost his balance. Davidson lived at 4556 State street.

Charles E. Alquist, 40 years old, who came from Hancock, Mich., fell down-stairs in the Svea Hotel, 17 Milton avenue, and was killed instantly.

ROOT UPHOLDS ARMY CANTEEN.

Secretary of War Says Its Abolition Would Not Serve the Purposes Intended.

Washington, D. C., May 16.—Secretary Root today sent to Chairman Hull of the House Committee on Military Affairs an exhaustive collection of opinions on the question of the "army canteen," gathered by Adjutant General Corbin from every branch of the military service. The inquiry was made because of the introduction of a bill to prohibit the sale or dealing in beer or any intoxicating liquor on any military premises.

Lincoln, Neb., May 16.—[Special.]—Two hundred University of Nebraska students organized themselves into a mob tonight, assaulted, beat, and broke the leg of Policeman Anthony Harr, rapped Chief of Police Hoagland smartly on the head and shoulders, smashed the station windows, and all escaped without arrest.

FAIL TO END CAR STRIKE.

EXECUTIVE BOARD REFUSES COMPROMISE TERMS.

Agreement Made by Grievance Committee and Company's Representatives Not Ratified by Men — Traffic Resumed on Many Lines—Imported and Non-Union Men Being Engaged —Suburban Line Trouble Settled and Is Being Overworked.

St. Louis, Mo., May 17.—[Special.]—Proposals made by the St. Louis Transit company to the strikers were rejected at midnight by the Executive board of the latter and this rejection was subsequently indorsed by the officers of 95 per cent of the trades unions in St. Louis.

The proposals were submitted in the form of a joint agreement by the Transit company's officers to the strikers' grievance committee after an eight-hours' conference at the Planters' Hotel. This committee declined to accept the proposition, but agreed to transmit it to the strikers' Executive board, which was done with the result stated.

The Executive board instructed the Grievance committee to renew negotiations with the Transit company and at the same time announced that a mass-meeting of the strikers will be held tonight (Thursday) at some place to be designated during the day.

The proposals which were rejected by the strikers contemplated the concession of only a few minor demands. They included the provision that all the employés of the company would be permitted to join any union they chose. But it was stipulated that all the men now out would apply for reinstatement in their old positions, attaching to their applications affidavits that they had in no manner aided, abetted, or sympathized with the demonstrations against the present non-union employés of the company.

The strikers claim it would be impossible for any of them to make such an affidavit.

Cars Run on Many Lines.

In the meantime traffic along the lines of the St. Louis Transit company's system is gradually assuming a semblance of the conditions existing before the strike. None of the 3,325 striking street car employés has returned to work, but cars are being operated with the help of non-union men, many of whom have been secured from outside St. Louis.

Additional cars are being run on the lines that have been operated for the last few days, and other branches have been reopened to traffic.

The Suburban road, which has entirely resumed traffic on all its lines, is doing an immense business, the cars being packed during the twenty-four hours.

Imported Men Arrested.

Sixty-two men from Cleveland arrived during the day to work for the St. Louis Traction company. While the men were in the lunchroom at Union Station Patrolmen Dixon and Robertson searched them. In the pockets of three of them were found revolvers. These men—William J. Anderson, William Kelly, and Frank Curtis—were arrested.

Chief of Police Campbell later ordered the release of the three strangers, declaring that incoming men may carry revolvers until they reach their homes.

Talk of Violated Franchise.

Attorney General Crow, who had returned to Jefferson City from here, was seen there yesterday, and said if the Transit company was violating its franchise requirements, and that fact can be established, he will institute proceedings at once to revoke its franchise.

This statement was in reply to a telegram sent by Secretary Mack Missik of the Street Car Men's union, setting forth that although the company has ample police protection it is not operating cars on some of its lines, and reminding the Attorney General of his promise to have the franchise revoked under certain conditions.

THURSDAY, MAY 17, 1900.

The Presbyterian General Assembly. The Presbyterian General Assembly, which begins its sessions today in St. Louis, will be the supreme representative of 7,657 churches, 7,312 ministers, and about a round million of communicants. Among the subjects which are likely to come up for discussion are the decline in the number of candidates for the ministry, the liberalism of the Union Theological Seminary, the withdrawal of Professor McGiffert and some others, the status of Herman Warszawiak, the converted Jew, who has made so much trouble for the church, and the revision of the Westminster confession by the elimination of two or three sections, or the formulating of a briefer creed, while the confession is retained for the sake of its historical associations. While the action of the assembly on this subject will be limited to discussion, or at most reference to a committee to report to the next assembly, the discussion will be none the less interesting and will make the occasion one of the most important in the history of the church.

Aldermen Want Their Salary Increased. The Illinois Legislature will not meet for over seven months. The Chicago Aldermen are already considering the legislation they would be pleased to see it adopt. There is one measure which Republican and Democratic members of the Council look on as of peculiar importance. It does not relate to the improvement of the primary elections law or of the river, to the betterment of the special assessment system or of the revenue law. It contemplates doubling Aldermanic salaries—paying $3,000 a year where $1,500 is paid now. Even those Aldermen who have been in office only a little over a month feel, with hardly an exception, that they are worth more than $1,500 a year. There are men in the Council who earn in their private business more than $3,000 a year. There are others who never have earned so much, and probably never will. Yet they all agree that their work on committees is so laborious and valuable that their wages should be raised. Such is the single-minded determination of men who work for this kind of legislation that it is not at all unlikely the Chicago Aldermen will succeed in their quest. The next General Assembly may not enact any law which will benefit the city or the mass of the inhabitants. Presumably it will do something to make life easier for seventy Aldermen.

The Yale Forest School. The Forest School, made possible by a recent gift of $150,000 for that purpose, is the latest addition to the curriculum of Yale College. The gift not only provides for this department in the college, but also for a summer school upon the Pennsylvania estate of Mr. James W. Pinchot, the donor, a large woodland tract having been placed at the disposal of the school for twenty-one years. Mr. William Rockefeller has also offered large tracts in the Adirondacks for practical forest instruction and will provide camps for the accommodation of the students. The Governing board has also selected considerable areas of forest land near New Haven, where students will be given practical work. During the first year short courses of lectures will be given on State and national forestry and special lectures on forest law and lumbering. The regular course covers a period of two years. The first year's course includes the growth and production of trees and forests, the establishment of forest plantations, and how to make thinnings and other classes of cuttings, while the second year is devoted to advance technical work in the classroom and in the field. "Old Eli" is to be congratulated upon the inauguration of this important department, and it is to be hoped other colleges may be enabled by generous donors to follow its example.

Political Geography. The country newspapers seem to be more impressed by the fact that Chicago has no representative on the State ticket and that the Eighteenth District has two representatives than they are by any other feature of the recent Illinois Republican convention. Nearly every newspaper published in a small town has called attention to the unusual conditions. They seem to fear that Cook County will resent it, being unable to realize that political geography counts for little in Chicago, where no one cares especially whether the Attorney General, for instance, comes from the northern or the southern part of the State. The interest in the Governorship is somewhat greater, but a good man from the interior is more pleasing than would have been an undesirable candidate from the city. The disregard of political geography is indeed a happy omen, and it is to be hoped that it will establish a precedent to be followed at future conventions. In the United States as in no other country sectional lines are drawn. For instance, the five best fitted men to represent Chicago in Congress might all live in the same district, and yet while it would be legal for four of them to be chosen for other districts, they never would be. This kept Major McKinley out of Congress when the Canton district had been gerrymandered. So in regard to State offices. There should be no prejudice against filling two, three, or even all of the offices on the State ticket with men from Cook or any other county if they happened to be the best fitted. Yet, as conditions are now, such a disregard of boundary lines between minor civil divisions would astonish the State.

REPUBLICANS AGAINST "TRUSTS."

The anti-trust constitutional amendment and bill which have been reported to the House of Representatives by the Republican majority of the Committee of Judiciary must be taken as a declaration of the position of the Republican party towards monopolistic combines rather than as measures which are to become law in the near future. The Democratic members of the committee voted against reporting the constitutional amendment. If other Democrats assume the same attitude the resolution will not get the necessary two-thirds vote. Those Democrats have not said yet what they think of the bill drafted by their Republican colleagues to restrain the evils of trusts. Even should they favor it its passage at this session, which is near its close, or at the next, which will be so brief, is more than doubtful. It will be debated at great length by the constitutional lawyers in the House and Senate before it becomes a law.

The committee's bill which adds several sections to the Sherman anti-trust law, so as to reach manufacturing "trusts," differs in only a few respects from the measure drafted by the subcommittee which was published a few weeks ago. The latter provided for the branding of "trust" goods. That requirement has been dropped. A proviso has been added that articles of commerce made by "trusts" shall be exempt from seizure when shipped from one State to another if carried "for the use of the consignor or consignee." This is a recognition of the right of the purchaser of "trust" goods to ship them wherever he pleases, while if the "trust" were to ship those goods before parting with the ownership they would be subject to seizure. A "trust" can under the bill be enjoined from carrying on any interstate or foreign commerce and be denied the use of the mails.

The constitutional amendment which has been proposed gives Congress power "to define, regulate, control, prohibit, or dissolve trusts, monopolies, or combinations whether existing in the form of a combination of otherwise." Whether this amendment would be ratified were it to get the necessary two-thirds vote in Congress is doubtful. It certainly could not be without the votes of Democratic States in the South which are no more ready now than in the past to approve of measures which increase the powers of the national government. This measure proposes to do that to a marked degree by giving Congress unlimited power over the industries of the country.

The report of the Judiciary committee deserves consideration from a political rather than a legislative point of view. If the Republican National convention inserts in its platform an anti-trust plank which indorses the recommendations of that committee it will be impossible for the Democrats when they hold their convention two weeks later to adopt a more radical program regarding combines. If they are willing to go so far as to amend the constitution to give Congress more power their plank will be a mere echo of that of the Republicans. If they are not, then their plank will be the weaker one.

With both parties denouncing "trusts" in their platforms and on the stump with about the same degree of energy it will be impossible to make an effective political issue out of those offensive organizations. If there is to be any advantage it will be on the side of the Republicans, for their representatives in Congress have proposed radical, far-reaching legislation, while the Democrats have merely introduced some petty, inconsequential bills.

CHICAGO NICKELS FOR LONDON.

Precisely what the schemes are which Mr. Yerkes has in mind in the way of rapid transit enterprise in London and concerning which he recently appeared before the Highways committee of the London County Council has not yet been made plain at this distance. Chicago people will naturally be interested in watching the development in the metropolis of the world of any rapid transit schemes made possible on the basis of millions derived by gleaning their nickels.

There are certain significant facts, however, to be noted in connection with rapid transit development not only in Great Britain in general but in London in particular which raise presumptions at least against such schemes as Mr. Yerkes is accustomed to promote in this country, and which make it appear that he would scarcely be able to operate there with the free and unconstrained hand, especially respecting fares, which he has been able to exercise in this city. For example, not only are forty out of the fifty-four tramway bills in the present session of Parliament being promoted by municipalities for municipal systems or extensions, but the London County Council is especially active in plans for adding new lines with underground electric equipment to those which it has already for more than a year been operating with success and at a financial profit, although collecting only a one-cent fare from 50,000,000 out of its total of 117,000,000 passengers, and a two-cent fare from 50,000,000 more of those passengers. The hours of the employés on the Council's lines were also reduced on the 1st of May from something over eleven per day—approximately what they were prior to the assumption of the lines by the Council—to ten hours per day, and other improvements in the conditions of the men have been introduced under municipal management. If Mr. Yerkes can successfully compete with these facts in London it would seem that there might be some interesting lessons from his experience there to be derived by his large clientele of nickel contributors in Chicago. He would certainly be the last to admit that private ownership in Chicago could not achieve as remarkable results in low-priced service as public ownership in London.

No Strikes in Indiana. While her sister States are the scene of bitter struggles between capital and labor, Indiana boasts that there is not a strike within her boundary lines. The statement is made by Labor Commissioner L. P. McCormack, who keeps close watch on such affairs and has correspondents in every town to furnish him with instantaneous news. The Labor Commissioner said Monday that industrial peace existed throughout the State. As a result of the state of affairs business is so active that there is not a man in the State who is idle for want of something to do. The commissioner's reports tell him of hundreds of factories that are working overtime and yet are unable to keep up with their business. The demand for workingmen has made wages high and many employers have voluntarily granted increases. At the same time the experience of the employés, especially during recent troubles, such as those between the glassworkers and their employers and between the coal miners and operators, have not served to encourage strikes.

OPENING OF THE SILLY SEASON.

This is to celebrate the opening of the annual silly season. The first reliable symptom of its arrival was the regular announcement that the Michigan peach crop had been killed. Fast on its heels came the stanch old stories from Ohio and Indiana telling how all the attendants at a couple of church sociables had been poisoned by eating chicken salad and strawberry shortcake. Then the Kansas and Nebraska delegations took the alarm and dragged the faithful chinch bug from his hiding place in the files of last year's newspapers. As usual the chinch bug, assisted by the perennial grasshopper, is destined to destroy the grain crop "unless something is done to check its ravages." As usual, also, the chinch bug and his partner in crime will "strangely disappear" within a few weeks.

If further proof were needed to convince doubters that the silly season is upon us it is furnished by the fact that the "man who rocks the boat" has already begun work, several weeks ahead of scheduled time, on several of the Wisconsin lakes. And the early morning milk train has already mangled several confiding farmhands who laid down to sleep on the railroad track after spending the night in mirth and revelry.

It is true that the enterprising Hoosier who regularly discovers the enormous spotted adder in the wilds of Pink Mink Marsh has not yet been heard from, but that is doubtless an oversight on his part and will be made up with interest before the season is over.

So far there is little reason to hope that the current season will furnish much in the way of novelty. A New York farmer has committed suicide because he feared the coming eclipse of the sun would spoil his crop of rutabaga turnips, and New York Democrats are talking of nominating "Jim" Corbett for Congress, but otherwise there has been nothing out of the ordinary course. The political campaign is still in the future, however, and there is no telling what that may develop. The census enumerator, who desires information as to the maiden name of a man's great-grandmother on his father's side, also offers some possibility of variety. Otherwise people shall probably have to be content with the good old friends of their childhood.

There is no reason to doubt that this year as of old little Willie, with his toy pistol, will on the Fourth of July bring the annual silly season to its climax.

WINTRY CURLS.

In a little volume of essays entitled "The Ways of Men," which includes, of course, the ways of women, Mr. Eliot Gregory puts in a plea for the return of the old lady. If asked, says the author, "what one weakness was most characteristic of modern women, what peculiarity marked them as different from their sisters in other centuries, I should unhesitatingly answer, 'the desire to look younger than their years.'" Mr. Gregory thinks that the majority of mature women are engaged in imitating the example of Holmes' "My Maiden Aunt," and are training their "wintry curls" in "springlike ways." And above these frosty locks women place what the author calls "cocky little bonnets" which give an uncanny and weird effect, and only serve to bring down ridicule upon their foolish wearers.

Of course, this writer has tradition and men upon his side, for it has always been a common superstition that women love to cheat Father Time at the game of life, and it must be confessed that there are combinations of "wintry curls" and summery bonnets which justify the tradition. But the tendency of the age seems to be to find in each of life's seasons the native charms and beauties and not to expect, as Mrs. Browning said, to find moss roses blooming in the snow. The majority of Mr. Gregory's feminine readers will resent this libel and will think that the author had better confine himself to interpreting the "ways of men."

CORBETT'S AMBITION.

Mr. James J. Corbett is in a mood to solace himself for his recent defeat by Mr. Fitzsimmons and Mr. Jeffries by running for Congress in a New York City district, and the Tenderloin has started a boom for him. Most pugilists, after they have been satisfactorily disposed of in the ring, open a whisky shop, as no other business offers such advantages in the way of becoming one's own best customer. Mr. Corbett, however, is disposed to emulate the example of the late Mr. Morrissey, though the cases are hardly parallel. When Mr. Morrissey was elected to Congress he was flushed with victory over Heenan, and no one appeared who was willing to contest the championship with him. His election was the reward of a victor. Mr. Corbett's election would be a compensation for defeat, but seats in Congress are not offered as consolation prizes. Again, Mr. Morrissey was an excellent business-man, but Mr. Corbett has not shown any talent in that direction. His case more nearly resembles that of Mr. John L. Sullivan, who, after he had been defeated in the ring, offered himself as a candidate for Congress in a Boston district. His boom, however, promptly exploded, whereupon he opened a saloon. Mr. Corbett's fate will probably be similar to Mr. Sullivan's.

Mr. Corbett's qualifications for a seat in Congress, as stated by himself, are that political life has attractions for him, that he does not see why he should not run as well as the next man, and that he is "as good a Democrat as ever breathed," which is not unlikely when taken in connection with his further remark that he has "never given the great topics of the day more than a passing thought." This is characteristic of many Democrats. His friends are urging him for the position because he can wear a dress suit with grace and because he is a natural politician and is always diplomatic. The dress suit argument does not cut much of a figure, for many Tenderloin electors have a decided aversion to dress suits and regard men who wear them as haughty aristocrats. His gifts as a natural politician are of an uncertain sort. A natural politician would not have to train for the place, as he expresses himself willing to do. His diplomatic ability is still more uncertain. A man with such a boastful habit and such an untiring industry of jaw as he manifests can hardly be called diplomatic.

And yet stranger things than Mr. Corbett's election to Congress have happened in politics, but if the voters of his district are wise they will sternly suppress his candidacy at the outset. If he should be nominated, which would be equivalent to an election, it would set a dangerous precedent. The political contagion would spread all over the country. Prize-fighters now constitute a formidable business class in every city. The ring would furnish a generous proportion of the candidates. If Mr. Corbett should get a seat in the House Mr. Fitzsimmons, Mr. Jeffries, Mr. Sullivan, Mr. McCoy, Mr. Jackson, Mr. McGovern, Mr. O'Rourke, Mr. Walcott, Mr. Choynski, and numerous other gentlemen of their sort might have a similar ambition, and if they should organize machines to capture conventions it is not easy to see how they could be prevented, especially in these latter days, when conventions are often controlled by violence. Mr. Corbett is flying too high, especially for a man who has been knocked out twice in succession. If political life has attractions for him, as he says, let him apply for a position as Sergeant-at-Arms. He is amply qualified for such an office, and it would save him the trouble of training on the great topics of the day, to which he has never given "more than passing thought."

THE HELENE HOTEL FIRE.

Fire in a crowded hotel late in the night can scarcely fail to be terribly disastrous, but the fire that destroyed the Helene Hotel in Fifty-third street at 3 o'clock yesterday morning would not have been so destructive of life and limb if the building had been properly provided against danger of this kind. It was only a three-story structure, but that is no reason why it should not have been built with more than one available exit and properly furnished with fire escapes. No hotel with a hundred rooms can be called safe when it has no better provision against fire than this structure possessed. Two persons burned to death and more than a dozen injured, several fatally, form too large a list of casualties even for a night fire. If it had not been for the heroic rescues achieved by the police, the firemen, and the brave porter of the building the destruction of life would have been still more appalling.

The fault lay in the lack of adequate means of escape. Why were there no fire escapes on the front of the building? There were two fire escapes on the rear, but they ended so far from the ground as to be practically useless. When the fire cut off access to these and to the single entrance in the front there was absolutely no means of escape for the occupants of a hundred rooms except jumping from the windows or the roof. It is an error to suppose that a three-story building is not high enough to require abundant means of escape from fire, especially when it is used as a hotel and may at any time contain 200 people. It should be impossible for the blocking of the main entrance to cut off all way of escape.

One result of the Helene Hotel fire should be the awakening of the Building Inspector's department to the need for more rigid requirements in such structures. Every building intended for hotel purposes should have several exits and these should be required to be kept in such condition that they can always be used in case of sudden emergency. The need for fire escapes at both front and rear is so evident that it should not have to be pointed out. Undoubtedly there are more firetraps of this kind in the same part of the city, and it will be well for the inspectors to attend to them before there are any more tragedies like that of yesterday morning.

CLARK'S SMART TRICK.

The United States Senate is a dignified body. It does not like to be made fun of and to become the ridiculous victim of false pretenses. The Senators who congratulated Senator Clark of Montana day before yesterday, when they believed he had resolved to get out and thus relieve them from the unpleasant duty of putting him out, naturally are furious. They have been bunkoed out of much sympathy. Not one of them will speak of Clark as a "good fellow" or strain a point to seat him.

The trick which has been played on the Senate is a smart one, but it is not likely to succeed. The Governor of Montana is not a friend of Clark. The Lieutenant Governor is. The former was beguiled out of the State and the latter became Acting Governor. The coast being clear Clark sent in his resignation and thereupon the Acting Governor appointed him Senator to fill the vacancy. So Clark has a new title and claims a seat by virtue of appointment instead of election. He has changed his base adroitly before the Senate has had an opportunity to act on the resolution declaring the seat vacant, a resolution which would have been adopted, as Senator Clark well knew.

He has strengthened his position a little, though he has acquired much ill will. The Senate may go ahead and adopt the resolution declaring his seat vacant—declaring in effect that the Legislature failed to elect. Then, according to the decision recently made in the Quay case, which was a reiteration of earlier decisions, the Governor can not appoint. There is, however, a large minority in the Senate which holds the Governor can appoint when the Legislature has failed to elect. On the other hand, that minority does not approve of Senator Clark's sharp practice and will be in no haste to vote in his favor. The longer he has to cool his heels in the lobby the better will it suit all the Senators.

As for the public, it views Senator Clark's conduct with disapproval. If he had resigned for good and all, as it was supposed at first he had done, it would have been said that he had behaved well at last. Now that it appears he is seeking to retain by trickery and quasi fraud a seat he got by bribery the general voice of condemnation will be heard more loudly than ever before.

THERE HAS BEEN TIME ENOUGH.

The Senate Committee on Postoffices and Postroads has tacked on to the House postoffice appropriation bill an amendment which extends until Jan. 1, 1901, the powers and duties of the commission appointed in 1898 to investigate excessive railroad charges for transportation of the mails. The date on or before which the commission must make its report is put off until then. As Congress cannot well legislate on the subject of railway mail pay without being officially supplied with the figures and facts gathered by its commission, this amendment seems tantamount to postponing for at least one more year any revision of the grossly inequitable rates of pay to railroads for hauling the mails. This would mean that probably nearly $10,000,000 of unnecessary overcharges will continue to figure in railroad profits, instead of being saved the government.

There is no good reason why the report of the commission should not have been ready and in possession of Congress before the introduction of the present postoffice appropriation bill, which does not diminish but increases the amount of money available for pay to railroads. The work of the commission was practically concluded several months ago, when its expert, Professor Adams, finished the preparation of his statistics, based on the vast amount of testimony taken. A digest of the extraordinary facts that had been ascertained was published in THE TRIBUNE some weeks ago. The National Board of Trade's Postal committee has more recently published and furnished to members of Congress a summary of the evidence collected, but not yet published, by the commission. From the evidence which it published the committee also furnished sixteen clearly expressed reasons why there should be a sweeping reduction in the pay allowed the railroads. As no information could be officially obtained from the commission during the recent debate in the House, it being the apparent intention of the members to hold back the report at least until after the postoffice appropriation bill had been passed, Congressmen who wished to voice their opposition to any continuance of costly favoritism to the railroads had to use the data which had been given out by THE TRIBUNE and by the National Board of Trade's committee. From THE TRIBUNE the minority of the Committee on Postoffices and Postroads quoted freely in its report opposing the extravagant items for railway pay.

When Mr. Loud was impatiently interrogated during the House debate on the views of the commission with reference to proper pay to railroads, he said that it as yet had been unable to reach any conclusions. It is difficult, however, to see how another year's consideration of its evidence can greatly facilitate its labor of reaching conclusions. The facts, as now publicly known, are so plain that disinterested opinion can view them in only one way. Another year of official junketing trips and high-priced hotel sessions cannot make facts a whit plainer. If the commission is divided between a sense of public duty and of kind consideration for the feelings of the railroad companies, it should at least promptly give to Congress its official facts, and then Congress could free it from the necessity of any embarrassing expression of opinion.

When Congress wishes to spend money in furtherance of some private scheme like the pneumatic tube service, it does not appoint a commission to find out if the cost is justified, and incidentally to delay the extravagance. It goes ahead and spends. When, however, a great economy is possible, like that from equitable adjustment of pay for carrying mails, a commission seems just the thing, and the more time it takes the better. The Joint Commission on Railroad Transportation has performed some valuable service. It should, however, promptly make its report now that its work is done. It should not seek to win immortality by getting Congress to make its powers and duties eternal.

The End of It.

"By the way, Borus," said his friend, "I have read the opening chapters of your last book, but never have had time to finish it. How did the story come out?"

"It came out at the little end of the horn," replied the unsuccessful author.

Patriotism Unrewarded.

"The trouble with that portion of our new domain," remarked the eminent statesman who had returned from a visit of investigation, "is that there are no really good offices there to be given to any of our fellows."

"It's no place for spoilsmen, then," said the cynical party of the second part.

"That's not it, exactly," rejoined the other. "There are no spoils for the placemen."

Still on the Watch Tower.

"This is the new Montgomery Ward Building, is it?" inquired one of the strangers.

Not at All.

The hard-featured matron from beyond the suburbs was trying to crowd nearer the platform where the ossified man was on exhibition.

"It's no such thing!" she replied, turning indignantly upon the speaker. "It's goitre!"

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S WHAT.

ILLINOIS PARALLEL TO MONTANA CASE.—The action of Lieutenant Governor Spriggs of Montana in usurping the power of Governor Smith, who is temporarily absent from the State, is not without parallel in the history of Illinois.

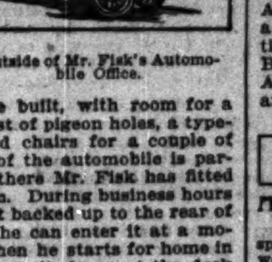

Governor Coles.

In the early '20s, when Edward Coles was Governor of the State, an enterprising individual named Frederick Adolphus Hubbard was Lieutenant Governor. Hubbard, who had a magnificent idea of his own abilities, and was most persistent in pushing himself forward, happened to be in Washington when Senator Edwards resigned as one of the representatives of Illinois in the Upper House of Congress. The letter of resignation was intrusted to Hubbard to deliver to Governor Coles. Hubbard took it to Springfield and informed the Governor that Senator Edwards had intrusted him with the delivery of the document in the belief that either Governor Coles would resign, leaving him (Hubbard) to become Governor, in which case he would appoint Coles Senator in the place of Edwards, or else that Coles would give the Senatorial appointment to the modest messenger who delivered the letter of resignation. Coles declined, and Frederick Adolphus "laid for him."

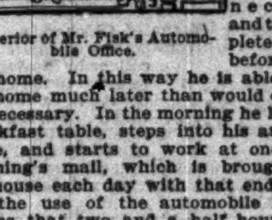

In 1825 Governor Coles went out of the State for a short time, leaving Hubbard behind as Acting Governor. When Coles came back Hubbard declined to give up the office, declaring that Coles had permanently forfeited his rights by leaving the State. The case was actually tried by the Supreme Court, and after being defeated there Hubbard appealed to the Legislature, where also he was unsuccessful. He was afterwards a candidate for the nomination for Governor, though never again prominent in the politics of the State.

HIS OFFICE IN AN AUTOMOBILE.—Edward Fisk, a millionaire merchant of New York, has put the automobile to its latest and most curious use. Mr. Fisk is, first of all, a business-man, and of all things he hates worst to lose time. His house is in one of the suburbs—a good hour's ride from his place of business—and he has always regretted the time necessary to travel between the two places. With an idea of saving this time he has had a special automobile built, with room for a roll-top desk, a nest of pigeon holes, a typewriter's table, and chairs for a couple of callers. One end of the automobile is partitioned off, and there Mr. Fisk has fitted up a dressing-room. During business hours the vehicle is kept backed up to the rear of his store, so that he can enter it at a moment's notice. When he starts for home in the evening he can sit down at the desk and, while the automobile is rolling over the pavements, dictate letters to his stenographer or examine papers with as much convenience as if he were still in his office.

Outside of Mr. Fisk's Automobile Office.

On the other hand, if he wishes to dress for dinner he is able to retire to the automobile dressing-room, where is kept a dress suit and other necessaries, and there complete his toilet before reaching home. In this way he is able to start for home much later than would otherwise be necessary. In the morning he leaves the breakfast table, steps into his automobile office, and starts to work at once on the morning's mail, which is brought up to his house each day with that end in view. By the use of the automobile Mr. Fisk claims that two and a half hours, which would otherwise be wasted in traveling, are saved for business purposes.

WARNING BELL AT MAFEKING.—One of the most important institutions in beleaguered Mafeking, towards which the eyes of all England are directed just now, is the warning bell, which is attached to a tall pole standing in the public square. From it can be seen the location of all the big guns which the besieging Boers have set up around the town. When one of the guns is fired the puff of smoke which follows the discharge can be seen before the shell reaches its destination. The bell is used to give warning that a gun has been fired. Whenever the lookout catches a glimpse of a smoke puff he clangs the bell. At the sound all the inhabitants of the camp and town are supposed to dive down into their bomb-proof caves under the ground, to reappear after the shell has struck. As the Kaffir who acts as bell ringer is obliged to stay out in the open after he has pulled the bell in order to watch for the next discharge, it is said that his salary is the largest of any now paid in Mafeking.

HEROINE GETS A NEW HAT.—Mrs. Parks, who saved a trainload of people from being burned to death the other day in a forest fire in Pennsylvania, has got a new hat. When Mrs. Parks left the stalled train and started on her wild run back to Newton through the flames for help she had on a new spring bonnet of her own. Her pathway lay along the narrow top of a railroad embankment, just wide enough for one engine. On either side were tall pines and oil derricks, all burning fiercely. It was a veritable lane of fire through which she ran a mile, falling three times on the way and barely escaping suffocation from the smoke. Half a dozen times her clothing caught fire and she was obliged to tear the burning garments from her body as she ran. The new spring bonnet, with its trimmings of artificial flowers, was one of the first things to go. When William Boyd, a gallant citizen of Bradford, Pa., saw the plight to which the heroine had been reduced he walked into the leading millinery store of the town and ordered the most expensive and stylish hat in the house wrapped up for Mrs. Parks. The milliner rose to the occasion to the extent of $25, and it is this new hat that Mrs. Parks was wearing when she had her photograph taken.

PREACHER TURNS LOCOMOTIVE FIREMAN.—The Methodist ministers who are now in conference in Chicago may be interested in the methods adopted by the Rev. Charles H. Elder, one of their brothers, to secure the attention and excite the interest of railroad men. Mr. Elder, who is the pastor of Trinity Methodist Church at Bridgeton, N. J., announced recently that he would preach a sermon to railroad men, and sent special invitations to all the engineers, conductors, firemen, and other railroad employés in the city. Then in order that he might be fully in sympathy with the men whom he was to address he got a temporary job as fireman of a locomotive on the run from Bridgeton to Philadelphia. He made the trip two or three times, until he felt that he was in a position to thoroughly appreciate the trials and temptations of a railroad man. Finally he preached his sermon, and railroad men are quoted as saying that it was the most practical and helpful sermon they ever listened to in their lives.

HAS FORTY-ONE CHILDREN.—When the census enumerator gets around to old Levi Bresson of North Foster, R. I., he will probably find a record-breaker.

"How many children?" he will ask.

"Forty-one," Bresson will answer, "thirty-two of whom are living."

"How many grandchildren?"

"I don't know. I kept track of them until I had 100. How many more there are is beyond me."

Bresson is a French-Canadian. He ran away from home to get married, and settled in Connecticut. There he lived until 1862, when he enlisted in the army. All his life he has worked hard at manual labor, and still is strong and healthy. As one indication of what the care of such a large family means, it is stated that at one time there were no less than sixteen of the Bresson children sick with the measles. Among his children are one set of triplets and four of twins.

WANT BIG ARMY TO STAY.

OFFICERS URGE KEEPING IT UP TO THE PRESENT STRENGTH.

War Department Has Done Nothing So Far Toward Increasing Force After July 1, 1901—Say Unless Something Is Done Only 10,000 Men Will Be Left in the Philippines—Congressman Graff Receives Congratulations—Ship Canal Surveys to Be Made.

WASHINGTON BUREAU CHICAGO TRIBUNE, Washington, D. C., May 16.

Some of the army officers are surprised that nothing has been proposed by the War department in the way of providing for an increase of the army after July 1, 1901. On that date the present augmented organization will be cut down to the strength prior to the Spanish war. This will operate to diminish the enlisted force in the Philippines to 10,000. There are now under General MacArthur 35,000 volunteers and [illegible],000 regulars. All of the volunteers will be discharged, and fully 20,000 regulars will also be sent home. The return will begin about the 1st of the succeeding November. It will be necessary to authorize new regiments soon after Congress meets next December, and, with the delays incident to legislation, it may not be possible to accomplish all that is desired in maintaining a sufficient force in the Philippines.

No Provision to Keep Army Up to Present Size.

The War department officials say there will be no attempt to act on this matter until the next session of Congress. By that time, they say, the situation in the Philippines may have changed. Nevertheless, the officers who have returned from Manila say there is no likelihood of anything occurring to restore actual peace, and that there will be for a long time a great deal for our troops to do. They say that 10,000 will not begin to furnish the force necessary for the ordinary policing of the islands under the most favorable conditions.

There is a strong belief among the War department officials that a definite increase of the army should have been made at this session, but the political leaders refused to consider the matter at all until after election. In Congress it is also urged that by that time, too, the military situation will be settled.

No one, however, expects a regular army hereafter of less than 75,000, which is General Miles' estimate of one regular soldier to every 1,000 of population.

Mrs. Henry W. Lawton, widow of the late General Lawton, will probably be granted a pension of $100 a month by Congress. Today the Senate adopted a bill providing for a pension at the rate named, the amount being increased from [illegible]0, which was reported by the committee. The original bill, which was introduced by Senator Fairbanks, provided for a pension of 2,000 a year. A similar bill is pending in the House, and the indications are that the Senate bill will be pushed through the lower body.

Congressman Graff Congratulated by Associates.

An interesting incident took place in the House this afternoon when Representative Graff was presented with a large basket of American beauty roses by a friend on account of his renomination. On the card which accompanied the bouquet was inscribed: "To Hon. Joseph V. Graff. Three times chosen by the people of the Fourteenth District of Illinois as their Representative in Congress. Renominated for the fourth time by acclamation Tuesday, May 15, 1900. Congratulations of his friends." Mr. Graff's associates detached the card from the basket and a number of them wrote on it what might be called a testimonial of their regard for the Illinoisan. They were as follows: "Graff for V. P.—J. P. Dolliver"; "Hurrah for Graff—Charles F. Joy of Missouri, T. Hedge, M. C., Iowa"; "A just recognition of true merit and manhood—E. J. Crumpacker"; "Glad of it—Galusha A. Grow"; "Three cheers for our chairman—H. S. Boutell"; "God bless you—George [illegible] Lawrence, Massachusetts"; "There is nothing too good for Graff—H. C. Van Voorhis"; "Shake—V. Warner"; "Integrity and ability bound to win—J. H. Southard, M. C., Ohio"; "There is nothing like being born in Indiana—You are bound to get there—J. L. Brick."

Mr. Graff was naturally delighted at being remembered by his friends, and was also well pleased over the spontaneous expressions of his associates.

Today the House passed a bill providing for the holding of a term of the United States Circuit and District Courts at Superior, Wis. There will be but one term of each court annually, to begin the third Tuesday in June. This measure has not as yet been adopted by the Senate, but a favorable report has been made on it by the committee having it in charge.

Funds for Ship Canal Surveys to Be Provided.

It was agreed by the Rivers and Harbors committee today to incorporate in the emergency river and harbor bill a clause providing for a survey and estimate of cost of improving the upper Illinois and lower Desplaines Rivers, with a view to the extension of navigation from the Illinois River to Lake Michigan at or near Chicago. The engineer officers are directed to report the estimate of cost for a channel ten, twelve, and fourteen feet deep through the proposed route, the estimates to include the cost of a proper connection at Lockport with the sanitary and ship canal.

The amount appropriated is the unexpended balance of an appropriation of $30,-000 made in the last river and harbor law, and it is provided that no further expense shall be incurred in this project without the specific direction of Congress. Chairman Burton also made a favorable report on the measure, and he says the indications for its adoption are excellent.

Other items of interest in the bill provide for a survey of Rock River, at the head of the feeder for the Illinois and Mississippi Canal, with a view to the construction of a lock dam, which is to be placed in Rock River in connection with that canal.

It also provides for the survey of the Muskegon harbor with a view to obtaining a channel twenty-one feet deep and a uniform width of 300 feet from the exterior to the interior lock, the same to be sheet piled along the banks not protected by cribs to prevent erosion; also a survey of the St. Clair River for the purpose of doubling the capacity of the so-called St. Clair Flats Canal. Another project is a survey of the Manitowoc harbor for the purpose of making a harbor of refuge not less than twenty feet deep, and for deepening of the Sturgeon Bay and Lake Michigan Canal to eighteen feet, the improvement to begin at the Lake Michigan end of the canal and to continue throughout its length so far as is necessary to secure a navigable channel having a depth of eighteen feet from Lake Michigan to the waters of the Sturgeon Bay Canal.

All the troops at Fort Sheridan that can be spared will participate in the G. A. R. parade at Chicago on Decoration day. Some time ago Senator Cullom received a letter from C. S. Bentley, the chief marshal of the parade, requesting him to ask the War department to order the troops at Fort Sheridan to take part in the parade, the government to defray all expenses. Today General Wade, commander of the Department of the Lakes, was instructed by Secretary Root to permit the participation of the troops at Fort Sheridan as may be available May 30.

Postmaster's Pet Terrier Dog Is Lost.

There is mourning in the Postmaster General's household, not over matters of state, but because of the loss of Jacco, the favorite fox terrier, who has been a member of the family during the greater part of his short life. Jacco has a beautiful white coat with remarkably pretty markings of black and tan on his ears, and the "sweetest" little black streak down his nose, a beauty that has proved particularly alluring to the small boy of color, who has a propensity for appropriating anything salable.

Jacco was stolen a week ago, and recovered when offered for sale at the dog store where he was originally purchased. At that time his collar and muzzle were cut off, and when he returned home, another collar being handy, a yellow ribbon was tied about his neck. Whether the color of the ribbon had anything to do with his leaving home, or whether he had gypsy propensities, or whether he simply wandered away in the pursuit of the neighboring cats, for which he has an unusual aversion, will probably never be known, but it is likely that he will never again take a ride in the mail car or assist in the rural free delivery—of chickens.

President McKinley today sent in his second veto message. It affects the case of W. L. Orr of Chicago and is a claim involving $1,500. The bill was introduced by Representative Boutell, who was somewhat surprised at the action of the President. It involved the payment of the claim of W. L. Orr for services as Second Assistant Engineer in the navy from September, 1863, to March, 1865. The records of the Navy department disclosed the fact that while the appointment of Mr. Orr as an Acting Second Assistant Engineer was made out and signed Sept. 4, 1863, and addressed to him at Cairo, Ill., the appointment was never received by him, no acceptance or oath of office was filed, and he did not enter on the duties under that appointment.

There is nothing on record showing that he rendered service under that appointment. On the contrary, it is shown that he did not receive the appointment, that in due course it was returned to the department, and finally on March 21, 1865, was canceled and a new appointment issued, bearing the latter date.

In his message President McKinley said: "Upon the records shown I base my objection to signing this bill. If, however, there should exist any doubt of the facts because of which I withhold approval, a proviso that the claim be paid upon proof satisfactory to the Secretary of the Treasury that the service was rendered would do no injustice to either the claimant or the government."

Percentage of Physicians in Germany Grows.

Reports to the State department show a remarkable increase of practicing physicians in the German Empire during the last thirteen years from 15,824 to 21,725, or 56.25 per cent. During the same period the population has only increased 14 per cent. In Prussia, of 1,620 military and marine physicians, only thirty-one out of every 100 now become general practitioners. Formerly fifty-seven out of every 100 left the service and entered general practice, demonstrating that the ranks of the general practitioners of medicine are becoming more and more crowded. There are 12,099 practicing dentists in the German Empire. American dentists, or German dentists who have received the education in the United States, command the best fees and are held in the highest repute.

Senator Cullom today secured the adoption by the Senate of a bill providing for the erection of a public building at East St. Louis, Ill., to cost $225,000. Representative Rodenberg, in whose district East St. Louis is situated, has a similar bill in the House. A favorable report has been made upon it, but notwithstanding this it is not believed any public building legislation will be enacted this session. If anything is done in this direction, however, this measure will be one of the first to go through, as Mr. Rodenberg is a member of the Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds.

Numbers of fashionable people from the diplomatic, Congressional, and social sets were in attendance at a 5 o'clock tea given at the Chevy Chase golf grounds this afternoon. The hostesses of the occasion were Mrs. Chatard, Mrs. Merriam and Miss Merriam, and Mrs. Edward McCauley. The Marine Band added to the enjoyment.

It is claimed that petroleum and its manufactures will soon to a great extent supersede the use of coal for manufacturing purposes, and therefore the supply of petroleum becomes of great importance. Statistics show that the United States and Rusia are between them producing, in round numbers, 130,000,000 barrels per year, and that the production of outside countries has of late increased so much that they are able to contribute enough now to bring the world's aggregate annual production to about 150,-000,000 barrels. It is well known that the production of Russia is much less now than it might be, owing to the lack of enterprise of the people and to inadequate transportation facilities, which cause the price to be higher even in Germany, adjoining Russia, than that of American petroleum, which has to travel thousands of miles.

Submarine Boat Defended by Its Advocates.

Friends of the submarine boat system are incensed over the attitude of certain naval officials who are working against the Senate provision for five boats of that type. In the first place, the impression has been given out that the Holland was to be taken to Newport, where the tests are to be held by the canal route. This is not so, for arrangements have been made to take the boat to Newport by the outside route, a trip which will be a trial of the boat under practical conditions. The report has been started also that the Holland is not a seaworthy craft.

The officers who are familiar with the Holland say it is quite as capable of being efficiently controlled in the open seaway as the service torpedo boat, most of which have suffered materially when taken to sea. The construction and design of the submarine boat are such that the type may be easily controlled during heavy seas, while in the calmest weather only may the torpedo boats be safely navigated outside of harbors.

The designers of the submarine boat have fortified themselves with affidavits showing that the Holland is perfectly seaworthy and the coming trip to Newport will demonstrate this fact, they say.

LETTER OF MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

Prince Eugene.

ENGLAND is universally regarded as being of all monarchical countries in Europe the one which is the most democratic in its institutions, differing only from the United States in having an hereditary executive in the person of Queen Victoria in lieu of one who owes the august office to the vote of the people, as in the case of the President. But no one in their wildest moments would dream of either the Cabinet in London officially repudiating the utterances of the sovereign any more than it would be possible for the Cabinet at Washington to repudiate and condemn the public utterances of the Chief Magistrate of this great republic.

Yet this is precisely what the Swedish Cabinet has done with regard to King Oscar's expression of warm sympathy for the English in the south African war, and of his hopes that the Boers would be speedily defeated. The Cabinet at Stockholm has, in fact, issued a species of manifesto, repudiating in the most energetic language King Oscar's anti-Boer views and declarations of enthusiastic and pronounced friendship for England, declaring that the utterances to which he gave expression were merely his own personal opinions and in no sense those of his government.

The only precedent that I can recall at the present moment for such treatment of any sovereign was when a couple of years ago the Belgian Cabinet officially intimated to the French government and to the world at large that it repudiated King Leopold's utterances at Kiel and elsewhere in Germany, where at sundry public banquets at which the Kaiser was present he had delivered speeches conveying the impression that if not a full-fledged alliance, at any rate a military convention existed between Germany and Belgium, and that the Belgian army was more or less of an integral part of the imperial German army.

King Oscar, who is at present in London, and shortly leaving for Paris, has been engaged in making the final arrangements for the marriage of his youngest son, Prince Eugene, popularly known as the "Red Prince," in consequence of his democratic opinions, to Princess Thyra of Denmark, daughter of the Crown Prince and Crown Princess, who, by reason of their colossal wealth, will be able to give a big dowry indeed to their girl, when she weds.

Prince Eugene, who bears the title of Duke of Nericia, is one of the few sons of Kings who has undergone the experience of having his belongings pitched out on the sidewalk for being behind hand with his rent. It happened at Paris at the time when he was studying art in the principal art schools and most famous studios under the incognito "M. Eugene." Few people had any idea of his identity, owing to which he was often the object of practical jokes on the part of his companions, who had no idea whatsoever of his rank. He lived in the most unpretentious manner in dingy rooms in the Quartier Latin, and so realistically did he pursue the life of an art student that on one occasion when his remittances happened to be late he returned home at night to find his furniture, pictures, and, as stated above, all his belongings pitched pell mell into the street by the landlord, who absolutely declined to trust artists whose names were unknown to fame. I may add that he was a frequent visitor to the "Chat Noir Tavern." The Prince suffers agonies from the fact that all his teeth are what is known as "barred."

He is by no means well off, his impecuniosity being due to the fact that the late King of Sweden and Norway, elder brother of the present King, bequeathed every vestige of property of which he could dispose to his only child, Louise, now Crown Princess of Denmark, the tallest Princess of the blood of the old world. Eugene's elder brother married three years ago another daughter of the Crown Prince and Crown Princess of Denmark, Ingeborg by name, who has become popular in Sweden and Norway. Consequently the match gives universal satisfaction, and contributes to still further efface the bad feeling created between the courts of Stockholm and Copenhagen by the transfer of the formerly Danish Kingdom of Norway to the crown of Sweden.

Italy's Crown Prince is certainly most unfortunate in the special missions which he undertakes in behalf of his father to foreign courts and to foreign rulers. At the time when he attended the last jubilee of Queen Victoria he gave no end of trouble by reason of his disputes for precedence with Archduke Francis Ferdinand of Austria, claiming that as Crown Prince of Italy he was entitled to the "pas" over the Archduke, who was not the son, but merely the nephew of a reigning sovereign. The point was eventually settled in favor of the Archduke, primarily on the ground that the precedence of the various personages present was determined not by their own personal rank but by that of the sovereign or country which they represented, added to which the Archduke, although merely the nephew of Emperor Francis Joseph, was likewise next heir to the Austro-Hungarian throne.

Then again the Crown Prince of Italy gave dire offense to France by taking an active part in the grand maneuvers of the German army in the conquered provinces of Alsace-Lorraine, wearing, of course, the uniform of his German regiment.

And now comes the story of the mysterious theft of the baggage car containing his uniforms, and in particular his presents and those of his parents for the imperial family at Berlin on the occasion of the celebration of the majority of the Kaiser's eldest son and heir. On the royal Italian special train arriving at Basle, that is to say the Swiss frontier of Germany, it was found that the baggage car containing all these valuables had disappeared from the tail end of the train. Great consternation prevailed, and the fury of the Crown Prince, who, like all diminutive men, is passionate, was intense. Finally, after several hours spent in telegraphing in every direction, the car was found empty and sidetracked at a little Swiss station not far from the Italian frontier, to which it was relegated after being rifled of its contents on Italian soil. American travelers have had frequent cause to complain of their trunks being tampered with and robbed on the Italian state railroads. Perhaps now that the Italian Crown Prince has had his entire baggage car stolen some attempt will be made to discover and punish these railroad banditti.

Mrs. Winifred B. Cooper Files Suit.

Mrs. Winifred B. Cooper, formerly the wife of Frank H. Cooper of Siegel, Cooper & Co., yesterday brought suit in the Circuit Court for the recovery of $500 alleged to be due her from the estate of Ernst J. Lehmann. Mrs. Cooper claims that she has expended money for improvements in the apartments occupied by her in the Nordica flats, which her landlords, the administrators of the Lehmann estate, should pay.

PRESBYTERIANS TO MEET

CHURCHMEN ARRIVE IN ST. LOUIS FOR THE ASSEMBLY.

Little Agitation as Yet Among the Delegates for Revision of the Westminster Confession of Faith, Overtures Having Been Received from Twenty-five Presbyteries — Conference, Under Constitution, May Have Power to Table Matter.

St. Louis, Mo., May 16.—[Special.]—Every train from every direction today brought commissioners to the Presbyterian General Assembly, which is to begin its sessions tomorrow morning. The agitation for a revision of the Westminster standard has not materialized to any great degree as yet. There are tonight overtures from twenty-five presbyteries referring to this question. About one-half of them ask for a new creed and the other half for a revision of the old one.

Under the constitution the suggestion of a New York commissioner may be adopted to lay the whole matter on the table indefinitely. The General Assembly is not required by its constitution to send down an overture on the question unless one-third of the presbyteries unite in asking for it. As there are 232 presbyteries in the assembly at present no action need be taken unless more than seventy-five presbyteries ask for it.

It seems probable that a special committee will be appointed to consider the whole question of creed revision or a new creed during the year and report to the next assembly. This is expected to satisfy those who have overtures at the assembly, and will prevent hasty action on a matter fraught with grave possibilities.

The preliminary foreign missions conference attracted many of the churchmen at its sessions today. The Rev. Dr. Thomas Marshall of Chicago, the Field Secretary of the Foreign Board of Missions, has nominal charge of the meetings. The Rev. Dr. A. W. Halsey of New York is to present the cause of foreign missions to the assembly next week.

Race for Moderator.

Churchmen declare that it has never been so difficult to pick the winner in the race for Moderator as it is tonight. Pennsylvania has two men who are determined to run, with the result that both probably will be defeated. Indiana has a favorite son, backed by the Interior of Chicago. Ohio has a candidate and the central West has one. Some of these men say frankly they are in the hands of their friends and others say quite as frankly that they want the office and if their friends fulfill their pledges they will get it.

It looks tonight as if Dickey, McEwan, McKibbin, Fisher, and Kerr will all run, with the result that no one will be elected on the first ballot; then the lowest two or probably the lowest three will withdraw in favor of those who had the highest votes and a second ballot will settle the question.

Clerkship Is Complicated.

The permanent clerkship is even more complicated than the Moderatorship, there being nearly a score of commissioners suggested for that office, which is chiefly honorary, the whole service requiring about two weeks. The salary of the office is $500, but it probably will be reduced to its original figure—$300.

A suggestion, new to many, was made today by one able to speak with some authority that it might be well to have such proceedings as are needed for the minutes taken stenographically under the direction of the stated clerk. Such a plan, if adopted, may induce many of the candidates to withdraw.

Silas Cobb's Will Is Proven.

Boy Hurt in Mock Duel.

Brazil, Ind., May 16.—In a mock duel this afternoon between Ernest Burgess and Will Garber, who thought their guns were unloaded, Burgess was fatally shot.

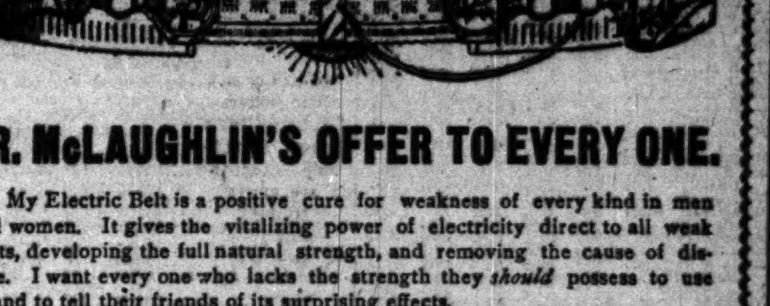

JESSIE SHERWOOD, SOLDIER'S GIRL, TO BE SHUT UP IN A SCHOOL.

Jessie Sherwood according to the statement of her mother, Mrs. W. R. Wallace, 801 Market street, Waukegan, will be put in some quiet school or home for girls, far removed from any place where there are soldiers, and in a retreat where brass-buttoned uniforms are tabooed. Miss Jessie returned yesterday from her trip on the troop train of the Fifth Infantry recruits, expressing repentance that her devotion to Sergeant Michael Langmeyer had led her to attempt to go to Cuba with him. Her sentiments on the subject were somewhat mixed, however, leading her to say she was sorry she had been discovered, so her mother decided to send her where the temptation of brass buttons would not be present. Circles at Fort Sheridan spent the day discussing the escapade of the girls, and search was made for Miss Sherwood, who, fearing her mother's displeasure, had taken refuge with friends. Miss Emma Winoski, who lives near Jessie's home, and also was put off the train, had not been heard from. It was learned that the three companions who had planned to go with these two and were thought to have remained undiscovered on the train, really did not start with the soldiers, and that Emma Winoski had told Lieutenant Reeves there were three more girls on the train when she was put off at Hammond just to make it pleasant for the Lieutenant and keep him hunting. Mrs. Wallace refused to divulge the names of the other girls who planned to go but did not. Mrs. Shepherd, Jessie's grandmother, who makes her home with Mrs. Wallace, said Jessie had a good home, but for some time had preferred living with friends in Waukegan. Her infatuation for the soldier at the fort was not known by her mother and stepfather, and the fact that Jessie had been making frequent trips to the fort to visit her soldier lover was a surprise to them. Mrs. Shepherd said a school would be found for Miss Jessie that had walls ten feet high and several feet thick, with large needle pointed spikes on top. "Love laughs at locksmiths," said Mrs. Shepherd, "but a spiked ten-foot wall would be no joke to any soldier."

The Force of Habit.

It is a peculiar thing that the use of Coffee and Tea has not been replaced, more than is the case, by the use of Van Houten's Cocoa.

The reason for that is to be sought in the force of habit. But habits should be broken through, and Van Houten's Cocoa taken, now that it has been proven to be a much healthier and more delicious drink than Tea and Coffee, while at the same time so nourishing and easily digested.

For the Nerves, also, Van Houten's Cocoa is so much better; because, although it is equally refreshing, it has not pernicious after-effects upon the nerves, such as follow after using Coffee or Tea.

It is not an expensive habit to use Van Houten's Cocoa; indeed, after actual trial of various brands, and even loose cocoa, many persons have discovered that Van Houten's Cocoa is not only the best and most delicious, but it is also the most economical.

YERKES DENIES A RUMOR.

SAYS STORY OF TRUCE WITH ZIEGLER IS UNTRUE.

He Declares No Settlement of the Litigation in Which Lake Street Elevated Is Engaged Is Being Negotiated—Disapproves of Talk of Foreclosure—Trading in National Biscuit Is Still Large and Stock Is Firmer.

Charles T. Yerkes denied yesterday the report that a settlement of the litigation between the Lake Street Elevated and Mr. Ziegler is being negotiated. He also declared untrue the rumor that the road would be foreclosed, saying that such a step had not been considered. Mr. Yerkes had returned earlier in the day from New York.

"Some New York people have suggested foreclosure of the Lake Street Elevated road," Mr. Yerkes said, "but it has not been considered in any way. In fact, I do not approve of it. I don't see why such a thing should be done. If Blair & Co. even have suggested that anything of the kind is being considered they have no right to do so. The Lake Street road is doing a good business and earning more than the interest on its bonds.

"No settlement is being arranged with Mr. Ziegler. We have fought that case in the courts for five years and are not ready to give up yet. The worst that can happen is that the company will be compelled to pay the interest on the whole of the Ziegler bonds, instead of paying only 60 per cent, as we have offered to do. We claim that Ziegler got those bonds and a lot of stock for practically nothing, and at a time when the company, to speak in plain terms, was being robbed. No, I don't mean to say that Mr. Ziegler robbed the company, but he certainly did not pay what I would consider a fair price for his stock and bonds. It is for this reason, and also that he was unwilling to do the same as other security holders, that suggested the contest which the company has had with him.

"I think the Lake Street road has a good future. It does not increase in receipts as rapidly as the other elevated roads for the reason that its territory is not growing so rapidly, but when the feeders that have been planned are finished and the connections made they will increase receipts materially.

"I cannot see what would be gained by a foreclosure. I do not believe in foreclosures where such a thing can be averted. I believe in building up properties and putting them on a paying basis, not in wrecking them, and I am sure that I will do all I can to prevent the wrecking of any road that I am connected with."

Mr. Yerkes declined to say anything about the underground road which he is planning to build in London.

Deposit Alton Refunding Money.

The funds for the purpose of refunding the former bonded debt of the old Chicago and Alton road have been deposited with the United States Trust company in New York. The stocks of the subsidiary companies, guaranteed by the Alton, will continue as heretofore, these stocks being without maturity.

National Biscuit Is Firmer.

While there was further large trading in National Biscuit stocks on the local exchange yesterday the volume of transactions was less than the two previous days. The stock was firmer, and the heavy selling orders put out by the same operators were met by buyers. The meeting of the directors is to be held today, and there seems no doubt that payment of the regular dividends will be ordered. Biscuit preferred also was stronger in the market than the previous days of the movement.

Billings Denies a Report.

President C. K. G. Billings of the People's Gas company denied absolutely the report from New York that the present dividend would be reduced or passed entirely. The next dividend has been declared payable on May 25, and the New York story was that when checks were mailed a notice would be sent to stockholders informing them of a reduction in the dividend.

"The story is made out of whole cloth," Mr. Billings said. "There is no basis whatever for it."

Companies Declare Dividends.

The Chicago and Alton railroad has declared a quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on both its common and preferred stock, payable June 10.

The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy road has declared a dividend of 1¼ per cent, payable June 15, to stock of record May 21.

The American Linseed company has declared a quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on its preferred stock, payable June 15. Books close May 26 and reopen June 16.

Third Avenue to Meet.

Stockholders of the Third Avenue railroad and the Metropolitan Street railway will meet in New York today to approve the lease of the former to the latter.

STOCKS SHOW STRONGER TONE.

Room Traders Abandon Bear Tactics and Work for Market Betterment.

[BY E. W. HARDEN.]

New York, May 16.—[Special.]—Today's stock market developed a measure of strength which, although it may have been generally superficial, was a welcome change in the apathy and weakness that had prevailed for a fortnight or more. It is still too early to predict that a turning point has been reached and that an upward movement may now be expected, for the reason that today's transactions were not free from suspicion.

The same traders on the floor of the Stock Exchange who were responsible for putting the list at its low level took a hand at bidding things up, wherefore it would appear that the improvement is not of the healthiest sort.

The feature of the morning was a bad break in Missouri Pacific, which went off from a high price of 57⅛ to 55⅛. The break was due to apprehensions aroused by the prospect of a surfeit of new stock, but with the official affirmation that the $15,000,000 increase of stock is merely intended to serve technical purposes—first, the Missouri law that a road's bonded indebtedness shall not exceed its capital stock; and, secondly, the company's own law, which provides that the bonds shall be exchangeable for stock, dollar for dollar—the securities rallied and closed at a net loss of only ⅝ point. But meanwhile the Missouri Pacific break had weakened the industrial list to some extent. In nearly every instance, however, the recessions were recovered and advances followed.

The steel group was exceptionally strong and helped materially to strengthen the entire list. All the steel shares were well supported from Chicago, and there was also strong evidence of good inside buying.

People's Gas broke nearly two points on a statement published in a morning paper that the rate of dividend would be reduced. This story was so vigorously and reasonably denied that the stock rallied and closed at a net gain for the day of ¼ point.

American Sugar Refining stock was one of the most active stocks. It moved within a range of three points and closed at a net loss of ⅜ point. The stock was altogether in the hands of professional room traders.

Activity in the railway group was confined principally to the grangers, nearly all of which closed showing substantial net gains for the day. Recently there has been some curiosity to know whence come the continued and heavy buying orders for Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, which was traded in today to the extent of more than 25,000 shares. It would appear that the stock is being accumulated from some one interest, and it is estimated that as much as 40,000 shares have been bought in this way.

In this connection the Burlington's proposed extension to Ogden is remembered, and thus it is worked out that some other road, presumably the Union Pacific, is trying to buy representation on the board with a view to protecting its interests against Burlington competition.

London was a good buyer of grangers and the Pacifics. Foreign prices were generally on a parity with New York quotations. Engagements of gold for export on tomorrow's steamers aggregate $3,190,000, all bound for Paris. It is generally believed that this shipment will mark a cessation of exports, which thus far have been disappointing to those whose interests lie with the movements of yellow metal to Europe.

IN THE NEW YORK MONEY MARKET.

NEW YORK, May 16.—The market showed itself much less sensitive than for some time past to any depressing influence, and the close was distinctly firm at about the best level of the day. The bond market was dull, and only partly shared in the strength of stocks. Total sales, par value, $1,185,000.

Money on call easy at 1¼@2¼ per cent; last loan, 1½ per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 3¾@4½ per cent. Sterling exchange easy, with actual business in bankers' bills at 488¼ for demand and at 484¾@485 for 60 days; posted rates, 485½ and 489@489½; commercial bills, 484½.

IN THE FOREIGN MONEY MARKET.

Tendency of Cash and Securities in London, Paris, and Berlin.

NEW YORK, May 16.—The Commercial-Advertiser's London financial cablegram says: The markets here were undecided today and the close was unsettled. There was some talk of possible failures in the Westralian market. Funds are still hardening on the continuance of cheap money. In Americans, although business was reduced, prices advanced quietly and New York offered moderate support. The close was near the best, but the dealings were altogether professional, neither the public nor the continent taking any part in them. Tintos spurted from 52¾ to 53⅜ on the announcement of the fortnightly statistics, showing a decrease in stocks of 656 tons and in supplies of 431 tons. There was no gold movement. The week's influx amounted to £1,076,000. A parcel of £180,000, which is coming from Australia, is expected to go to the bank. The price is now 77s 9d, a decline of one farthing. Money is easy despite the settlement, and so were bills, of which more are coming out. Trade bills are under 4 per cent for the first time in quite a long period. The County Council offers £600,000 in county bills, preferring temporary accommodation to a big loan. Easy money is expected to continue through the half year, when the bank will resume control of the market. Silver was easier, India holding off in the hope of lower prices.

LONDON, May 16.—The market for American securities was firm from opening to closing today, but trading was light, owing to the settlement. Spanish 4s closed at 72½c. Linseed oil, 34s 9d.

Bar silver quiet; 27½d per ounce. Money, 2½@3 per cent.

The rate of discount in the open market for short bills is 3⅝ per cent; do, three months' bills, 3½@3 9-16 per cent.

PARIS, May 16.—Business on the bourse today was hesitating at the opening, but soon there was a good recovery and prices closed firm. A sharp advance in Spanish 4s strengthened international securities. Rio Tintos were undecided and closed harder on the report that the visible supply of copper had decreased 400 tons. Kaffirs closed better on satisfactory London advices.

BERLIN, May 16.—Business was quiet on the boerse today. Spanish 4s were harder on Paris advices. Americans and Canadian Pacifics were firm. Mine shares fluctuated, but closed better.

NEW YORK, May 16.—Special cable and telegraphic communications to Bradstreet's show the following changes in available supplies from the last accounts: Wheat—United States and Canada, east of Rockies, decrease, 3,666,000 bu; afloat for and in Europe, decrease, 700,000 bu; total supply, decrease, 4,366,000 bu. Corn—United States and Canada, east of Rockies, decrease, 2,085,000 bu. Oats—United States and Canada, east of Rockies, increase, 852,000 bu. Among the more important decreases not given in the official visible supply statement are those of 760,000 bu at Manitoba storage points, 500,000 bu at Northwestern interior elevators, 133,000 bu at Chicago private elevators, 96,000 bu at Coteau, and 55,000 bu at Cleveland. The principal increases are those of 161,000 bu at Depot Harbor and 70,000 bu at East St. Louis. The aggregate stock of wheat held at Portland, Ore., and Tacoma and Seattle, Wash., decreased 118,000 bu last week.

BULL DEAL IN CORN ON.

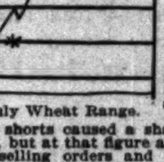

HEAVY EXPORT DEMAND STARTS BIG SPECULATIVE BUYING.

Long Lines Liquidated on the Recent Break Taken On Again and an Advance of 1¼ Cent Scored—Day's Sales to Europe Reported at 1,500,000 Bushels—Wheat Gains on Talk of Drought in the Northwest and Better Local Demand.

Interests which have been selling corn on the recent break turned buyers yesterday, and before the close, with some late but effective help from shorts, had marked up July 1⅜c, from which the price slipped back one notch, closing with a net gain of 1⅛c for the day at 38c. The May future also gained 1¼c, just the range of the day, to a close at 37¼c. The opening was a trifle higher on the strength in Liverpool cables, futures there being ½d higher, instead of responding to the breaks here. Spot in Liverpool was ¾d lower to unchanged, and London futures were ⅛d lower to ¼d higher. But this early influence was soon lost sight of in the face of strenuous and heavy buying by the local leaders of the bull campaign, which carried May corn up to 42c. Over 550,000 bu were accepted here, and New York reported acceptances as high as 1,004,000 bu. Seaboard clearances were large also at 718,000 bu. Canby, Bartlett-Frazier, Trego-Montgomery, Richardson, and McReynolds were all large buyers early, the Canby accumulations being for Patten's account. Robson and John Bryant were heavy sellers, the former covering before the close. The market showed some signs of languishing around 37⅝c for July, late in the session, but a general scramble of shorts instilled new life into the proceedings and added ⅝c to the price. The favorable weather was about the only bearish feature in the day's news, country acceptances being reported light with local receipts—only 119 cars. Primary receipts were 315,643 bu to 307,406 bu last year, and shipments were 639,854 bu to 602,773 bu last year. Bradstreet's reported a decrease of 2,085,000 bu in the world's visible, compared with a decrease of 4,691,000 bu the week before and one of 3,547,000 bu last year.

Wheat Gains on Crop News.

There was a fairly active market in wheat, with considerable buying on crop damage reports, which overbalanced the hardly less numerous reports indicating that all may yet be well with the wheat crop of 1900. The day's advance was ⅛@⅜c, July opening as low as 66⅛c, the previous close, to ⅛c higher, selling from that price to 67c and closing at 66⅞@66¾c. May sold from 65⅛c to 65½c, closing at 65⅝c, a gain of ½c. There was heavy buying by Cudahy brokers from 66⅛c to 66⅝c, at which point selling supposed to be for Captain Phillips checked the advance. Strength in corn and covering by local shorts caused a sharp rally to 67c near the close, but at that figure all the commission houses had selling orders and the price did not hold. The principal outside support of the market came from St. Louis, neither New York nor the Northwest cutting any figure. Crop news was decidedly conflicting. St. Louis wired that the country was sending reports of serious damage and good buying orders. From Carmi, Ill., came word that fields which promised 25 bu to the acre two weeks ago had been ruined by the fly and were being plowed up. Reports of heavy rains in Kansas were taken as portentous of damage to the crop, and some correspondents declared they had drowned the chinch bugs and assured a phenomenal crop. Reports from the Northwest were of two kinds, telling of damage already done by drought and assuming that rain is badly needed. Oklahoma wheat was flat on the ground from too much rain or looking fine, from two points of view. Broomhall reported frosts in Great Britain, Germany, and Austria and severe cold in France. Liverpool futures, starting in ¼d lower, closed ⅛d higher, with spot unchanged. London was ⅛@¼d higher, Paris ¼@⅜c lower, and Antwerp unchanged. Export demand was rather quiet. New York reporting 184,000 bu taken and local sales for shipment being nil. Seaboard clearances were also small at 160,650. Primary receipts were 322,057 bu, to 296,841 bu last year, and shipments were 254,909 bu, to 162,892 bu. Bradstreet's reported a decrease of 4,366,000 bu in the world's available supplies, 700,000 bu in Europe, and 366,000 bu east of the Rockies, the latter figures comparing with a decrease of 6,700,000 bu last week and 876,000 bu last year. The European visible increased 96,000 bu last week and 3,000,000 bu last year.

July Wheat Range.

Provisions Active and Higher.

Provisions furnished a strong market on light receipts of hogs, lard leading the list. Exporters were good buyers of lard early, the Chicago Packing and Provision company took a good line of ribs, and there was liberal commission house buying late which was thought to be for Armour. Hogs were 5c to 10c higher early, selling up to $5.57½, but lost most of the advance. Packers bought lard and local operators pork, the premium of lard over ribs advancing to 37½@40c. Pork closed 20c higher, lard 12½@15c higher, and ribs 7½c higher. Liverpool prices have kept following the local advance, lard being 3d higher, American hams and Cumberland cut bacon 6d higher, and short clear backs unchanged. The local run of hogs was 28,000, to 38,000 last year, the West having 77,000, to 89,800. The estimate for today is 27,000.

The boom in corn naturally helped oats, sending prices up ¼c and making the closing market strong at the highest point reached. Shorts began covering early in the day. Offerings were small in all positions, and the market gave every appearance of being oversold. There were few spots in the market where the demand let down to any appreciable extent until after the requirements of the shorts were satisfied. Receipts were light at 85 cars, only 6 of which were contract. Sixty cars of the lot graded No. 3, and 21,153 bu were withdrawn from store. The weekly crop bulletins were somewhat bullish in effect, reporting more or less dissatisfaction in some of the sections. Seaboard clearances were 80,000 bu. Local sales on shipping account, 100,000 bu.

Rye was firmer at an advance of ¼c, without much activity in the market. May sold at 54c, at which price a small lot of No. 2 in store changed hands. July sold at 52⅜c early and 52½c later, closing at the outside. Some barley screenings sold at 35½c and feed at 38½c. Cooler weather created rather more of a demand from maltsters, common to fair barley being salable at 38½@40c, with choice quotably 41@43c. Timothy seed was moderately active on a basis of $2.40 for contract. This grade of clover seed was called $7.00. Spot seed continued $1.80. September opened 1¼c higher at $1.27½, and sold to $1.29½, closing $1.29. October opened 1c advanced at $1.21, selling by ¼c jumps to $1.23, closing $1.22 asked and $1.21 bid. Nine cars were received and 2 cars inspected.

Trade Gossip on 'Change.

Estimated receipts today: Wheat, 36 cars; corn, 160 cars; oats, 90 cars; hogs, 27,000.

Memberships are still on the down grade, one selling yesterday at $1,500 net to the buyer, the lowest price on the recent slump, and $650 under the top.

Parties reported yesterday as interested in an extensive movement of cash corn deny that any shipment of the size or character referred to is contemplated. Both Rosenbaum and Merritt say that so far as they are concerned the rumors are entirely without foundation.

Advices to Hulburd-Warren from correspondents at several points in Illinois indicate that considerable damage has been done by the fly, a number of fields which looked well several weeks ago having been plowed up within the last few days.

BERRIES PLENTIFUL AND LOWER.

There were about 35 cars of berries on the market yesterday, and as a consequence prices were easier. The bulk of arrivals came from Tennessee, Kentucky, and southern Illinois. Shipments from the extreme South fell off, and are not expected to be large from now on. Farm produce generally was slow. An easier undertone ran through eggs. Butter was unchanged. Potato buyers held off.

Round lots were quoted as follows:

Options were fairly active and generally firm all day on complaints of too much rain in the Southwest and not enough in spring wheat States. This was supplemented by higher English cables, a jump in corn, and a heavy decrease in world's stocks for the week. Closed firm at ½c advance. Coffee—Spot Rio irregular; No. 7 invoice, 7⅛c nominal. Mild quiet; Cordova, 9½@13¾c. Futures opened steady at unchanged prices. Ruled dull, with a weak undertone following the unsatisfactory cables, entire absence of speculative support, weakness in the spot department, larger receipts at Rio and Santos, smaller warehouse deliveries in this country, and the disposition to liquidate European accounts with prices about 2¼c above last year's low level, the world's visible supply about the same, and the new crop movement about to begin, causing weak local sentiment. Few local buying orders steadied the market at the close. Closed steady at not unchanged prices to 5 points advance. Total sales, 7,250 bags, including July at 6.45c, September at 6.60c; October at 6.65c, November at 6.70c, and December at 6.95c.

Sugar—Raw steady; refined steady.

The cotton market opened active but weak, declining 3@9 points on the first call, with subsequent business increasing the decline to 8@17 points under a tremendous selling movement. The weakness was due to private accounts reflecting a demoralized condition of affairs in the English market in response to the weakness here. Just prior to the close the market steadied on brisk profit taking, and was finally steady at a net decline of 6@11 points on present crop months and unchanged to 4 points higher on new crop deliveries. Spot closed quiet, 1-16c lower; middling uplands, 9⅝c; middling gulf, 10c; sales, 690 bales. Spelter was weak and lower under local selling pressure and unfavorable news from abroad, closing weak at $4.47½@4.52½. Pigiron and warrants, Northern No. 1 foundry, weak and unsettled. The brokers' price for lead was $3.80 and for copper $16.75.

Trading was not heavy, but the market was animated, with strong and favorable sentiment to the front. July closed at 65¼c and September at 65⅝c. Cash wheat sold readily. Offerings were not heavy, and No. 1 Northern was cleaned up well in an hour after the opening. The premium was about ⅜c over July, with a variation of about ¼c either way; No. 2 ranged from ¼c under to ½c under July; No. 3, 62½@64c.

International Zinc Co., Ltd.

Pays Regular Monthly Dividends of 1 Per Cent.

(For May, 1900, ½ Per Cent Extra Is Declared.)

This company's properties are among the richest in the Missouri-Kansas district, the metallic value of its ore running from 60 to 68 per cent zinc.

Agents are rapidly securing all the remaining available zinc lands, an English syndicate having recently purchased and leased extensive tracts of zinc lands, and are about to organize a company with a paid up capital of $17,000,000.

An investment in a good zinc company is not a speculation; the solid value is present in the mine and only needs the milling.

This is demonstrated by the results obtained from our new mill No. 5. This powerful modern mill, whose labor-saving devices retrench expenses of production about 10 per cent, has added largely to the company's weekly profits.

As indicating the high value of the International Zinc Company's properties, a 7-acre plot adjoining the Free Coinage Mines on the company's 110-acre tract, has just been leased for $25,000 and a royalty of 15 per cent of the gross output. This 7 acres lies on the same vein of ore as the company's Free Coinage mines. The fee was not for sale.

The company now has five mills in operation, and in consequence of the substantial increase in ore production, the directors have declared in addition to the regular monthly dividend of 1 per cent for May, an payable June 1st to all shareholders of record May 25th.

The Chartered Accountants have just finished auditing the books of the company, and their report, which is very satisfactory, will be mailed to all shareholders as soon as prepared.

The shares of the International Zinc Company offer prospects of greater security and larger profits than any other great dividend paying stock offered in its early stage of development.

$1.00 PER SHARE

(par) full-paid and non-assessable.

In view of the very satisfactory condition of the company, as shown in the report of the auditors, and the substantially increased value of the properties as developed, the Price Advances to $1.25 MAY 25th.

Subscriptions received on or before May 25th secure the extra dividend above noted.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

School Teachers' Pensions.

Chicago, May 15.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Will "The Tribune" kindly correct an error in today's editorial upon the school teachers' pension? All teachers retired upon pension before 1907 must pay 1 per cent upon salaries received at time of retirement—that is, 2 per cent of pension received. The grade teachers now retired upon pension of $400 a year are paying 1 per cent on $800.

Higher teachers, on pension of $500, are paying 1 per cent on $1,000.

A principal retired on an annual pension of $600 is paying 1 per cent of $2,500, and all these classes must continue to do so until 1907, twelve years from the passage of the pension bill, so we do not get pension after having paid only one or two years, as stated. A PENSIONER.

Wishes Closed Cars.

Chicago, May 15.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Apropos of the sudden fall of the temperature this afternoon I wish to call attention to the inconvenience, suffering, and possible serious or fatal sickness incident to the neglect of the street car authorities to follow suit with the weather in regard to the kind of open cars in unsuitable seasons. Could it not be arranged so that passengers who prefer a closed car can have the opportunity of taking one? This would especially seem to be a reasonable suggestion, since there are some who prefer a closed car in any weather, and there are always those to whom exposure in an open car is not safe even in fair weather. Wool Market Conditions.

BOSTON, Mass., April 16.—The American Wool and Cotton Reporter will say tomorrow: There is little more activity to be noted in the wool market, without, however, any improvement in prices as yet. The deadlock between the growers and the buyers continues in the territories, and the bids made at the public sales in Casper and Rawlins were generally rejected. In some instances, however, growers are more inclined to make concessions. The sales of the week in Boston amounted to 2,111,000 lbs domestic and [illegible] 000 lbs foreign.

BERRY LEADS FOR BISHOP

CHICAGO MAN GAINS ON SECOND BALLOT AND MAY WIN.

Third Vote Polled and Counted but Not Announced—Supporters of J. W. E. Bowen May Swing at Any Time, as He Is Losing—J. W. Hamilton Next to Highest — David H. Moore Makes Large Gain—Work of the Committees.

PROGRAM FOR TODAY.

8:30 a. m.—Devotional exercises conducted by Dr. T. C. Iliff of Utah.
9 a. m.—Business session, Bishop Charles C. McCabe presiding.
10 a. m.—Report of City Evangelization society.
11 a. m.—Result of third ballot for Bishop announced. Balloting resumed.
12:30 p. m.—Adjournment.
3 p. m.—Standing committees meet.
4 to 6 p. m.—Reception to Woman's Home Missionary society, Auditorium parlors.
8 p. m.—Anniversary of the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education society, Studebaker Theater.

Two ballots have been announced and a third has been counted but not announced in the election of Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Joseph F. Berry and John W. Hamilton were well in the lead on the second ballot and it looks as if they might be the two new Bishops. There are one or two other strong candidates, however, and in view of the history of past conferences the men nearest election are still uneasy. The fact that the vote for J. W. E. Bowen, the colored candidate, fell off on the second ballot is supposed to mean that it will not be long before his vote swings to one of the other candidates. Dr. Bowen has enough votes to elect Dr. Berry. The following are the results of the first two ballots:

	First.	Second.
Joseph F. Berry	213	212
John W. Hamilton	183	207
J. W. E. Bowen	211	196
D. H. Moore	130	168
William V. Kelly	77	93
Henry J. Spellmeyer	57	73
C. J. Little	40	39
T. B. Neely	58	42
J. W. Bashford	38	37
P. H. Swift	12	15
F. M. Bristol	19	15
A. J. Palmer	47	33

Thirty more candidates were voted for, but received only scattering votes on the second ballot. The number of votes necessary to a choice on the second ballot was 464.

There was trouble at the morning session over the police regulations put in effect to keep the floor clear of outsiders while the balloting was going on. The ministers had been accustomed to perfect freedom, and when a big policeman stopped them and made them produce tickets they felt insulted.

The Rev. William H. Shier of Detroit protested that the policemen were "half full of beer." It was then announced that the policeman in charge of the detail was a member of a Methodist church in good standing. Judge Horton became slightly indignant at the implied criticism of the Committee on Arrangements.

Work of Morning Session.

The Board of Bishops appointed a committee of fifteen to formulate plans for the twentieth century movement. J. W. Bashford is chairman. A committee of fifteen to report on the question of federation of the Methodist Church North and South was ordered.

The report of the Committee on Book Concern was taken up, and it was finally ordered that the New York Christian Advocate may continue publication provided a guarantee against loss is given and a contract that part of the profits will be paid to the Book Concern.

A variety of opinions was pressed by delegates with reference to the election of Bishops. Said one of the colored delegates: "We are disappointed that Dr. Bowen lost ground on the second ballot. Perhaps Dr. Mason would have been a stronger candidate. We favor Dr. Berry."

A member who leads his delegation from one of the Southern conferences said: "I look for a landslide to Dr. Moore before the sixth ballot."

"The laymen are not standing by their pastors," said an Eastern delegate. "They talk about officialism in the church, but they are doing all they can to promote it by voting for men in official positions rather than for pastors."

May Elect Two Missionary Bishops.

The Committee on Episcopacy has adopted a majority report recommending that two additional Missionary Bishops, having equal authority with those already in the field, be elected to assist Bishop Thoburn in southern Asia. The report will be presented today by Dr. T. B. Neely. Dr. J. M. Buckley, chairman of the committee, objects to giving them equal authority and gave notice that he would present a minority report.

A memorial authorizing Bishops to unite churches at annual conferences to preserve the property rights involved in any transfer was recommended for passage.

To Debate McKinley Issue.

The friends of President McKinley in the Temperance committee who made a losing fight against the adoption of paragraphs which criticise the President for his acceptance of the Griggs decision in the anti-canteen law will take the fight to the floor of the conference in the form of a minority report, to be presented by Dr. J. E. Price of the New York conference today. The majority report, including the attack on the President, was adopted after a long fight on several paragraphs which referred to the attitude of the church on the license question.

Among the recommendations made by the report is: "Ministers and members of our churches should not become nor remain members of social clubs which keep a bar or provide intoxicating liquors for the use of their members and others."

Work of Other Committees.

The Committee on the State of the Church debated the question of raising the ban on amusements for two and a half hours. It is expected that the final vote will be taken tomorrow, and that it will favor the removal of the prohibitory ban on some of the amusements now discountenanced.

Conference and district territorial changes were made by the Committee on Boundaries. At the request of Bishop Hartzell the Congo Mission Conference was divided into two bodies—the East Central Africa Mission Conference and the West Central Africa Mission Conference. The Northwest Iowa Conference was put back into the Eighth District from the Ninth, and Needles (Cal.) Conference was transferred from the Southern California Conference to the Arizona Mission Conference. The General Conference accepts the recommendations of the committee as final.

In the Committee on Temporal Economy a subcommittee on church insurance was appointed to report on the advisability of having a church insurance society.

The City Evangelization union held its anniversary at the Auditorium last night. Dr. J. E. James presided, and the addresses were by Bishop Warren, the Rev. F. M. North, Dr. J. M. Buckley, and Dr. S. P. Cadman.

SIDELIGHTS ON THE CONFERENCE.

BY THE REV. W. E. M'LENNAN, Pastor Trinity M. E. Church.

Two important sections of the proposed constitution were submitted to the conference yesterday. The first had reference to the minimum number required for organizing an annual conference. Under the present rule it requires two-thirds of the minimum number fixed for representation in the General Conference to organize. The missionaries want the minimum reduced to twenty, which is ten less than under the present rule. As it is, the law seems to work a hardship to those who are on the frontier in denying them representation in the General Conference in the early days of their work, when the number of ministers is small.

The other item which came up for consideration is section 3 of article X. of the new constitution. As it was proposed it reads:

> The General Conference shall not change nor alter any part or rule of our government, so as to do away episcopacy, nor destroy the plan of our itinerant general superintendency; but may elect a missionary Bishop or superintendent for any of our foreign missions, limiting his episcopal jurisdiction to the same respectively.

With the exception of the clause referring to missionary Bishops, the language of the section is the same as that which appears in the Discipline of 1808. It is the belief of Dr. Neely, who is second to none in his knowledge of Methodist jurisprudence and is one of the clearest and most forcible speakers in the body, that this section does not represent the action taken by the General Conference of 1808, but that the editor of the Discipline of that date made verbal changes in important particulars. Dr. Neely does not like the English of the clause, "do away episcopacy," nor the word "plan" in that which refers to the general superintendency. He believes that word "stands in the way of an easy adjustment of our work."

The applause which greeted this statement showed that the speaker had touched a popular chord. After Dr. Buckley had added a word of advice the whole matter was recommitted. It doubtless will appear in a form agreeable to the suggestions made during the debate.

A prolonged though spirited discussion took place over the future management of the Northern Christian Advocate, one of the official papers, published at Syracuse, N. Y. In spite of the efforts of the publishers and its able editor, Dr. J. E. C. Sawyer, the past quadrennium shows a loss of something over $15,000. The report of the Committee on Book Concern recommended that its management for the next year be put into the hands of a committee appointed by the four nearest annual conferences and that such committee guarantee the church against loss. The refusal of the conference to make the terms easier than the committee reported is pretty good evidence that the business training of the lay delegates is beginning to assert itself in favor of economy as against old methods and sentimental considerations.

"It is a wonder," said one delegate, "that we have a book concern at all."

It may safely be predicted that four years hence the church will not be confronted with an aggregate loss on its periodicals of over $100,000, which is the discouraging showing of the last four years.

The farewell words of the Irish and English visitors, Drs. Robertson and Allen, revealed the strong bond which unites the Methodism of this country with that of England. These men are more dignified, more clerical in their appearance than the average Methodist minister of America, but the warmth which is inseparable from Methodism is felt as soon as they begin to speak. They spoke in admirable taste, and Bishop Goodsell, who presided to every one's satisfaction, responded in language both classical and sympathetic.

Cease Examinations for the Navy.

The examinations for apprentices for the navy will cease today, after which time no applications will be received until May 22. The recruits, forty in number, will leave tomorrow for Newport, where they will be placed on a training ship.

TRIUMPH FOR LIBERALS.

UNITARIAN SECRETARY PREDICTS FALL OF ORTHODOXY.

Rev. G. W. Stone, in Address to Delegates at Western Conference, Says Education Has Destroyed Old Dogmas—Urges Forming a Strong Union to Spread the Teaching—Rev. Minot Simons Talks on "The Real Needs of Modern Society."

In an address to the delegates of the Western Unitarian Conference in their first session at Unity Church, Dearborn avenue and Walton place, the Rev. George W. Stone, field secretary of the conference in Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, and Colorado, foretold the fall of orthodox denominations of the Christian church and the triumph of the liberal church.

He said: "The discoveries of science and the growth of the masses in intelligence and education have destroyed the foundation and taken away the adherents of the old creeds and dogmas. For instance, we see the rules of conduct which have for years been a foundation principle of one of the greatest orthodox denominations disregarded and their repeal contemplated."

Dr. Stone pointed out the great opportunity offered to the Unitarians, and entreated the delegates to form a strong union and undertake the work of spreading their teaching with energy and enthusiasm.

Tendency Toward Liberal Faith.

The first session of the conference began at 10 o'clock, and was presided over by President Lawrence Conover of Hinsdale. Mr. Conover in his address followed the line of thought inaugurated by Dr. Judy at the Ministers' Institute on Tuesday. He pointed out the tendency of the age toward the liberal faith of the Unitarian Church, and predicted a surprising growth if the societies would take up the work with enthusiasm.

The Rev. Fred V. Hawley of Jackson, Mich., spoke on "The Constituency of a Liberal Church." He said, in part: "The fellowship of the Unitarian Church is probably larger today than ever before in its history, because on all sides there is a growing friendliness and fidelity to great and real things that affect human life, a proportionate indifference to uniforms and minor details. The ministry in all denominations seems to be losing its dogma and finding its gospel."

In the afternoon the anniversary meeting of the Western Unitarian Sunday School society was held. The meeting was devoted to the reports of the officers and the discussion of Sunday school work. A paper on "The Religious Instruction of Youth from an Intellectual Standpoint," written by the Rev. George R. Gebauer, was read. Dr. Gebauer showed the importance of the Jewish and Christian religious literature from an educational view. He agreed that in spite of this importance at present it was impossible for these subjects to be taught in public school.

Rev. A. W. Gould Re-elected President.

The election of officers for the coming year resulted in the reëlection of the Rev. A. W. Gould President, the Rev. J. R. Effinger Vice President, and Albert Scheible Secretary and Treasurer.

At 8 o'clock in the evening the delegates to the conference and members of the church assembled in Unity Church for a platform meeting. "The Church and Modern Society" was discussed by the Rev. Minot Simons of Cleveland, the Rev. Leslie Sprague of Grand Rapids, and the Rev. J. N. Crooker of Ann Arbor, Mich.

The Rev. Minot Simons spoke on "The Real Needs of Modern Society." He said: "The one thing needful is the truth. In our social life everywhere there is a crying need that the privileged people shall desire the truth as to their opportunities and responsibilities, and be zealous to fulfill them and not be content with the world as it is.

The Rev. Leslie Sprague told of "A Religion for These Needs." He said: "The religion which the age needs is not primarily a system of theology, nor rules and regulations of conduct enforced by church discipline. Back of theology as its inspiration and behind moral rules as their vitality is the human heart with its problems, hopes, and dreams. Religion is a sacred consciousness that life is precious and significant."

Oak Park Ready to Entertain.

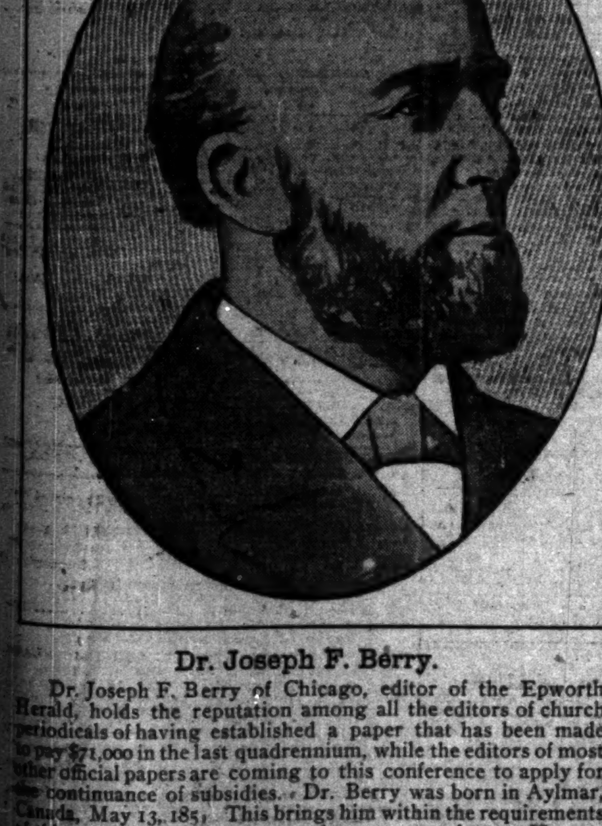

Oak Park is in readiness to entertain the 600 delegates to the fifty-seventh annual meeting of the Illinois General Congregational association, which will assemble in the Second Congregational Church of the suburb next Monday evening, as the guest of the Chicago Congregational club at a dinner given in honor of the visiting clergy and laity.

FIVE MORE A. M. E. BISHOPS.

Columbus, O., May 16.—The report of the committee on Episcopacy at today's session of the American Methodist Episcopal General Conference provided for the election of five additional Bishops, set May 17 for the election, and struck out the rule in the discipline prohibiting ministers from wearing robes. The report was adopted.

TWO METHODISTS AHEAD IN THE CONFERENCE ELECTION FOR BISHOPS.

Dr. Joseph F. Berry.

Dr. Joseph F. Berry of Chicago, editor of the Epworth Herald, holds the reputation among all the editors of church periodicals of having established a paper that has been made to pay $71,000 in the last quadrennium, while the editors of most other official papers are coming to this conference to apply for the continuance of subsidies. Dr. Berry was born in Aylmar, Canada, May 13, 185?. This brings him within the requirements of this conference for a man under 45 years of age. He was received into the Detroit Conference in 1875, and, after serving twelve years in the pastorate, was elected assistant editor of the Michigan Christian Advocate, of which J. H. Potts is editor. After serving there four years, the Book committee elected him editor of the Epworth Herald, the first number of which was issued May 1, 1890. He has been a delegate to three successive General Conferences. He was appointed fraternal delegate to the conference of the Methodist Church South two years ago.

The Rev. John W. Hamilton.

The Rev. John W. Hamilton, Secretary of the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education society, was born in Weston, Va., on March 3, 1845. He graduated from Mount Union College in 1865 and from Boston University in 1871. He commenced to preach in 1866 in the Pittsburg Conference. In 1868 he was transferred to the New England Conference and appointed to Malden, Mass. His most conspicuous work in New England was the pastorate of the People's Church in Boston, of which he was founder and which he served for nine years. The General Conference of 1892 elected him to his present office. He has published the following books: "Jessie Lee and the Old Elm," "Fraternal Greetings to the Churches in Ireland and England," and "Lives of the Methodist Bishops." He was sent as a delegate to the British Conference two years ago. He has been a member of the last five General Conferences, has been a conspicuous debater on the woman question, and was the colleague of A. B. Leonard in defending the cause of the woman delegate in 1888. He lives in New York.

AGREE ON A TEST CASE.

UNION TRACTION COMPANY TO CLEAN STREETS IF LAW HOLDS.

Proposes to Pay City for Work It Has Done in Clearing Space Between Tracks, Estimated at $250,000, if Ordinance Is Ruled to Be Valid—Officials Already Wrangling Over Money They May Not Get—Milwaukee Road May Get Trolley Permit.

Corporation Counsel Walker and General Counsel Gurley for the Union Traction company came to an agreement yesterday whereby a test suit will be tried to determine the liability of the traction company in the matter of keeping the streets clean between its tracks and removing snow, dirt, and other obstructions. Under the agreement the company says that if it is held to be liable for such work it will pay to the city the estimated cost of the work of this kind the municipality has done during the last two years.

As an instance of counting chickens before they are hatched, it may be stated that Controller Kerfoot and Superintendent of Streets Doherty already are disputing as to what shall be done with this money, which it is not sure the city ever will get. On April 9, 1899, the City Council passed an ordinance seeking to compel all street car companies to clean between their tracks and to remove snow and other obstructions of a similar nature. This ordinance never has been obeyed by the street car companies, and some time ago suits were brought seeking to collect from the Union Traction company the $50 fines provided for in the ordinance for each violation.

Dismiss All but Test Suit.

By the agreement of yesterday all these suits are dismissed except one, the company paying the costs, and for the purpose of getting a speedy decision in this test case the company signed a statement confessing that it had violated the ordinance and acknowledging all the statements of fact alleged by the city. It will make its defense solely on the plea the ordinance is invalid, as being an abrogation of contract, having been passed after the franchise ordinance of the company was voted.

The company also agrees, if the ordinance is held to be valid, not only to do the work required in the future but to pay the city a sum estimated to be what the city has paid out for street cleaning work which ought to have been done by the company.

It is this money, which will amount to something like $250,000, if the courts hold in favor of the city, which Controller Kerfoot and Superintendent Doherty are quarreling about. Doherty claims it should go to the street cleaning fund and Kerfoot declares it must be placed in the general fund.

Milwaukee Road May Get Trolley.

The ordinance granting the Milwaukee road the right to change its motive power from steam to electricity was brought up in the meeting of the Committee on Railroads. Representatives of the road explained that the purpose was to put a trolley line on the Evanston branch to connect with the northern terminus of the Northwestern "L," but that it would not run farther north than Evanston and would not mean the abandonment of any track elevation. The ordinance was referred to a subcommittee consisting of Aldermen Williston, Rector, Russell, Dixon, and Johnson, which will meet as soon as the road has collected a number of petitions asking for the change, which are now being circulated.

The petition asking for the running of "owl" trains on the Lake Street "L" as often as every half hour, instead of at intervals of an hour as now, was referred to the Corporation Counsel for an opinion as to the City Council's power in the matter.

Milk Preservative Kills Cats.

Milk Inspector Grady has made public the results of experiments with formalin, a chemical used to prevent milk from spoiling, and he declares it is extremely injurious, if not an absolute poison. "It will kill a cat," said Grady, "and consequently cannot be a healthy food for children."

His experiments took the form of selecting two healthy kittens and feeding one on pure milk and the other on milk in which formalin had been placed. In every instance the kitten fed on pure milk flourished and the one taking formalin in its food died.

Other Municipal News.

The Polk street viaduct was ordered closed, an examination by the City Engineer showing that its floor stringers had been so weakened by rust that it would be dangerous to use it further without repairs. The city wants the Chicago Terminal Transfer company to repair the viaduct, but so far it has refused. Commissioner McGann has declared he will not do it and the bridge is apt to remain useless for a considerable time.

Superintendent of Public Service Healy has discovered that by changing the manner of describing the property the tax lists can be printed on just half the number of pages the original method required. The result will be a saving of $20,000 in printing bills.

CURRENT NEWS OF RAILWAYS.

Agreement Prohibiting Payment of Commissions Is Similar to That of 1866.

The first agreement prohibiting the payment of commissions for the sale of tickets was adopted by the railroads running east from Chicago on July 15, 1866. A copy of that ancient agreement has just been unearthed by Assistant General Passenger Agent F. W. Buskirk of the Erie in this city, and it shows that in that early period of railroading conditions prevailed in the passenger service almost precisely the same as at present.

The wording of the agreement adopted by the Presidents a few weeks ago not to pay commissions to ticket agents and others differs little from that adopted in July, 1866, and the conditions responsible for its adoptions are identically the same.

Rumor Regarding Burlington.

Rumors have been lately put in circulation that the Pennsylvania railroad company is trying to obtain control of the Burlington railroad system. It is said that a definite proposition will be made to the directors of the Burlington at their meeting in Boston next week. Burlington officials here say they are in absolute ignorance of the source of these rumors, and assert that, as far as they know, they are absolutely groundless.

It is probable, however, that, in view of the close relations now existing between the Baltimore and Ohio and the Chicago and Alton and Missouri Pacific, and between the Vanderbilt lines east of Chicago and the Chicago and Northwestern, a close traffic alliance between the Pennsylvania and Burlington systems may be formed.

Bill to Punish Blacklisting.

Railroad officials here are much interested in a bill introduced to prevent and punish blacklisting by railroad, sleeping car, express, steamboat, telegraph, and telephone companies engaged in interstate commerce; also to provide a civil remedy in damages for blacklisting.

Corporations are directed to keep a record of employés, and every employé is entitled to see this record. The bill prohibits blacklisting for participation in a strike or labor trouble. Officers and employés of a corporation convicted of blacklisting any person are to be punished by imprisonment for not less than two nor more than ten years.

While the railroads here deny they keep any black lists, they propose to fight the new bill by all the means in their power.

Transportation Notes.

The Illinois Central will inaugurate its fruit train service next week. The first crop in the South is heavy, and two or three trains a day will be required to handle the business.

It has been decided by the Burlington railroad management not to accept commutation tickets between Chicago and Aurora on the through trains leaving here at 6:50 p. m. and 6:10 p. m.

Wisconsin Central earnings for the second week in May were $108,867, against $104,250 for the corresponding week last year, an increase of $4,617. Since July 1 the gross earnings of this road have increased $481,136.

WANTS HIS PRESENT BACK.

Detective Causes Arrest of Former Sweetheart to Get a Diamond Ring —She Is Released.

Fannie Lambert was arraigned in the Harrison Street police court on complaint of George Caganici, who charged her with the larceny of a diamond ring. Caganici said he gave the ring to her on condition that she become his wife, but that she broke the agreement. She offered in evidence love letters in which she said Caganici, who is a Metropolitan elevated detective, declared she could have the ring forever. Justice Prindiville dismissed the case.

INSURANCE AFFAIRS.

Reports of fire losses throughout the United States for the first half of May are excessive and larger than the same period last year.

"The only remedy is the raising of rates in every section of the country," said Vice President R. W. Hosmer of the Chicago Underwriters' association yesterday. "The sooner the matter is taken in hand by the companies the better. Under the advanced rates in Chicago this city may be said to be on a fairly paying basis. A continuation of law rates in Illinois and other States, however, is bound to offset any single betterment if the heavy fire losses continue. It is not fair that Chicago should be made to pay for losses elsewhere."

Frank P. Cass of St. Louis is in Chicago on a visit to his brother, E. B. Cass.

President S. C. Irvin of the National Board of Fire Underwriters at the recent annual meeting went into much detail regarding the excessive fire losses throughout the country. He said: "If we may judge from such records as are accessible, property in the United States is burning in greater proportion to values than in any other country. This is more startling when the destruction goes on in a year like 1899. For ten years the average profits from underwriting has been only 30-100 of 1 per cent of the premium."

Assistant Secretary Joseph McCord of the Hanover Fire is here from New York inspecting the Western department of the company. A meeting of the directors will be held in New York today, and it is expected that a retrenchment in operating expenses of the Chicago office will be ordered.

Robert F. Madbury of Detroit has been appointed Michigan State agent for the Home Mutual and Firemen's Fund, vice George C. Cooper of Lansing, resigned.

The Ætna Life is about to issue its new form of accident policy. Double benefits are to be paid to people meeting with an accident in passenger conveyances, elevators, burning buildings, and on bicycles when not "scorching." In case of injury where it is agreed that the weekly indemnity is to be for less than two months payment will be made at once.

State Insurance Superintendent Church of Kansas is investigating into the financial condition of a number of hail insurance companies whose solvency has been questioned.

New York, May 16.—[Special.]—When on the first prox. John Marshall Jr. goes to Chicago to assume the joint management of the central department of the Fireman's Fund he will carry with him as a substantial token of the esteem in which he is held by the manager, field, and head office employés of the Royal Exchange a handsome silver loving cup. The token was presented to Mr. Marshall last evening at a complimentary dinner tendered him by Manager Dickson.

Mr. E. C. Hazard, one of the oldest and best-known wholesale grocers in New York, has for many years given his attention to the preparation of fine food delicacies. He has a farm and experiment station down on Staten Island, where the famous Shrewsbury Ketchup, Burnt Onion Sauce, Shrewsbury Mushrooms and other delicacies are prepared in a most skillful manner.

One evening last summer while on his way home Mr. H. sat with one of the officials of the N. J. C. railroad, who seemed to be living with one foot in the grave,—stomach so badly disordered that nothing would digest. It seemed only a question of a few weeks, at most, when death would come.

"Mr. Hazard insisted upon taking the gentleman to his house and giving him a package of Grape-Nuts breakfast food which is manufactured by the Postum Cereal Co., at the pure food factories at Battle Creek, Mich., a food which Mr. Hazard had been using at his own table for a long time, greatly to his benefit.

"He told the gentleman that he could get well in a few weeks by the use of perfectly prepared food of this sort, and would never forget the day when he first tried Grape-Nuts. The prediction came true; the official is not only alive today, but is in better health than he has experienced for many years, all of which he attributes to the use of Grape-Nuts and from the advice of Mr. Hazard."

There are two reasons for this; in the first place, Grape-Nuts are made from certain selected portions of wheat and barley that contain phosphate of potash and albumen which nature uses in the human system to make up the gray matter in the brain and nerve centers throughout the body.

The nervous system directly controls the digestive machinery and the brain controls the working and money making power. Mr. Hazard knows this, from his knowledge of foods and from his own experience with Grape-Nuts. Therefore when he took the railway official in charge, he knew exactly what he was doing, and the result proved the correctness of his knowledge.

After Sickness

the strength you are so much in need of will rapidly come, if you use Johann Hoff's Malt Extract.

It is a real nourishment for the body and nerves; it makes digestion perfect, and thereby helps you to secure the full value of your food.

Dr. H. B. Baterbaugh, Indiana, Pa., writes: "Have used

JOHANN HOFF'S

with very satisfactory results. I have one patient who began to use it about six weeks ago. His weight then was 95 lbs. He now weighs 149 lbs. and is strong and healthy."

Beware of cheap substitutes put up in bottles similar to Johann Hoff's. Get Johann Hoff's and you will not be disappointed.
